COUNCILMEN-ELECT — Fairfax Town Clerk Eileen Foster (left) swears in councilmen Frank J. Egger (new mayor), Priscilla C. Gray and Randall Garrison, a scene repeated in cities throughout the county last night as city councilmen elected last week were seated and councils chose new officers. In Fairfax, unlike most other cities, the ceremony was followed by weighty business, as councilmen suspended Town Administrator Robert E. Crowe and appointed a successor to Mayor E. Ross Parkerson, who resigned.

Nine Mayors Chosen In Marin, S. Sonoma

Three Cities Hold Off Until Problems Solved

A "changing of the guard" took place last night in cities throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma as newly elected city councilmen were sworn into office and new mayors chosen.

Mayors were chosen in nine cities, an action deferred until resolution of special situations in three — Sausalito, where seating of one new councilman waits on a court decision as to whether he is involved in a conflict of interest; Belvedere, where a councilman appointed last night is required by law to wait 10 days before being seated, and Cotati where the term of incumbent Mayor Geoffrey Dunham does not expire till April 18. New councilmen Harry E. Fassio and Allen C. Stansbury were seated in Cotati.

In all but four cities, the swearing in of councilmen and picking a mayor was the only order of business.

The four exceptions were: Belvedere (See story page 32); Fairfax, where Frank J. Egger was picked for mayor (See story page 40); Novato, where David Price Jones was picked (See story page 8), and San Anselmo, whre Martin G. Blinder was picked (See story page 22).

No change took place in San Rafael or Petaluma City halls as those cities held no election this year.

Changes elsewhere were:

CORTE MADERA — Robert J. Flahive was elected mayor, succeeding Herber C. Leney. Jana G. Haehl was elected vice mayor by a unanimous vote.

Flahive, elected to the council in 1972, was named mayor on a 4-1 vote with Leney opposed. Leney had served as mayor since three councilmen were recalled in September. He gave no reason for his opposition to Flahive.

The council seated new member Larry P. Weingarth and councilmen Haehl and Joel A. Shawn, both first elected in December and reelected last week.

Flahive is a native of Stoneham, Mass., and attended Suffolk and Purdue universities.

Flahive, a resident of Corte Madera for five years, is a publisher's representative. He lives at 18 Endeavor Drive with his wife, Diane, and their two sons.

LARKSPUR — Joan L. Sestak was elected mayor last night and becomes the first woman to serve as mayor in the 66-year history of the city.

Robert H. Lee was elected vice mayor. Sestak and Lee were unopposed for their respective positions and were elected by unanimous votes.

New member Charles H. Curley and reelected councilman Alfred J. Malvino were seated last night. Malvino, who is the retiring mayor, received a gavel from fellow councilmen and city staff.

The council and staff also presented a gift to former councilman Neil H. Brixon who did not seek reelection.

Mrs. Sestak, who lives at 359 Wilson Way with her husband, Arthur, and their two children, is a homemaker. She has lived in Larkspur 10 years.

The 43-year-old councilman was the only one nominated for the post. His election followed a ceremony in which Jean S. Barnard was sworn in to a second term on the council and Ivan S. Poutiatine took the oath

By ERIK M. INGRAM

The new Marin County Department of Corrections and its minimum security honor farm should be placed under the county probation department, it was recommended yesterday.

The recommendation, in a report by the county administrator's office, was based on concern that the separate department of corrections has tended to fragment prisoner rehabilitation.

"When the board of supervisors resolved to create a separate department, it was defined as a unit which would ultimately provide a comprehensive array of rehabilitation services for incarcerated offenders," the report said.

It was to coordinate existing rehabilitation services, promote new ones and make maximum use of private services.

However, "the creation of the department as it stands today did not bring those activities under the sponsorship of one administrative unit," it continued, "but rather created a new department from a fragment of an already existing one (probation)."

The report was prepared by administrative analyst James J. Finane and will be considered by county supervisors on March 26. It was promised some months ago by County Administrator John F. Barrows when county judges spoke out against a separate department.

"The most salient feature" about the county's system of

Junetta B. Younglove In County Clerk Race

Junetta B. Younglove, deputy jury commissioner and secretary for Marin County Superior Court, today announced her candidacy for county clerk.

Deadline to file for the position being vacated by George H. Gnoss is 5 p.m. today.

The last-minute entry by Mrs. Younglove virtually assures a runoff next November between the two top vote getters in the crowded June 4 primary election. Previously announced candidates for the job are county elections officer Peter C. Meyer, Howard Hanson, administrator for the superior court; assistant county clerk John F. Musser Jr., Corte Madera town treasurer Frank Bigley and Nadean E. Chapman, clerk to a superior court judge.

Mrs. Younglove, 54, said she is running because the post is "a challenge that I think I am somewhat qualified for. I am familiar with certain facets of the county clerk's office, having worked there," she added.

She was appointed by the superior court judges to her present position four years ago, and previously served for three years in the probate department.

A native of Iowa, she did personnel work for many years in the Midwest, and during World War II was secretary to the chief of civilian personnel at Fort Mason in San Francisco. "That's when I fell in love with California," she said.

She and her husband, Bernard, moved to Marin seven years ago after he retired as a railroad freight agent. They live at 320 Channing Way, San Rafael. Their daughter, Sandra Younglove, also of San Rafael, is a kindergarden teacher.

Crowe Is Placed On Suspension

By NELS JOHNSON

Fairfax City Administrator Robert E. Crowe, facing a felony charge of assault with a deadly weapon for his part in a post-election brawl last week, was suspended "until further notice" by the town council last night. (Other Fairfax Town Council stories, page 40.)

The council, after a brief discussion, suspended Crowe without compensation aside from any vacation or sick leave the 37-year-old administrator might have accrued.

Crowe was not present at last night's meeting, but his plight was the focus of attention as more than 150 residents packed the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council said Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton will be acting administrator, a post the chief routinely assumes when Crowe is away on business. The 58-year-old chief, a city employee for more than 20 years, pledged to take no action "unless it is a necessity and an existing budgeted item."

The council said it was suspending Crowe because of the felony assault charge filed against him yesterday by Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales. The charge stems from a post-election brawl in which Crowe armed himself with an axe and grappled with another man who wielded a beer bottle.

The council suspended Crowe after learning from City Atty. Wallace S. Myers that the administrator could not be fired outright until 90 days after the municipal election, under town code.

The council said it will meet in closed session with Crowe to resolve the administrator's status within two weeks. "It's got to be resolved one way or the other as soon as possible," said freshman councilman Randall Garrison.

"He always has the option to resign," noted councilman Priscilla C. Gray.

Crowe was absent from the meeting last night, but the council read a memo in which the administrator explained he was under doctor's orders not to attend. "As a result of injuries received as city administrator." An accompanying doctor's note said Crowe was recovering from a head wound and has experienced neck and shoulder pain, headaches and dizziness.

Mitchell Witness Attacked

NEW YORK (UPI) — The government today launched a blistering attack on the credibility of its own key witness, Harry L. Sears, in the Mitchell-Stans trial but Sears denied that financier Robert L. Vesco ever had him "in a box or in his pocket."

Under questioning by assistant U.S. Attorney John R. Wing on redirect examination, the tall, bald New Jersey politician who had been Vesco's corporate attorney and board member, admitted he had lied to Vesco and to the grand jury that indicted his friend John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

The two former powerful figures in the Nixon administration, Mitchell was attorney general and Stans secretary of commerce, are charged in federal court with trying to impede a massive federal investigation of Vesco in exchange for his secret $200,000 cash contribution to the 1972 Nixon campaign—and lying to the grand jury about it.

It was the seventh day in the witness chair for Sears. He had previously testified that Vesco had contributed to his 1969 gubernatorial campaign fund, had

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Striking San Francisco municipal employees tightened their paralyzing grip on the city today by blocking transit buses bringing commuters across the Bay Bridge.

Only a few trans-bay drivers for the AC Transit Company took their buses out of the Oakland yard when they were instructed by their union not to make the San Francisco run.

Thousands of commuters who live in Oakland and other cities east of San Francisco Bay were prevented or delayed getting to work.

All public transit in San Francisco has been tied up for six days by the city workers' strike. The new BART subway used by commuters from the Peninsula was halted earlier this week.

Early today Mayor Joseph Alioto announced that a night-long bargaining session with the unions brought no settlement. He said progress was made on some issues but not on the basic issue of pay. Another meeting was set for late today.

A judge ordered the strikers back to work yesterday under penalty of arrest, but the unions defied it and Alioto said police

Twelve-year-old Atha Mathieu of San Anselmo last night became probably the youngest person in Marin history to be appointed to official office as she won a seat on her city's park and recreation commission by a 3-to-2 vote. (Other San Anselmo City Council stories, page 22.)

"I can do it," the youngster said firmly after her appointment.

Doubts had been expressed that a child her age could "stay up until 1 a.m. discussing budget items."

Atha explained that the sleepy look on her face last night was because "I have a cold." She sat quietly in the audience at the San Anselmo City Council meeting until her appointment was made at about 10 p.m.

Supporting the seventh grader from Red Hill School were Dr. Martin G. Blinder, the newly elected mayor, and Councilmen Pieter Toal and Kenneth L. Anderson. Councilmen Woodrow V. Capurro and John H. Colteaux voted for Mrs. Cowan.

PARIS (UPI) — The directors of the ocean liner France today proposed an austerity program they say will help shrink an estimated $26 million operating deficit for 1974. The program includes drastic cuts in caviar and wine servings.

The savings should total $6 million and include a 10 per cent cutback in food expenditures, the Transat company said.

This means that caviar servings will be cut in half and that passengers will no longer be allowed unlimited wine consumption with meals.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Vengeance is mine, sayeth the Lord," Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, said softly in an almost empty Senate chamber.

Hughes

With those words, Hughes, retiring from the Senate to devote his time to religion, ended his plea yesterday against a bill which would restore the death penalty.

"There is no middle ground, no neutral zone," Hughes reminded his colleagues. "The choice is either life or death."

Hughes was joined by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who said his assassinated brother, Robert, "would not have wanted his death to be the cause for taking another life."

Attack Charge

SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese military command accused Hanoi today of escalating Indochina fighting with the first Communist artillery attacks in the Saigon area.

The command said North Vietnamese troops used 85-mm artillery guns to shell a sprawling government army base at Lai Khe, 30 miles north of Saigon, and Phuoc Long province capital, 76 miles north of the city.

End Summit

CAPE PITSUNDA, USSR (UPI) — French President Georges Pompidou and Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Communist Party, wrapped up their summit meeting today with three-and-one-half hours of talks and a seaside lunch.

Tass news agency said they discussed the present status of the European security conference, the Middle East situation and bilateral relations. French sources said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, there with his French counterpart Michel Jobert, gave a briefing on his recent trip to Damascus.

Oil Crisis Talks

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The major non-Communist industrial nations met without France today to decide how to share out the tasks necessary to cope with the oil crisis.

The two-day meeting brought together the 12 members — the United States, Japan, Canada, Norway and eight of the nine European Common Market nations — of the "Coordinating Group" formed at the Washington Oil Conference Feb. 11-13.

The group was set up to organize cooperation among the major industrial nations.

Rates Removal

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson said yesterday he thinks President Nixon has a 50-50 chance of being impeached.

"Once I doubted the chances for impeachment, but now I would rate the odds 50-50," said the former cabinet officer who resigned after refusing to fire former Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox.

Richardson said the mood for impeachment was increasing because of Nixon's lack of cooperation with Watergate investigators.

Violence Erupts

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Violence erupted today in the southern West Virginia coal fields where thousands of miners are under federal court order to end their strike that caused layoffs in the steel industry.

Three persons were wounded at Welch last night while picketing outside a coal mine. State Police said two men and a woman were wounded by gun fire from a passing automobile.

State police said they were among a group of persons picketing as part of the gasoline protest strike by miners

A Year's Tenure

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson has served notice that he expects to stay in office at least a year at the head of his minority Labor Party administration, government sources said today.

Wilson warned yesterday that nothing short of defeat on a major confidence issue will force him to quit during that time.

Government officials said the program outlined in the speech read by Queen Elizabeth to the opening session of Parliament would take about one year to push through all its legislative stages.

Marines Beat Hippie Couple

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands (UPI) — A young man and woman described as members of a hippie commune were severely beaten by two U.S. Marines who invaded their home, police said.

Officers said the women, Perry Tinkhen, 25, suffered a fractured skull and had her right ear lobe cut off. The young man, identified as Frank Indell, 23, suffered so many cuts and blows on the head and body that it took doctors six hours to patch him up.

Police said they apprehended a 17-year-old Marine from a U.S. Navy ship docked in Charlotte Amalie and were seeking a warrant to go aboard the ship and apprehend another Marine.

Prison Change Forced By Gangs

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A wave of violence triggered by an alliance of two prison gangs has led to the reorganization of a behavior evaluation program at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville, state Department of Correction officials said yesterday.

The two gangs, the Aryan Brotherhood and Mexican Mafia, joined forces last year in an attempt to dominate the prison's Lister Unit program, officials said.

Gang members throughout the state prison system volunteered to come to Lister Unit and used threats to intimidate other inmates and prevent them from volunteering, a spokesman said. The gangs also were responsible for a series of stabbings last year at the unit to force non-members out.

The Lister Unit, also called the Maximum Psychiatric Diagnostic Unit, was formed two years ago to solve the "behavior and personality problems" of inmates who had been in solitary confinement.

Vacaville Superintendent Dr. T. L. Clanon said prisoners who finished the six to eight month program successfully were released into the "mainline" prison program.

"The new concept is to provide psychiatric services and diagnostic studies to inmates in segregation, to find and treat mental illness, but not necessarily to progress them back into the general prison populations," Clanon said.

The old approach failed, he said, because admission to the unit was too voluntary.

"A white racist gang called the Aryan Brotherhood, in some sort of alliance with another inmate gang called the Mexican Mafia, apparently decided to take over the unit six to nine months ago," he said.

Because of the attempted gang domination, many prisoners were washed out of the program and returned to isolation.

Rohr Denies Blame Over BART Cars

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An officer of the company building rail cars of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District says a shortage of cars in the partially completed system is not the fault of his firm.

Leon A. Kranz, a program manager for Rohr Industries, told the Senate Public Utilities and Corporations Committee yesterday that the cars perform better than specified in the contract with BART.

The testimony following a decision by BART directors Monday to retain a private law firm to prepare a suit against Rohr. No specific allegations were announced, but BART repeatedly has complained of the performance of Rohr-built cars, saying they too often are sidelined for repairs.

"I can state that Rohr is not the major cause of a shortage of cars for revenue service—much less the sole cause," Kranz said. He added that the performance is "more reliable than the contract requires."

Family Beats Birthday Odds

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — It is a simple matter for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buchanan to celebrate the birthdays of their three older daughters—they all were born on March 12 in different years.

Daughter Jean was born in 1932; Joyce in 1934, and Mary in 1939.

Mathematicians at Portland State University said yesterday that the possibility of having three born on the same day in different years is 133,225 to 1.

Outbreak Of Major Fighting Feared Between Israel, Syria

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Israeli and Syrian artillery battled along the muddy Golan Heights for nearly three hours today in the second consecutive day of fighting there. Israeli newspapers warned of the possibility of major fighting despite U.S. peace efforts and said the Iraqi army may join in.

Damascus said Syrian artillery fire killed a number of Israeli soldiers and destroyed military equipment. Israel said it suffered no casualties in the fighting that sent settlers scrambling for their underground shelters. A Tel Aviv spokesman said Syrian artillery struck six sectors of the front.

The Syrians fired more shells and at greater intensity than in previous bombardments but the pattern of the barrage did not indicate any attempt at softening Israeli positions in preparation for a ground assault, the Israeli national radio correspondent reported from the scene.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Yedioth Ahronoth warned that the confrontation may grow bigger. It said Iraq may send troops to Syria soon because of Baghdad's insistence that Syria renew the war against Israel. The Iraqis fought alongside the Syrians in the October war.

"The Iraqi military forces are liable to return to Syria in the nearest possible future," Yedioth said without sourcing. "This may increase tension on the Israeli border in the north as the Iraqis are very much against a separation of forces and are demanding that Damascus continue the war against Israel."

The Israeli newspaper Ma'ariv, in a dispatch from Washington, said disenagagement of Israeli and Syrian forces on the heights may not solve the danger of war despite efforts by U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to defuse tension there.

The newspaper Ha'aretz said Kissinger plans to push for disengagement while in the Soviet Union later this month and take with him to Moscow a U.S. proposal that includes a partial Israeli withdrawal from the part of the heights captured in 1967.

Soviet Poem Slaps Solzhenitsyn

The latest attack on the 1970 Nobel laureate was published by the Communist Party's weekly humor magazine, Krokodil.

The attack came in the form of a short poem. Although the work was entitled "Madame Solzh," it was intended to insult the author and not his wife, a Krokodil official stated.

The charge against Solzhenitsyn had at first been interpreted by some readers in Moscow as an attack on his 33-year-old wife, who was left behind when he was expelled from the country.

Mrs. Solzhenitsyn, her four children and mother have been told they can also leave the country and hope to join the author soon.

Krokodil's poem read:

"An advertisement for a public house screams out,
Where on the furthest reaches
Of lewdness, spite and degeneration
Madame Solzh is fornicating with might and main.
Hating Russia fiercely,
Abusing her people,
Madame is selling the motherland
For foreign currency:
There are no glorious deeds,
There is no heroism.
There are only victims of Bolshevism
And archipelagoes of camps.
And enjoying her currency,
Madame always tells her guests:
"I am, gentlemen, not a prostitute.
I am a dissident, gentlemen."

Solzhenitsyn was arrested one month ago and banished to the West following a villification campaign in press and broadcast in response to the publication of his book "Gulag Archipelago" in France. The work is a detailed account of Soviet police terror and labor camps from 1918, one year after the Bolshevik Revolution, to 1956.

Krokodil is published by Pravda, the nation's leading Communist Party daily, and is best known for its mild satirical and humorous criticisms.

No Change In Racial Policy Seen

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — The president of the Mormon Church said yesterday that he doesn't anticipate any change in the faith's policy of barring blacks from its priesthood.

Spencer W. Kimball, who became "prophet, seer and revelator" of the 3.3 million members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints last December, said he has prayed about the racial question since then.

Kimball, in an interview shown yesterday on NBC's "Today" show, was asked whether he anticipated a change in the racial policy — which prevents blacks from holding any posts in the lay leadership of the church.

"No, I do not anticipate," the 78-year-old Mormon leader replied. "If it should be done, the Lord will reveal it, and we believe in revelation and we believe that the leader of the church is entitled to that revelation and that it would come if it is necessary and if it's proper."

Kimball said the church was concerned about the fact that outsiders consider the Mormon position to be pure bigotry, but added that "men's ways are not God's ways and there are many things which cannot be explained wholly by just normal arguing and thinking processes."

On other topics, the Mormon president said the church was urging its members to support the President because of a doctrine urging obedience to government leaders and laws and was opposing women's liberation because "the mother's place is in the home."

Kimball said the church felt "too many fathers have abdicated" their position as head of the household.

"And the mother's place is in the home, and too many mothers have left their families and that it would be wonderful if they would remain and teach their children," he said.

Asked if a women could ever become president of the church, he replied: "No, we do not give the priesthood to the women."

Mayor Involved In Minor Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Abraham Beame was involved in a minor traffic crash with a taxicab in midtown Manhattan last night. No one was hurt.

Beame's limousine, driven by his chauffeur, had started to make a left turn on Madison Avenue when the cab, parked near the corner, started to pull away at the same time. The two vehicles collided. Both autos were dented slightly.

Immediately after the accident Beame and his bodyguard, Ronald Moran, hailed another taxi to take them to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's house. No charges were filed.

Soviet Poem Slaps Solzhenitsyn

The latest attack on the 1970 Nobel laureate was published by the Communist Party's weekly humor magazine, Krokodil.

The attack came in the form of a short poem. Although the work was entitled "Madame Solzh," it was intended to insult the author and not his wife, a Krokodil official stated.

The charge against Solzhenitsyn had at first been interpreted by some readers in Moscow as an attack on his 33-year-old wife, who was left behind when he was expelled from the country.

Mrs. Solzhenitsyn, her four children and mother have been told they can also leave the country and hope to join the author soon.

No Change In Racial Policy Seen

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — The president of the Mormon Church said yesterday that he doesn't anticipate any change in the faith's policy of barring blacks from its priesthood.

Spencer W. Kimball, who became "prophet, seer and revelator" of the 3.3 million members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints last December, said he has prayed about the racial question since then.

Kimball, in an interview shown yesterday on NBC's "Today" show, was asked whether he anticipated a change in the racial policy — which prevents blacks from holding any posts in the lay leadership of the church.

"No, I do not anticipate," the 78-year-old Mormon leader replied. "If it should be done, the Lord will reveal it, and we believe in revelation and we believe that the leader of the church is entitled to that revelation and that it would come if it is necessary and if it's proper."

Kimball said the church was concerned about the fact that outsiders consider the Mormon position to be pure bigotry, but added that "men's ways are not God's ways and there are many things which cannot be explained wholly by just normal arguing and thinking processes."

On other topics, the Mormon president said the church was urging its members to support the President because of a doctrine urging obedience to government leaders and laws and was opposing women's liberation because "the mother's place is in the home."

Kimball said the church felt "too many fathers have abdicated" their position as head of the household.

"And the mother's place is in the home, and too many mothers have left their families and that it would be wonderful if they would remain and teach their children," he said.

Asked if a women could ever become president of the church, he replied: "No, we do not give the priesthood to the women."

Mayor Involved In Minor Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Abraham Beame was involved in a minor traffic crash with a taxicab in midtown Manhattan last night. No one was hurt.

Beame's limousine, driven by his chauffeur, had started to make a left turn on Madison Avenue when the cab, parked near the corner, started to pull away at the same time. The two vehicles collided. Both autos were dented slightly.

Immediately after the accident Beame and his bodyguard, Ronald Moran, hailed another taxi to take them to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's house. No charges were filed.

Five Marin Artists Are Award Winners

Five Marin County artists have won honorable mention for their paintings in the San Francisco Women Artists' annual painting and sculpture show at the Kaiser Center in Oakland, being displayed until April 22.

Those winning the awards are Myrna Posert of Belvedere, Petra Luchetti of San Rafael, Diane Leach of Corte Madera, Naomi Hardy of Mill Valley and Ada Garfinkel of Kentfield.

Capurro, noting that "almost everyone on the council has 12-year-old children," said he would like to see Atha appointed in an advisory capacity for several months to determine if she is capable of filling a regular seat.

Colteaux said he thought appointing a 12-year-old was "to set her up for nonparticipation" on the commission and was "unfair to the child." He noted the lateness of some commission meetings and predicted boredom over lengthy budget discussions.

But Atha, who earlier had said, "parks are for the children, and we need representation," won the support of the majority led by Dr. Blinder.

He noted that "difficulty with budgets is not necessarily a function of age" and said the appointment of Atha would be "an experiment for little more than a year."

Atha was appointed to fill a term that expires July 15, 1975.

made him a gift of $20,000, and put him on the Vesco payroll at $60,000 a year.

"Did you feel you were in debt to Robert Vesco because of the contributions he made?" Wing asked.

"I did not as I paid him back every nickel. I felt that I owed Mr. Vesco loyalty and that I owed him the benefit of all the doubts."

The government contends that Sears was sent by Vesco to Mitchell to try to get him to interfere with the investigation. Sears has testified he was present when $200,000 was handed over to Stans, then finance chairman of the Nixon campaign.

"Did you feel you were in a box with Vesco?" Wing asked.

"I never felt I was in a box or in his pocket, which would put me in a position that I would do anything illegal or immoral."

Sears and Vesco were indicted along with Mitchell and Stans, but Vesco fled the country. Sears' case was severed, and he is testifying under a grant of immunity from prosecution. He has said under oath he was present when the $200,000 was delivered to Stans.

Under cross-examination by Edward C. O'Connell of the Stans legal team, Sears said his approaches to Mitchell to get help for Vesco were made "solely in our friendship" and were not political.

"I know of absolutely no attempt ever made to fix the SEC matter," he testified, referred to the Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of Vesco.

Sears said he first heard the accusation that Vesco expected political favors for the money when prosecutor John R. Wing mentioned it before the grand jury here last year.

"You told Mr. Wing that you were appalled that he had even expressed such a sentiment?" O'Connell asked.

"Yes, sir, and I continue to be appalled," Sears replied.

On re-direct examination, Wing asked if Sears were "still concerned about losing your license to practice law?"

"I suppose it's a subconscious concern," Sears said. "I feel prepared to meeet anything that comes along."

"If you admitted you committed a crime, would you lose your license?"

An objection cut off any answer. Wing then asked: "Do you have that fear as you testify here?"

"No, sir, I have not," Sears replied. "I have an absolute conviction that I committed no crime. And I don't fear any consequences."

Nine Mayors Chosen In Marin, S. Sonoma

Outgoing councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, who lost his seat in last week's election, was presented with a plaque before leaving.

Mrs. Barnard, who has been mayor for the last two years, was elected vice mayor by unanimous vote.

Burton is an executive with New York Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco and holds a law degree from Columbia University. He served on the city planning commission from 1967 to 1972 and was chairman of that agency for a time.

He ran for city council in 1968 and lost and then was elected in 1972.

He, his wife and two children live at 114 Hazel Avenue.

Approximately 200 persons attended the installation ceremonies at which former mayor Armando F. Flores and Sonoma State College professor David L. Eck were seated on the council.

Festivities began as girl scouts from Troop 152 led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Following the brief session, Beary hosted a party for the residents, including several former mayors and councilman, in city hall.

Beary, a councilman for two years, is a candidate for election to the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors in the second supervisorial district.

He and his wife, Sherlyn, have two children.

ROSS — Frederick S. Allen was unanimously elected to a sixth term as mayor.

Roy Farrington Jones, who was not present, was unanimously reelected vice mayor after Councilman John H. Chase's nomination of Jewel Osterloh died for lack of a second.

Councilmen unanimously agreed to shorten the mayor and vice mayor terms from two years to one so that more members could serve in the positions.

Councilmen also swore in Allen and Jones, both reelected in municipal elections last week, and named new committee members. Committees to serve one year are Jones and Chase, community protection committee; Osterloh and Jones, streets and parks committee; Chase and McGinis, finance committee; and McGinis and Osterloh, general government committee.

Allen has served continuouly as mayor since 1964, is retired and does much of the town's business on his own time. He lives at 131 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard with his wife, Barbara.

SAUSALITO — Former planning commissioner Violeta Autumn was seated last night on the Sausalito City Council, giving women a majority on the city body.

Mrs. Autumn, Sally Stanford and Robin Sweeny comprise the first female majority in memory on a city council in the state.

Leonard F. Rappa, elected with Mrs. Autumn last Tuesday, was absent from the session. He has declined to accept his seat until the state supreme court decides on charges of possible conflict of interest. Rappa, an attorney, represents several persons with lawsuits pending against the city.

With the exception of Mrs. Autumn, councilmen agreed to wait until Rappa is seated to elect a new mayor to replace Robin Sweeny.

City attorney Leland H. Jordan said Rappa's seat should be filled in his absence by one of the two outgoing councilmen, either Stephen A. Fraser or Earl F. Dunphy.

Dunphy, veteran of several terms on the council, was named to stay on temporarily. Only councilman Evert H. Heynneman opposed the move, saying that voters had mandated a new council and while he had high regard for Dunphy it would be improper for him to continue, according to City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie.

There was some discussion that Rappa would divest himself of the suits pending against the city and take his seat next Tuesday. Rappa, however, has been unavailable for comment.

TIBURON — Albert Aramburu last night was elected Mayor by unanimous acclamation; No other councilman was nominated for the job.

After the old city council certified the results of last week's election, Donald S. Tayer, E. Bruce Ross and George L. Ellman were sworn into office before a large crowd including several former mayors and councilmen.

Outgoing Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and councilmen Albert H. Sennett and M. Carlisle Becker were then given plaques honoring them for their service to the city.

After Aramburu was elected mayor, the new council nominated Ellman and Tayer for vice mayor. Tayer declined, and Ellman was elected unanimously.

The new mayor is a former member of the parks and recreation commission who was elected to the council in 1972. He is one of the organizers of the Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for the Environment and the city's recycling depot.

Aramburu, 37, is an executive with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.

Judges Named To Choose Winners Of Bank Awards

A five-judge panel was named today by Bank of America to select local high school zone winners in the bank's 1974 Achievement Awards competition in San Rafael next Tuesday.

The judges participating in this academic program are: Jean S. Barnard, Mill Valley city councilman; Daniel C. Dufficy, Marin Pacific Co., San Rafael; Joseph E. Doherty, Marin deputy probation officer; Patricia Battaglia, Petaluma homemaker; and Warren R. Perry, attorney and former San Anselmo city councilman.

Moderator of the program is Elizabeth M. Deedy of Ross, a member of the board of governors of California Community Colleges.

The judging begins with a round-table discussion with the 41 Marin and Southern Sonoma students on subjects related to four study fields — fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts and liberal arts.

Then the judges select four students to advance to the regional finals in San Francisco on May 2. Second and third place winners in the zone event in each field receive $100 and $75 respectively.

At the regional finals, the four zone winners compete for top cash awards of $1,000 in each study field. Second and third place winners receive $750 and $500 and all participants receive a minimum of $250.

Singer Termed A Health Hazard

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Victoria State Health Minister Alan Scanlan complained yesterday that singer David Cassidy "must be viewed as a health hazard" in view of what happened at a concert at a cricket stadium Sunday.

Scanlan reacted after a report on the concert by the Public Health Commission which said 300 teen-agers fainted and another 50 were injured in the crowd of 30,000.

The Commission's report said no similar performances should be held at the cricket grounds without precautions being taken.

"In such conditions as existed at his performance at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Sunday, David Cassidy must be viewed as a health hazard," Scanlan said.

CROWE

Crowe may come as early as next Monday, when the council will meet again in adjourned session. "I would envision this council meeting weekly for (up to two months) to pull this town back together," said Egger.

One of several citizens who spoke on the matter was Margaret Gifford of Fairfax, who claimed the council shared some responsibility for Crowe's plight since the three councilmen elected last week campaigned on a pledge to fire the administrator, and thus helped create a tense political atmosphere leading to the axe incident.

REPORT

adult corrections is its fragmentation, Finane said, urging consolidation with the probation department.

By placing corrections under probation, inmate rehabilitation would be supervised by one agency from the point an offender is arrested, through incarceration and after he is released, Finane said.

In recommending its placement under the probation department, Finane said the probation department "has some problems" which must be corrected.

"There is a general lack of a sense of direction and a need for a more active posture in seeking rehabilitative activities," he said.

He added that there is "very little awareness" in the probation department that it is the central agency for rehabilitative services and said the problem must be overcome by chief probation officer John W. Brewer.

For instance, he said, the department's work furlough program has about 36 participants but 33 of these already had jobs at the time they were jailed. Thus only three have found jobs as a result of the program.

While over 40 per cent of the probation department's caseload were involved in drug and alcohol related crimes, he continued, the department has no specialist work with these offenders.

There is evidence of individual probation officers attempting to work closely with other agencies, but there is need for "more central direction" from management in this area, Finane added.

"While the probation department may have some shortcomings in the services it provides. . . this does not invalidate the proposed organizational arrangement" of placing the department of corrections under it, he said.

Elsewhere in the lengthy report, Finane said the 10-week-old department of corrections also caused confusion among county judges. Prior to creation of the department, their decisions on prisoner security were relatively simple, he said.

The offender was either simply jailed or placed in the jail with work furlough privileges.

The corrections department, however, now has authority to transfer inmates out of the jail (with the sheriff's approval) and place them at the honor farm, which was previously run by the sheriff.

"From the judges' perspective, the creation of the department has resulted only in a fragmentation of the existing criminal justice system," he said." They do not see it as providing any new services but merely as a transfer of what were formerly the responsibilities of the sheriff and chief probation officer."

According to Barrows, supervisors will also consider a report on whether the probation department should be made part of the health and human services superagency. That report is not complete yet.

Naval Streakers First Reported

OAK HARBOR, Wash. (UPI) — Two Navy aviation machinist mates wearing hard hats and shoes with only tool belts in between guided a plane to its parking area at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, qualifying as the first naval streakers of the season.

Monday's incident sent officers scurrying to their operation manuals, but finding no regulations regarding streaking were pondering the question of whether to discipline the two for being out of uniform.

would not enforce it. Judge Clayton Horn then modified his order, dropping the part about arresting pickets.

Workers at city offices and shops remained off the job today but the number of pickets was sharply reduced at some buildings. Only three pickets were at the City Hall and one at the Department of Health offices in the Civic Center shortly after 8 a.m.

The city workers were offered a 5 per cent pay increase, costing the taxpayers $5.5 million a year, but they walked out demanding a package of pay and benefit improvements costing $16 million annually.

Supervisory workers late yesterday reopened two of the city's three sewage treatment plants and a spokesman said 60 per cent of the sewage flowing into the bay was now being treated.

Since last week the bay has been polluted at the rate of 100 million gallons of raw sewage a day and Gov. Ronald Reagan had threatened to intervene if the city could not get the plants reopened.

Personnel at the plants, although not members of the striking union, had refused to cross picket lines, leading state health director William Mayer to quarantine 30 miles of beaches and shoreline.

Only 25 per cent of the public school pupils have been attending classes since the American Federation of Teachers, representing half the city's teachers, joined the walkout. The rival California Teacher's Association suggested teachers and pupils stay home.

The San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association has lambasted the "confusing and upsetting" manner of the current San Francisco teachers' strike, but still advises its teachers and the city's school children to stay home.

James Kramer of the CTA said last night that "it was unfortunate that less than 600 out of 6,500 total teachers in the city had a chance to vote" for the current school strike, which is being held by the American Federation of Teachers along with the strike by the city's workers.

The CTA and AFT each represent about half the city's teachers.

But he said he still felt it was ill-advised for teachers to go to schools that are without food, transportation and many teachers. He said it increased a more dangerous atmosphere and one of "non-learning."

The CTA will hold an afternoon meeting of its members tomorrow to decide further policies in regard to the walkout.

Police, firemen and emergency health workers have stayed on the job, but some 320,000 commuters have been forced to other means of transportation, mainly private automobiles and taxis, since the Municipal Railway and part of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District rail system closed down.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, held that the city administration should not negotiate with municipal employes as long as the strike continued.

"Public employes must not be allowed to strike," he told newsmen in Sacramento.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location – at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael – is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund – twice the legal requirement – is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps – like many Marin families – you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Frederick H. Craib, 89, Of Novato, Succumbs

Frederick H. Craib of Novato, an adventurous tool and die maker who plied his trade from South Africa to Malaya in the last century, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 89.

Craib was aboard a lumber schooner which sailed into San Francisco the day after the 1906 earthquake as the flames of the subsequent fire lit up the sky.

Craib was a native of Banff, Scotland. After leaving home at an early age, he worked in gold mines in South Africa and Mexico, rubber plantations in Malaya and a phosphate plant on Ocean Island in the Pacific before coming to the United States at the turn of the century.

During World War I, Craib started the Bay Specialties Co. in Martinez which became one of the largest machine shops in Contra Costa County.

His wife, Mildred, was in San Francisco during the earthquake and fire. Her family camped out in the middle of Gough and Geary streets for more than two weeks after the holocaust. Her father saved a wood-burning stove from a nearby apartment building and fed his homeless neighbors for several weeks.

Mrs. Craib died six years ago.

Craib retired in 1936 and moved to Novato. During World War II he worked as an aircraft mechanic at Hamilton Air Force Base. He was awarded an Army Air Corps commendation for redesigning the propeller mounts of the P-40 fighter planes and thereby tripling the useful life of the aircraft.

He is survived by a sister, Anne Kedward of England; a niece, Phyllis Ware of Tiburon, and a nephew, Ralph Craib of Berkeley.

Private funeral is planned. The family prefers memorial gifts to the American Cancer Society or the Salvation Army.

LILLIE SPEARS

Funeral for Lillie Spears, 65, longtime Marin City resident, will be at 1 p.m. Friday at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City.

Mrs. Spears, of 24 Buckelew Street, died Sunday at a local hospital after a long illness. She was the wife of James Spears Sr., a retired plumber.

Mrs. Spears was a native of Louisiana and had lived in Marin City since 1944. She was a deaconess in the First Missionary Baptist Church and a member of the church's missionary society.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a son, James Spears Jr. of Portland, Ore.; two daughters, Geraldine Huff and Dorothy Williams, both of Marin City; three brothers, Johnny Phillips of Oakland, Freddy Phillips of Washington, D.C., and Ned Phillips Jr. of Portland; 14 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Friends may visit at the church from 6 to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

MRS. GORSKY

Private funeral for Emilie Gorsky, 81, was held yesterday in Novato.

She died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Gorsky was born in Germany and had lived in California for the past 51 years. She made her home in Novato for the past 40 years.

She had been a homemaker all of her adult life. Her husband, the late August Gorsky who died in 1958, was a self-employed machinist.

She is survived by two brothers, Heinrich and Walter Weyer and a sister, Anna Hoffmeister, all of Germany.

Inurnment was at Eastlawn Cemetery in Sacramento.

VADA BECTELL

Vada Laree Bectell, former resident of Marin County, died yesterday in a Fremont hospital after a long illness. She was 69.

She was born and reared in Utah.

For many years, she lived in Marin, in San Anselmo, Forest Knolls and Novato. She was first married to Elmer Franklin Rice, by whom she had six children, and then to the late Eugene Bectell, by whom she had a son.

Her most recent residence, before moving to Fremont 18 months ago, was in Petaluma.

Mrs. Bectell is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Forrest Varner of San Rafael; six sons, Albert Rice and Byron Rice, both of San Rafael, Elmer Warren Rice of Fremont, Bernal Rice of Novato, Garry Rice of San Luis Obispo, and K. R. Bectell of Sacramento; a brother, Clive Smith; a sister, Mrs. Elvern Corbett, both of Salt Lake City, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

EDNA ZULCH

Funeral for Edna C. Zulch, of San Francisco, mother of Dr. Frederick A. Zulch of Ross, was held today in San Francisco.

She died Monday in a local hospital after a short illness. She was 85.

Mrs. Zulch was born and reared in Denver, Colo. Her husband, Hermann Zulch, was a mining engineer and they lived in many areas. She had lived in San Francisco since 1938.

She was a member of the Vedanta Society.

In addition to her son, Frederick, she is survived by two other sons, William C. Zulch of St. Helena and Robert C. Zulch of Los Angeles, and four grandchildren.

Inurnment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma

Ford Lauds Peace Role Of Hussein

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford met with King Hussein of Jordan today and credited the monarch with playing a vital role in efforts to obtain a permanent peace in the Middle East.

Ford and Hussein met for 35 minutes at Blair House, the official guest residence across the street from the White House, as Hussein continued his week-long unofficial visit here in search of substantially increased U.S. military aid, including Hawk surface-to-air missiles.

Following the session, Ford's office released a statement citing Hussein's "courage and wisdom in his role in creating a permanent peace in the Mideast."

Prison Inmate Is Found Dead

Lewis was discovered on his knees, his forehead on the floor, about 1 a.m., according to a prison spokesman. An autopsy is planned.

The inmate had been in and out of California penal institutions since 1961 when he was convicted of forgery from San Mateo County. He was subsequently incarcerated for burglary, escape and, most recently, felony drunken driving.

Amana gives you a choice

If you want your zero degree freezer on the side, there's the Amana Side-by-Side. Or you can have it on the top or the bottom. They're all Free-O-Frost in both the refrigerator and freezer.

And every Amana has two independent temperature controls, one for the freezer, one for the refrigerator. There's a "refrigerator-within-a-refrigerator" that keeps meat fresh up to twice as long as an ordinary meat keeper. And a high-humidity compartment that keeps vegetables fresh up to three weeks.

Capurro, noting that "almost everyone on the council has 12-year-old children," said he would like to see Atha appointed in an advisory capacity for several months to determine if she is capable of filling a regular seat.

Colteaux said he thought appointing a 12-year-old was "to set her up for nonparticipation" on the commission and was "unfair to the child." He noted the lateness of some commission meetings and predicted boredom over lengthy budget discussions.

But Atha, who earlier had said, "parks are for the children, and we need representation," won the support of the majority led by Dr. Blinder.

He noted that "difficulty with budgets is not necessarily a function of age" and said the appointment of Atha would be "an experiment for little more than a year."

Atha was appointed to fill a term that expires July 15, 1975.

made him a gift of $20,000, and put him on the Vesco payroll at $80,000 a year.

"Did you feel you were in debt to Robert Vesco because of the contributions he made?" Wing asked.

"I did not as I paid him back every nickel. I felt that I owed Mr. Vesco loyalty and that I owed him the benefit of all the doubts."

The government contends that Sears was sent by Vesco to Mitchell to try to get him to interfere with the investigation. Sears has testified he was present when $200,000 was handed over to Stans, then finance chairman of the Nixon campaign.

"Did you feel you were in a box with Vesco?" Wing asked.

"I never felt I was in a box or in his pocket, which would put me in a position that I would do anything illegal or immoral."

Sears and Vesco were indicted along with Mitchell and Stans, but Vesco fled the country. Sears' case was severed, and he is testifying under a grant of immunity from prosecution. He has said under oath he was present when the $200,000 was delivered to Stans.

Under cross-examination by Edward C. O'Connell of the Stans legal team, Sears said his approaches to Mitchell to get help for Vesco were made "solely in our friendship" and were not political.

"I know of absolutely no attempt ever made to fix the SEC matter," he testified, referred to the Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of Vesco.

Sears said he first heard the accusation that Vesco expected political favors for the money when prosecutor John R. Wing mentioned it before the grand jury here last year.

"You told Mr. Wing that you were appalled that he had even expressed such a sentiment?" O'Connell asked.

"Yes, sir, and I continue to be appalled," Sears replied.

On re-direct examination, Wing asked if Sears were "still concerned about losing your license to practice law?"

"I suppose it's a subconscious concern," Sears said. "I feel prepared to meeet anything that comes along."

"If you admitted you committed a crime, would you lose your license?"

An objection cut off any answer. Wing then asked: "Do you have that fear as you testify here?"

"No, sir, I have not," Sears replied. "I have an absolute conviction that I committed no crime. And I don't fear any consequences."

Nine Mayors Chosen In Marin, S. Sonoma

of office for his first term.

Outgoing councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, who lost his seat in last week's election, was presented with a plaque before leaving.

Mrs. Barnard, who has been mayor for the last two years, was elected vice mayor by unanimous vote.

Burton is an executive with New York Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco and holds a law degree from Columbia University. He served on the city planning commission from 1967 to 1972 and was chairman of that agency for a time.

He ran for city council in 1968 and lost and then was elected in 1972.

He, his wife and two children live at 114 Hazel Avenue.

Approximately 200 persons attended the installation ceremonies at which former mayor Armando F. Flores and Sonoma State College professor David L. Eck were seated on the council.

Festivities began as girl scouts from Troop 152 led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Following the brief session, Beary hosted a party for the residents, including several former mayors and councilman, in city hall.

Beary, a councilman for two years, is a candidate for election to the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors in the second supervisorial district.

He and his wife, Sherlyn, have two children.

ROSS — Frederick S. Allen was unanimously elected to a sixth term as mayor.

Roy Farrington Jones, who was not present, was unanimously reelected vice mayor after Councilman John H. Chase's nomination of Jewel Osterloh died for lack of a second.

Councilmen unanimously agreed to shorten the mayor and vice mayor terms from two years to one so that more members could serve in the positions.

Councilmen also swore in Allen and Jones, both reelected in municipal elections last week, and named new committee members. Committees to serve one year are Jones and Chase, community protection committee; Osterloh and Jones, streets and parks committee; Chase and McGinis, finance committee; and McGinis and Osterloh, general government committee.

Allen has served continuouly as mayor since 1964, is retired and does much of the town's business on his own time. He lives at 131 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard with his wife, Barbara.

SAUSALITO — Former planning commissioner Violeta Autumn was seated last night on the Sausalito City Council, giving women a majority on the city body.

Mrs. Autumn, Sally Stanford and Robin Sweeny comprise the first female majority in memory on a city council in the state.

Leonard F. Rappa, elected with Mrs. Autumn last Tuesday, was absent from the session. He has declined to accept his seat until the state supreme court decides on charges of possible conflict of interest. Rappa, an attorney, represents several persons with lawsuits pending against the city.

With the exception of Mrs. Autumn, councilmen agreed to wait until Rappa is seated to elect a new mayor to replace Robin Sweeny.

City attorney Leland H. Jordan said Rappa's seat should be filled in his absence by one of the two outgoing councilmen, either Stephen A. Fraser or Earl F. Dunphy.

Dunphy, veteran of several terms on the council, was named to stay on temporarily. Only councilman Evert H. Heynneman opposed the move, saying that voters had mandated a new council and while he had high regard for Dunphy it would be improper for him to continue, according to City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie.

There was some discussion that Rappa would divest himself of the suits pending against the city and take his seat next Tuesday. Rappa, however, has been unavailable for comment.

TIBURON — Albert Aramburu last night was elected Mayor by unanimous acclamation; No other councilman was nominated for the job.

After the old city council certified the results of last week's election, Donald S. Tayer, E. Bruce Ross and George L. Ellman were sworn into office before a large crowd including several former mayors and councilmen.

Outgoing Mayor Branwell D. Fanning and councilmen Albert H. Sennett and M. Carlisle Becker were then given plaques honoring them for their service to the city.

After Aramburu was elected mayor, the new council nominated Ellman and Tayer for vice mayor. Tayer declined, and Ellman was elected unanimously.

The new mayor is a former member of the parks and recreation commission who was elected to the council in 1972. He is one of the organizers of the Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for the Environment and the city's recycling depot.

Aramburu, 37, is an executive with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.

Judges Named To Choose Winners Of Bank Awards

A five-judge panel was named today by Bank of America to select local high school zone winners in the bank's 1974 Achievement Awards competition in San Rafael next Tuesday.

The judges participating in this academic program are: Jean S. Barnard, Mill Valley city councilman; Daniel C. Duffey, Marin Pacific Co., San Rafael; Joseph E. Doherty, Marin deputy probation officer; Patricia Battaglia, Petaluma homemaker; and Warren R. Perry, attorney and former San Anselmo city councilman.

Moderator of the program is Elizabeth M. Deedy of Ross, a member of the board of governors of California Community Colleges.

The judging begins with a round-table discussion with the 41 Marin and Southern Sonoma students on subjects related to four study fields — fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts and liberal arts.

Then the judges select four students to advance to the regional finals in San Francisco on May 2. Second and third place winners in the zone event in each field receive $100 and $75 respectively.

At the regional finals, the four zone winners compete for top cash awards of $1,000 in each study field. Second and third place winners receive $750 and $500 and all participants receive a minimum of $250.

Singer Termed A Health Hazard

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Victoria State Health Minister Alan Scanlan complained yesterday that singer David Cassidy "must be viewed as a health hazard" in view of what happened at a concert at a cricket stadium Sunday.

Scanlan reacted after a report on the concert by the Public Health Commission which said 300 teen-agers fainted and another 50 were injured in the crowd of 30,000.

The Commission's report said no similar performances should be held at the cricket grounds without precautions being taken.

"In such conditions as existed at his performance at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Sunday, David Cassidy must be viewed as a health hazard," Scanlan said.

CROWE

Crowe may come as early as next Monday, when the council will meet again in adjourned session. "I would envision this council meeting weekly for (up to two months) to pull this town back together," said Egger.

One of several citizens who spoke on the matter was Margaret Gifford of Fairfax, who claimed the council shared some responsibility for Crowe's plight since the three councilmen elected last week campaigned on a pledge to fire the administrator, and thus helped create a tense political atmosphere leading to the axe incident.

REPORT

adult corrections is its fragmentation, Finane said, urging consolidation with the probation department.

By placing corrections under probation, inmate rehabilitation would be supervised by one agency from the point an offender is arrested, through incarceration and after he is released, Finane said.

In recommending its placement under the probation department, Finane said the probation department "has some problems" which must be corrected.

"There is a general lack of a sense of direction and a need for a more active posture in seeking rehabilitative activities," he said.

He added that there is "very little awareness" in the probation department that it is the central agency for rehabilitative services and said the problem must be overcome by chief probation officer John W. Brewer.

For instance, he said, the department's work furlough program has about 36 participants but 33 of these already had jobs at the time they were jailed. Thus only three have found jobs as a result of the program.

While over 40 per cent of the probation department's caseload were involved in drug and alcohol related crimes, he continued, the department has no specialist work with these offenders.

There is evidence of individual probation officers attempting to work closely with other agencies, but there is need for "more central direction" from management in this area, Finane added.

"While the probation department may have some shortcomings in the services it provides. . . this does not invalidate the proposed organizational arrangement" of placing the department of corrections under it, he said.

Elsewhere in the lengthy report, Finane said the 10-week-old department of corrections also caused confusion among county judges. Prior to creation of the department, their decisions on prisoner security were relatively simple, he said.

The offender was either simply jailed or placed in the jail with work furlough privileges.

The corrections department, however, now has authority to transfer inmates out of the jail (with the sheriff's approval) and place them at the honor farm, which was previously run by the sheriff.

"From the judges' perspective, the creation of the department has resulted only in a fragmentation of the existing criminal justice system," he said." They do not see it as providing any new services but merely as a transfer of what were formerly the responsibilities of the sheriff and chief probation officer."

According to Barrows, supervisors will also consider a report on whether the probation department should be made part of the health and human services superagency. That report is not complete yet.

Naval Streakers First Reported

OAK HARBOR, Wash. (UPI) — Two Navy aviation machinist mates wearing hard hats and shoes with only tool belts in between guided a plane to its parking area at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, qualifying as the first naval streakers of the season.

Monday's incident sent officers scurrying to their operation manuals, but finding no regulations regarding streaking were pondering the question of whether to discipline the two for being out of uniform.

would not enforce it. Judge Clayton Horn then modified his order, dropping the part about arresting pickets.

Workers at city offices and shops remained off the job today but the number of pickets was sharply reduced at some buildings. Only three pickets were at the City Hall and one at the Department of Health offices in the Civic Center shortly after 8 a.m.

The city workers were offered a 5 per cent pay increase, costing the taxpayers $5.5 million a year, but they walked out demanding a package of pay and benefit improvements costing $16 million annually.

Supervisory workers late yesterday reopened two of the city's three sewage treatment plants and a spokesman said 60 per cent of the sewage flowing into the bay was now being treated.

Since last week the bay has been polluted at the rate of 100 million gallons of raw sewage a day and Gov. Ronald Reagan had threatened to intervene if the city could not get the plants reopened.

Personnel at the plants, although not members of the striking union, had refused to cross picket lines, leading state health director William Mayer to quarantine 30 miles of beaches and shoreline.

Only 25 per cent of the public school pupils have been attending classes since the American Federation of Teachers, representing half the city's teachers, joined the walkout. The rival California Teacher's Association suggested teachers and pupils stay home.

The San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association has lambasted the "confusing and upsetting" manner of the current San Francisco teachers' strike, but still advises its teachers and the city's school children to stay home.

James Kramer of the CTA said last night that "it was unfortunate that less than 600 out of 6,500 total teachers in the city had a chance to vote" for the current school strike, which is being held by the American Federation of Teachers along with the strike by the city's workers.

The CTA and AFT each represent about half the city's teachers.

But he said he still felt it was ill-advised for teachers to go to schools that are without food, transportation and many teachers. He said it increased a more dangerous atmosphere and one of "non-learning."

The CTA will hold an afternoon meeting of its members tomorrow to decide further policies in regard to the walkout.

Police, firemen and emergency health workers have stayed on the job, but some 320,000 commuters have been forced to other means of transportation, mainly private automobiles and taxis, since the Municipal Railway and part of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District rail system closed down.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, meanwhile, held that the city administration should not negotiate with municipal employes as long as the strike continued.

"Public employes must not be allowed to strike," he told newsmen in Sacramento.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location – at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael – is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund – twice the legal requirement – is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps – like many Marin families – you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Frederick H. Craib, 89, Of Novato, Succumbs

Frederick H. Craib of Novato, an adventurous tool and die maker who plied his trade from South Africa to Malaya in the last century, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 89.

Craib was aboard a lumber schooner which sailed into San Francisco the day after the 1906 earthquake as the flames of the subsequent fire lit up the sky.

Craib was a native of Banff, Scotland. After leaving home at an early age, he worked in gold mines in South Africa and Mexico, rubber plantations in Malaya and a phosphate plant on Ocean Island in the Pacific before coming to the United States at the turn of the century.

During World War I, Craib started the Bay Specialties Co. in Martinez which became one of the largest machine shops in Contra Costa County.

His wife, Mildred, was in San Francisco during the earthquake and fire. Her family camped out in the middle of Gough and Geary streets for more than two weeks after the holocaust. Her father saved a wood-burning stove from a nearby apartment building and fed his homeless neighbors for several weeks.

Mrs. Craib died six years ago.

Craib retired in 1936 and moved to Novato. During World War II he worked as an aircraft mechanic at Hamilton Air Force Base. He was awarded an Army Air Corps commendation for redesigning the propeller mounts of the P-40 fighter planes and thereby tripling the useful life of the aircraft.

He is survived by a sister, Anne Kedward of England; a niece, Phyllis Ware of Tiburon, and a nephew, Ralph Craib of Berkeley.

Private funeral is planned. The family prefers memorial gifts to the American Cancer Society or the Salvation Army.

LILLIE SPEARS

Funeral for Lillie Spears, 65, longtime Marin City resident, will be at 1 p.m. Friday at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City.

Mrs. Spears, of 24 Buckelew Street, died Sunday at a local hospital after a long illness. She was the wife of James Spears Sr., a retired plumber.

Mrs. Spears was a native of Louisiana and had lived in Marin City since 1944. She was a deaconess in the First Missionary Baptist Church and a member of the church's missionary society.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a son, James Spears Jr. of Portland, Ore.; two daughters, Geraldine Huff and Dorothy Williams, both of Marin City; three brothers, Johnny Phillips of Oakland, Freddy Phillips of Washington, D.C., and Ned Phillips Jr. of Portland; 14 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Friends may visit at the church from 6 to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

MRS. GORSKY

Private funeral for Emilie Gorsky, 81, was held yesterday in Novato.

She died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Gorsky was born in Germany and had lived in California for the past 51 years. She made her home in Novato for the past 40 years.

She had been a homemaker all of her adult life. Her husband, the late August Gorsky who died in 1958, was a self-employed machinist.

She is survived by two brothers, Heinrich and Walter Weyer and a sister, Anna Hoffmeister, all of Germany.

Inurnment was at Eastlawn Cemetery in Sacramento.

VADA BECTELL

Vada Laree Bectell, former resident of Marin County, died yesterday in a Fremont hospital after a long illness. She was 69.

She was born and reared in Utah.

For many years, she lived in Marin, in San Anselmo, Forest Knolls and Novato. She was first married to Elmer Franklin Rice, by whom she had six children, and then to the late Eugene Bectell, by whom she had a son.

Her most recent residence, before moving to Fremont 18 months ago, was in Petaluma.

Mrs. Bectell is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Forrest Varner of San Rafael; six sons, Albert Rice and Byron Rice, both of San Rafael, Elmer Warren Rice of Fremont, Bernal Rice of Novato, Garry Rice of San Luis Obispo, and K. R. Bectell of Sacramento; a brother, Clive Smith; a sister, Mrs. Elvern Corbett, both of Salt Lake City, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

EDNA ZULCH

Funeral for Edna C. Zulch, of San Francisco, mother of Dr. Frederick A. Zulch of Ross, was held today in San Francisco.

She died Monday in a local hospital after a short illness. She was 85.

Mrs. Zulch was born and reared in Denver, Colo. Her husband, Hermann Zulch, was a mining engineer and they lived in many areas. She had lived in San Francisco since 1938.

She was a member of the Vedanta Society.

In addition to her son, Frederick, she is survived by two other sons, William C. Zulch of St. Helena and Robert C. Zulch of Los Angeles, and four grandchildren.

Inurnment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma

Ford Lauds Peace Role Of Hussein

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford met with King Hussein of Jordan today and credited the monarch with playing a vital role in efforts to obtain a permanent peace in the Middle East.

Ford and Hussein met for 35 minutes at Blair House, the official guest residence across the street from the White House, as Hussein continued his week-long unofficial visit here in search of substantially increased U.S. military aid, including Hawk surface-to-air missiles.

Following the session, Ford's office released a statement citing Hussein's "courage and wisdom in his role in creating a permanent peace in the Mideast."

Prison Inmate Is Found Dead

Lewis was discovered on his knees, his forehead on the floor, about 1 a.m., according to a prison spokesman. An autopsy is planned.

The inmate had been in and out of California penal institutions since 1961 when he was convicted of forgery from San Mateo County. He was subsequently incarcerated for burglary, escape and, most recently, felony drunken driving.

Governor's Warning On Bay Water

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan warned yesterday he will act swiftly to protect public health if other steps fail to halt the dumping of raw sewage into San Francisco Bay because of a municipal employees strike.

Reagan, who indirectly criticized San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and the city administration for negotiating with the strikers, told a news conference the quality of bay water was being carefully monitored by nine surrounding counties.

He stressed the state would seek to resolve the issue with representatives of local government, but said he would act under an "emergency" powers declaration if dumping of sewage into the bay from San Francisco treatment plants posed a threat to health.

Reagan left open exactly whom would be called in to operate the plants. He indicated it could be state employees, National Guardsmen or local employees who could be placed under state jurisdiction.

Reagan's warning followed the filing of a lawsuit by the attorney general office asking for an injunction to keep San Francisco's four sewage plants open. The injunction was granted and violation of the order could result in fines of $40,000 a day.

Newsmen asked the governor if he had any suggestions for ending the six-day-old strike by San Francisco employees.

"I think it is time for the people of this country to recognize that for governments to reflect the feeling of the people that public employees must not be allowed to strike," he said. "There is no way you can condone strikes by public employees."

Asked how he would enforce such an action, Reagan replied:

"Refuse to sit down and negotiate any of the grievances with the people as long as they are out on strike. And when it passes five days without them reporting or working, you start rehiring."

On other topics, the governor:

GASOLINE — He declared the long waiting lines for gasoline in counties using his odd-even sales plan as of today were "much shorter or nonexistent." He said the situation was "vastly improved" everywhere but in Pasadena.

BOTULISM — Reagan said he was sorry for saying last week in Washington it was "too bad we can't have an epidemic of botulism" in the Patricia Hearst kidnapping food handout program. "If this offended anyone, I apologize. I'm sorry for it." He insisted the remark wasn't meant to be taken seriously.

ALLOCATION — The governor said he was convinced California was being treated fairly in the new federal allocation of gasoline for March which was 85 per cent of the amount consumed in 1972. He said the formula was adjusted upward to compensate for California's increased number of motor vehicles.

MANSION — He denied as "absolutely untrue" that plans for a proposed $1.45 million new governor's mansion represents the personal tastes of himself and his wife, Nancy. "We tried to give input to architects on the basis of having lived in this situation," he said.

PROMISES ACTION —Gov. Ronald Reagan has issued a warning he will act swiftly to protect public health if other steps fail to halt dumping of raw sewage into the San Francisco Bay. His remarks came yesterday in a Sacramento press conference when asked about sewage flow due to the San Francisco Municipal Employees strike. (UPI Telephoto)

Kansan Reelected Farm Union Head

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Tony Dechant of Hays, Kan., was re-elected yesterday to serve another two-year term as president of the National Farmers Union. He has served since 1966.

Drake High Senior Gets School's Science Award

By CATHI FARMER
Drake High News Bureau

Sir Francis Drake High School senior Alexander Zettl is winner of the school's annual Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

The award, a bronze medal, is presented each year to senior science students in more than 8,600 participating schools throughout the United States and Canada.

Zettl, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Zettl of Forest Knolls.

As winner of the award, he is eligible to compete for a four-year scholarship at the University of Rochester in New York. Scholarship winners are selected on merit, and are eligible for stipends of up to $4,500 per year.

Surveys show that the award has encouraged more than 30 per cent of the winners to pursue careers in science.

Governor's Warning On Bay Water

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan warned yesterday he will act swiftly to protect public health if other steps fail to halt the dumping of raw sewage into San Francisco Bay because of a municipal employees strike.

Reagan, who indirectly criticized San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and the city administration for negotiating with the strikers, told a news conference the quality of bay water was being carefully monitored by nine surrounding counties.

He stressed the state would seek to resolve the issue with representatives of local government, but said he would act under an "emergency" powers declaration if dumping of sewage into the bay from San Francisco treatment plants posed a threat to health.

Reagan left open exactly whom would be called in to operate the plants. He indicated it could be state employees, National Guardsmen or local employees who could be placed under state jurisdiction.

Reagan's warning followed the filing of a lawsuit by the attorney general office asking for an injunction to keep San Francisco's four sewage plants open. The injunction was granted and violation of the order could result in fines of $40,000 a day.

Newsmen asked the governor if he had any suggestions for ending the six-day-old strike by San Francisco employees.

"I think it is time for the people of this country to recognize that for governments to reflect the feeling of the people that public employees must not be allowed to strike," he said. "There is no way you can condone strikes by public employees."

Asked how he would enforce such an action, Reagan replied:

"Refuse to sit down and negotiate any of the grievances with the people as long as they are out on strike. And when it passes five days without them reporting or working, you start rehiring."

On other topics, the governor:

GASOLINE — He declared the long waiting lines for gasoline in counties using his odd-even sales plan as of today were "much shorter or nonexistent." He said the situation was "vastly improved" everywhere but in Pasadena.

BOTULISM — Reagan said he was sorry for saying last week in Washington it was "too bad we can't have an epidemic of botulism" in the Patricia Hearst kidnapping food handout program. "If this offended anyone, I apologize. I'm sorry for it." He insisted the remark wasn't meant to be taken seriously.

ALLOCATION — The governor said he was convinced California was being treated fairly in the new federal allocation of gasoline for March which was 85 per cent of the amount consumed in 1972. He said the formula was adjusted upward to compensate for California's increased number of motor vehicles.

MANSION — He denied as "absolutely untrue" that plans for a proposed $1.45 million new governor's mansion represents the personal tastes of himself and his wife, Nancy. "We tried to give input to architects on the basis of having lived in this situation," he said.

PROMISES ACTION —Gov. Ronald Reagan has issued a warning he will act swiftly to protect public health if other steps fail to halt dumping of raw sewage into the San Francisco Bay. His remarks came yesterday in a Sacramento press conference when asked about sewage flow due to the San Francisco Municipal Employees strike.

Kansan Reelected Farm Union Head

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Tony Dechant of Hays, Kan., was re-elected yesterday to serve another two-year term as president of the National Farmers Union. He has served since 1966.

Drake High Senior Gets School's Science Award

By CATHI FARMER
Drake High News Bureau

The award, a bronze medal, is presented each year to senior science students in more than 8,600 participating schools throughout the United States and Canada.

Zettl, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Zettl of Forest Knolls.

As winner of the award, he is eligible to compete for a four-year scholarship at the University of Rochester in New York. Scholarship winners are selected on merit, and are eligible for stipends of up to $4,500 per year.

Surveys show that the award has encouraged more than 30 per cent of the winners to pursue careers in science.

TOPSY TURVY TRUCK

The result of an accident yesterday on Tiburon Boulevard, this Pacific Telephone and Telegraph truck rests in a ditch in this precarious position. Tiburon police said that its driver, Patrick Joseph Dowling, was maneuvering around a car turning left into a driveway in the road's 1100 block at about noon yesterday when the truck went out of control and flipped into the ditch. It took two tow trucks to tug the unfortunate vehicle out. Dowling was not injured.

Gnoss Field Plan Weakly Backed

By FRANK FARRARA

Marin County's proposed master plan for expansion of Gnoss Field, north of Novato, got a shaky show of support from the Novato City Council last night.

After a two-hour public hearing, including an appeal from former Supervisor William A. Gnoss, whose name the field bears, the council by a 3-2 vote recommended county approval of the plan.

Councilman Fred F. Ruegg, who proposed "phasing out" Gnoss Field, and Councilman Dorothy P. Young, who said she hadn't been convinced of the need for expansion nor the benefit to Novato, cast the dissenting votes.

Aviation commissioners and pilots backed the plan for $7.3 million in improvements by 1992, including extension of the existing runway and construction of a new runway.

The accompanying environmental impact report which calls for prohibiting residential development in the airport's noise zone was attacked by nearby property owners.

Richard Hill of the University of San Francisco, which owns the Rancho Olompali property, said the restrictions on land use would have tremendous impact on the property. "We'd be virtually wiped out," he said.

Gnoss said the main purpose of the plan is "the safety of the field itself and the safety of anyone building around the airport." He said he hated to think of a "tragedy like Sacramento" occurring at the field because "something was built close to the airport."

The Novato Chamber of Commerce, while supporting the plan, called for a study of the economic impact of the expansion.

Councilmen recommended by a 3-2 vote that the environmental impact report be approved, providing it includes a report of the economic impact of land use changes. Ruegg and Mrs. Young dissented.

Councilman Gail M. Wilhelm said Gnoss Field is known as "unsafe" and there "was an error in putting in the runway. This is to correct that error."

Ruegg said he could see no reason for "perpetuating a mistake," and "if a new airport is to be started, it could be "out somewhere where the airport itself could be protected."

Marin County aviation commissioner Richard P. Nave said the airport "could become stagnant if we leave it as it is now."

Airport Mgr. Frank Torr said development would be in stages and that a master plan is necessary to qualify for federal funds for the improvements.

Senior planner Mark Westfall said the restrictions on residential development would cover parts of Bahia, the Pinheiro property, the Nunes property, the Pashburg property and Rancho Olompali.

Councilman David E. Milano said he was concerned that such restrictions "would take up a lot of valuable developable property."

Building restrictions around the airport will be under the jurisdiction of the newly formed Marin County Airport Land Use Commission.

Torr said under the plan the airport could accommodate 700 planes by 1992 with two 3,500 foot runways, and attract business flights.

Two pilots said lack of control of development around airports has been detrimental both to the airport and the people surrounding it.

The proposed master plan and environmental impact report is scheduled to be before the Marin County Planning Commission March 25.

Budget Deficit Faces Oakland School District

OAKLAND (UPI) — Acting Oakland Schools Superintendent Robert W. Blackburn reported last night atht the district will suffer a $1.5 million budget deficit for the coming year.

He told a crowded meeting of the Board of Education that this could mean the dismissal of 103 teachers and 58 administrators from their present positions.

He said that a projected enrollment decline of over 3,200 students in 1974-75 had caused the district to lose certain state and federal funds.

Blackburn said that if the district does not find the needed funds by May 15, the dismissals will become a reality instead of a possibility.

After his report, speakers from the audience asked the board to make every effort to keep the teachers on the job.

Display Scheduled

Watercolors and prints by Mill Valley artist Wesley Chamberlin will be on display starting Tuesday until April 10 at the Malvina Miller Gallery in San Francisco.

Jones Named Mayor Of Novato After Seating Of New Council

Jones was appointed to the council in April, 1971, and elected to a four-year term in 1972. Councilman Dorothy P. Young was elected vice mayor.

Councilmen George C. Quesada and F. Wayne Sartain departed and newly elected members Gail M. Wilhelm and David E. Milano were seated in a festive air before an audience of about 120 persons.

Quesada and Sartain received plaques from the city for their service and gifts from the council and Sartain's campaign committee announced it was sending a chaise lounge to his home.

Quesada, in farewell comments, said if he had chosen to run the campaign wouldn't have been a "lackluster cakewalk," and urged the new council "not to move too far, too fast."

At the close of the ceremony, a cake decorated with American flags and bearing the message "Congratulations Mayor Jones" was brought in and the new mayor called a recess for coffee and cake.

The Novato City Council also:

ROTARY PROJECT — Introduced an ordinance to rezone a 30,000 square foot lot at 1124 Olive Street from single-family to planned residential, as requested by the Novato Rotary Club, which plans to build up to 20 units of housing there for the elderly.

COMMISSION VACANCY — Urged that residents interested in serving on the planning commission apply at Novato City Hall, with interviews by the council scheduled March 23 to determine who will succeed Mrs. Wilhelm on the commission.

VINEYARD PREZONING — Introduced an ordinance to prezone about 20 acres west of Sinaloa Junior High School as single-family residential with minimum 10,000-square-foot lots.

STREET NAME — Unanimously adopted a resolution to change the name of the portion of Leafwood Drive south of Sunset Parkway to Leafwood Heights.

ACTING MANAGER — Raised acting City Mgr. Rodney B. Brown's salary from $1,396 a month to $1,650 for the period he serves as acting city manager. Ruegg said the city expects to have the list of five finalists for the city manager post by April 1.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Novato Community House.

Gas Lines Are Shorter; Appointment Plan Out

As Marin residents settled into the third day of the odd-even voluntary plan of gasoline sales, today's waiting lines of cars at service stations seemed to continue to be shorter than last week.

In the meantime, the regional head of the Federal Energy office in San Francisco said service stations may not sell gasoline by appointment.

"Unless the station owner can show clear evidence that such practices as selling gasoline by appointment only were used by him in 1972, he may not institute such policies today," said regional administrator William C. Arntz.

Arntz said federal energy rules require all gasoline customers to be treated equally and that setting up preferential categories on the basis of appointments would be a violation of the regulations.

The Internal Revenue Service, however, has said that the practice of filling tanks of cars which have had service jobs during closed hours at service stations is not illegal. The Independent-Journal continues to receive many complaints about this practice.

In Novato today, schools Supt. James G. Bunker said his district, which like many districts in the county is receiving a severely cut allocation of gasoline this month, is seeking state relief.

"Fortunately, much of our equipment is diesel, so we'll make it (without additional supplies)," but such outings as field trips will have to be discontinued if more gasoline is not obtained, he said.

Arabian Leaders Review Embargo

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — Oil ministers from nine Arab countries met today to review the Arab embargo on oil supplies to the United States and Holland.

Egyptian sources said Egypt and Saudi Arabia, backed by Kuwait and three other Persian Gulf oil states, planned to press for an easing of the nearly five-month-old oil embargo.

Cool Opera

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Installation of air conditioning in Argentina's principal opera house, the 66-year-old Teatro Colon, made it possible to hold the summer concert series indoors there for the first time this season.

Ex-General Enters Race For Governor

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Retired Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland says Vietnam won't be an issue but Watergate probably will in his quest of the South Carolina governorship.

The 59-year-old former commander of U. S. troops in Vietnam announced yesterday that he will run for governor as a Republican. He had been sought as a candidate by both Republicans and Democrats.

He indicated he chose the Republican party because South Carolina "needs a viable two-party system — the sooner the better." The state hasn't had a Republican governor this century, although it has a GOP senator in Strom Thurmond and several GOP congressmen.

Democratic Gov. John West is prohibited by law from succeeding himself.

Westmoreland, who lives in Charleston, conceded that the Watergate issue might hurt him as a Republican candidate.

First Lady In Pledge To Venezuela

CARACAS (UPI) — First Lady Pat Nixon, buoyant after attending the inauguration of Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez, described him today as a "very strong, impressive man" and said the United States would cooperate with him on global and hemispheric matters.

Mrs. Nixon, who witnessed the inaugural yesterday sat in the reviewing stand with Perez today to watch a military parade.

Dressed in a yellow linen suit with an orange and yellow sash, Mrs. Nixon was the first to approach Perez. She spoke to him only briefly, shook his hand and immediately left the hall.

While declining to comment on Perez' inaugural speech, the First Lady told reporters last night that she was certain that Perez would do "a tremendous job" during his five-year term.

"I thought he was a very strong, impressive man," she said. "and I'm sure that he has the interests of the country at heart. We're all going to cooperate on hemispheric matters as well as global matters."

Ex-General Enters Race For Governor

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Retired Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland says Vietnam won't be an issue but Watergate probably will in his quest of the South Carolina governorship.

The 59-year-old former commander of U. S. troops in Vietnam announced yesterday that he will run for governor as a Republican. He had been sought as a candidate by both Republicans and Democrats.

He indicated he chose the Republican party because South Carolina "needs a viable two-party system — the sooner the better." The state hasn't had a Republican governor this century, although it has a GOP senator in Strom Thurmond and several GOP congressmen.

Democratic Gov. John West is prohibited by law from succeeding himself.

Westmoreland, who lives in Charleston, conceded that the Watergate issue might hurt him as a Republican candidate.

First Lady In Pledge To Venezuela

CARACAS (UPI) — First Lady Pat Nixon, buoyant after attending the inauguration of Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez, described him today as a "very strong, impressive man" and said the United States would cooperate with him on global and hemispheric matters.

Mrs. Nixon, who witnessed the inaugural yesterday sat in the reviewing stand with Perez today to watch a military parade.

Dressed in a yellow linen suit with an orange and yellow sash, Mrs. Nixon was the first to approach Perez. She spoke to him only briefly, shook his hand and immediately left the hall.

While declining to comment on Perez' inaugural speech, the First Lady told reporters lastnight that she was certain that Perez would do "a tremendous job" during his five-year term.

"I thought he was a very strong, impressive man," she said. "and I'm sure that he has the interests of the country at heart. We're all going to cooperate on hemispheric matters as well as global matters."

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

6:32 p.m., Kentfield — Report of fire in Kent Woodlands; false alarm.

7:06 p.m., Cotati — Report of fire in car on Highway 101 at West Sierra Avenue turnoff; was overheated motor in car driven by Donald Brewer of Petaluma.

TODAY:

Park Count Up

McKINLEY NATIONAL PARK, Alaska (UPI) — The number of visitors to McKinley National Park in 1973 was 52 per cent higher than in 1972, Supt. Dan Kuehn reports.

Gas Lines Are Shorter; Appointment Plan Out

As Marin residents settled into the third day of the odd-even voluntary plan of gasoline sales, today's waiting lines of cars at service stations seemed to continue to be shorter than last week.

In the meantime, the regional head of the Federal Energy office in San Francisco said service stations may not sell gasoline by appointment.

"Unless the station owner can show clear evidence that such practices as selling gasoline by appointment only were used by him in 1972, he may not institute such policies today," said regional administrator William C. Arntz.

Arntz said federal energy rules require all gasoline customers to be treated equally and that setting up preferential categories on the basis of appointments would be a violation of the regulations.

The Internal Revenue Service, however, has said that the practice of filling tanks of cars which have had service jobs during closed hours at service stations is not illegal. The Independent-Journal continues to receive many complaints about this practice.

In Novato today, schools Supt. James G. Bunker said his district, which like many districts in the county is receiving a severely cut allocation of gasoline this month, is seeking state relief.

"Fortunately, much of our equipment is diesel, so we'll make it (without additional supplies)," but such outings as field trips will have to be discontinued if more gasoline is not obtained, he said.

Arabian Leaders Review Embargo

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — Oil ministers from nine Arab countries met today to review the Arab embargo on oil supplies to the United States and Holland.

Egyptian sources said Egypt and Saudi Arabia, backed by Kuwait and three other Persian Gulf oil states, planned to press for an easing of the nearly five-month-old oil embargo.

Cool Opera

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Installation of air conditioning in Argentina's principal opera house, the 66-year-old Teatro Colon, made it possible to hold the summer concert series indoors there for the first time this season.

HEADLESS FOR A CAUSE

One of the four horse statues, which grace the main portal of St. Mark's Basilica in Venice, Italy, is headless now. Experts dismantled it and removed the head on Monday to study ways of stopping the "bronze cancer" that has been gnawing away at the 2,000-year-old statues. Officials said a protective wax coating might be applied to the statue before it is put back in place.

State Sues To Release Road Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Reagan administration has filed suit for the first time to force the Nixon administration to release impounded federal funds.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court yesterday by the state Department of Transportation, seeks the release of $75 million in impounded highway funds for California highway construction.

It was the first such suit by the Reagan administration. In the past, Gov. Ronald Reagan has supported impoundment on grounds that it is an effective weapon against inflation.

In the suit, the department noted the impoundment would further cripple the state's road-building efforts which already have been stifled by declining gas tax revenues resulting from the energy crisis.

Four other states already have brought suits against the federal government to obtain the release of impounded highway funds. Missouri was successful last year in such an attempt.

Reagan administration officials said President Nixon's budget indicates there will be a nationwide impoundment of about $1.1 billion in highway funds.

A First Step To Upgrade Marinas

Richardson Bay houseboat marina owner D. J. Arques has signed necessary documents to proceed with upgrading his marina, Marin County supervisors were told yesterday.

Signing of the documents, which must be countersigned by his wife, is a major step in the county's long struggle to upgrade the Richardson Bay marinas with improved water and sewage systems.

According to Irving L. Schwartz, county land development engineer, Mrs. Arques has not signed because she is in Lodi.

Chairman Michael Wornum, a veteran of the struggle to improve the marinas, said he was torn between celebrating with champagne or personally carrying the documents to Lodi.

Arques is one of three marina owners who fought for years with the county over cleaning up the houseboat areas. The others are Alexis Tellis and George Kappas, who have moved to improve their marinas.

On a related matter, Schwartz reported the vintage barge Golden Gate, which stirred controversy earlier this year, has been sold by Scott Diamond and moved to the Red Rock Marina in Contra Costa County.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

CRIMINAL JUSTICE — Received a report from the county administrator's office that the criminal-justice planning agency should continue to oversee federally funded criminal justice programs. The status report on the department was requested last December by supervisors.

MANPOWER — Agreed to establish a seven-member manpower commission to oversee and recommend use of federal employment and training funds due Marin next fiscal year.

HEARING — Set next Tuesday for a hearing on rezoning parcels in the Nicasio area to reduce the number of possible homesites.

GROWTH CONTROL — Set April 9 for discussion of two supervisors' recent trip to New York to attend a national conference on growth control.

SOLID WASTE — Allocated an additional $1,750 to a regional solid waste (garbage) disposal study committee seeking a $7 million federal demonstration grant. The county allocated $3,000 in June.

REZONING — Approved rezoning the 22-acre Robert S. Cary property in the Sorich Ranch Park area near San Anselmo to allow one home per 10 acres. Cary, who earlier protested the rezoning, did not appear yesterday.

MENTAL HEALTH — Approved and forwarded to the state a mental health services plan for the county. The plan is to be accompanied with a letter requesting increased state aid to the county.

FEDERAL GRANTS — Agreed to submit requests for two federal grants —totaling $650,000 — for new mental health services to children. Concern was voiced by some members of the audience that the county's matching share not be taken from existing services.

FUNDING — Agreed to participate in a new health program for children entering school provided the state pays the cost. The new program is to screen children for early signs of physical or mental disabilities.

EXHIBITION HALL — Received a report from the Marin Community Arts Council endorsing the proposed exhibition hall at the fairgrounds and urging options such as a concrete floor and acoustical ceiling be approved.

VALU — Listened to two hours of argument on the appeal of microbiologist Joseph A. Valu to get back the job in the department of health and human services from which he was fired with the unanimous approval of the county personnel commission. Decision on the appeal was postponed for further review.

Birthday Party Blamed For Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A birthday party was blamed for a fire which forced the evacuation of 600 students from the Hayes Healey dormitory at the University of San Francisco last night.

Fire officials said that a birthday candle set the draperies on fire in a fourth floor room.

Supervisors Urge Raw Sewage Action

Marin County supervisors yesterday urged the governor to declare a state of emergency in San Francisco and "take whatever action is necessary" to end the pollution of San Francisco Bay.

The board's action, approved unanimously, added Marin's voice to the growing list of governmental agencies upset by the strike related shutdown of San Francisco sewage treatment plants.

Supervisors at first toyed with the idea of bring suit against the city and striking unions but dismissed the notion when told the Regional Water Quality Control Board already had secured an injunction.

Two of the city's three major treatment plants were suppose to be back in operation today handling about 90 per cent of the city's 100 million gallons of daily sewage flow.

Since last Friday, raw sewage has been passed directly into the bay and ocean causing public health officials to warn against using beaches because of pollution.

Marin's action yesterday was prompted by a letter from William Desmond, environmental health officer, who said the city and unions had taken on a serious liability in shutting down the treatment plants.

The Regional Water Quality Control Board's injunction orders an end to picketing of city treatment plants, which presumably will be operated by supervisory personnel.

Women's Issues Panel Is Approved

A new county commission to deal with issues of concern to women was approved yesterday on a unanimous vote by Marin County supervisors.

The new "commission on the status of women" is the fifth such county agency in California and the ninth in the United States, according to members of an ad hoc committee requesting the action.

While agreeing to form the 11-member commission, supervisors deferred action on a request for staffing, office and supplies until June budget hearings.

Creation of the new commission drew support from many women's groups in Marin, including the American Association of University Women, Soroptomist Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, National Women's Political Caucus, National Organization of Women, Legal Secretaries Association and Insurance Women of Marin.

A spokesman said the commission needs staff to conduct "indepth research for meaningful input to the board."

Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini, while supporting the new commission, said he opposed the idea that only women could serve. "This is automatic exclusion and it seems to me we've had enough of that in this country."

Several women in the large audience responded that "only women can understand women's problems."

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino said later the proposed ordinance excluding men "is probably unconstitutional."

Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere drew groans from the audience when he suggested the commission look for outside funds to support its programs and activities as opposed to relying on taxpayers.

The proposed ordinance says the commission will study and investigate sex discrimination and prejudice, act as an information center and recommend programs and policies to the board of supervisors.

Each supervisor will appoint two commissioners and those commissioners will jointly select an 11th member.

One Blood Donor Is Happy To Give

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — Galen Knox, Medford public accountant, had donated 10 gallons of blood to the Red Cross in the past 23 years.

"They needed it and I gave it," he said of the 182 pints he has donated since 1951. "It makes me feel good that I am helping somebody."

Weed Gives His Views On Kidnap

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The fiance of Patricia Hearst admitted yesterday that there have been family disagreements on how to meet the ransom demands of the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA), which kidnaped the 20-year-old heiress Feb. 4.

There have been just "too many opinions," on what to do, he said, adding that the various propositions came both from inside and outside the family and that this was "stultifying the situation."

Asked whether he would be a substitute hostage, he said: "It all depends on the circumstances. I wouldn't rule it out."

Steven Weed's appearance on educational television station KQED and at a news conference came after Miss Hearst complained in a tape-recorded message that he had not been heard from since just after the abduction. The two men and a woman who broke into Miss Hearst's apartment that night beat him but left him behind.

"I don't have a particle of disagreement with the way she is handling herself ... I'm very impressed," Weed, 26, a University of California graduate student, told KQED.

He added, "I want to say to her (Patty) we certainly haven't forgotten about her and I can see why she might be somewhat irritated. But I think she and everybody should realize that we're been under a lot of tension."

In another development, attorneys for two accused SLA assassins were to go into court today to try to get permission for the suspects to deliver a message to the kidnapers on nationwide television.

Joseph Remiro, 27, and Russell Little, 26, were accused of killing Oakland School Superintendent Marcus A. Foster Nov. 6. They were also charged with assaulting police in Concord.

They said they had a proposal which could lead to Miss Hearst's release, but they would not reveal the details unless given television time.

William Gagin, a defense lawyer, said the gist of the message would be: "The SLA should proceed to release Patty Hearst and not be concerned about the defendants because they feel, through the judicial process, they will be fairly treated."

Gagin said he had met with some resistance on the television appearance from Alameda County District Attorney Lowell Jensen and Sheriff Frank Madigan.

The ABC and NBC networks said they might cover such an appearance, but a CBS spokesman said only that the network had heard nothing official about it.

Computer Runs Bridge Traffic

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A mini-computer took charge of west-bound commute traffic on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge yesterday and did a good job of keeping things running smoothly.

Some 21,000 cars, buses and trucks rolled across the bridge between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m. and the computer kept the flow at exactly bridge capacity through a series of stoplights at a point where 15 lanes narrow to five.

Bridge officials said that the new system will shorten the average trip by a minute or two but will be especially helpful in preventing occasional massive traffic snarls.

Patties Better With Brown Rice

Rice patties are easy to make and they take on a new dimension when made with brown rice.

Brown rice is actually regular milled white rice with only the outer hull removed. A light tan colored bran layer remains on the grains . . . giving them special characteristics.

Brown rice contains more vitamins and minerals than milled rice. It's a "natural" food, since there are no additives.

To keep the vitamins in brown rice you should follow cooking directions carefully using the exact amount of water, so no liquids are drained off at the end of the cooking time (about 45 to 50 minutes). You don't rinse brown rice, either, before or after cooking, thereby making sure that no nutrients are poured down the drain.

BROWN RICE PATTIES

3 cups cooked brown rice
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
1 cup grated carrots
½ cup finely chopped onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup whole wheat flour
¼ cup vegetable oil

Combine all ingredients except oil. Form into 12 patties, pressing firmly with hands. Fry in heated oil until brown, turning once. Makes 12 patties.

BROWN RICE PATTIES with grated carrots and onions are a nutritious accompaniment to roast chicken or meats.

Special Diets For Arthritis Sufferers Hit

There are no special foods or dietary supplements which will help the arthritis sufferer, write Dr. Sheldon Paul Blau and Dodi Schultz, in their new book, "Arthritis."

And that includes vitamin E, "widely promoted over the last several years as having stupendous powers. . . not excluding the relief of such chronic conditions as arthritis," says Dr. Blau and Mrs. Schultz.

"The one thing with which the arthritic patient might properly be concerned is overweight," they point out. Extra weight can put additional strain on already stressed joints of hips, knees, back or ankles.

Several Fondue Varieties Will Be Offered At Party

A fondue party will be presented by the American Home Section of the San Rafael Improvement Club at the clubhouse on Tuesday, with several varieties of fondue offered.

Home economist Virginia Shattuck, chairman of the party, has been busy in her kitchen experimenting with the fondue pot dips for the 1:30 p.m. event.

She has offered three of the recipes to readers, including a Swiss cheese fondue and two dessert fondues.

SWISS FONDUE

1 glove garlic
2 cups light dry white wine
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1 tbsp. cornstarch
3 tbsp. kirsch or brandy (not sweet)
Freshly ground pepper to taste
Freshly ground nutmeg to taste

Rub fondue pot with garlic halves. Add wine and heat slowly until bubbles rise to the surface. Add lemon juice. Combine cheese and cornstarch. (These may be tossed together in a paper bag.) Add cheese, one-third at a time, but be careful not to overheat or cheese will separate. Stir in kirsch, nutmeg and pepper. Makes 12-16 appetizer servings.

Cheese fondue can be used at the table or made in the kitchen and transferred later to the fondue pot and kept hot over denatured alcohol or in a heat controlled electric pot. A candle warmer does not provide enough heat.

Serve with one-inch French-bread cubes —each cube should have some crust. To eat, each person spears a bread cube with a fondue fork and swirls it in the cheese.

If the mixture should separate, add one tablespoon cornstarch and a bit of lemon juice to a little warm wine and add to the pot. Turn up the heat for a minute and stir vigorously.

Note: Only imported cheese will melt properly. It must be Swiss, natural and well aged cheese.

PRALINE FONDUE

½ cup superfine sugar
¾ cup toasted almonds
2 cups cream
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
½ tsp. vanilla

Melt sugar in small saucepan over medium heat. Watch it carefully so it won't burn. Add almonds and quickly pour into a greased cake pan to cool. Grind very finely —the blender makes this easy. Combine cream and cornstarch and cook until thick. Stir in praline and vanilla.

Keep warm in fondue pot and serve with squares of angel, sponge or pound cake and fresh fruit bites such as bananas, pineapple, strawberries, apples and grapes. To keep such fruits as apples and bananas from darkening on exposure to the air, use a little antioxidant (judiciously because of tartness). Fondue forks or bamboo skewers may be used for spearing cake and fruit.

CHOCOLATE FONDUE

6 oz. (or 1 pkg. chips) milk chocolate
6 oz. (or 1 pkg. chips) semi-sweet chocolate
*3 Tbsp. liqueur or wine
½ cup vanilla ice cream

Combine chocolate, liqueur and ice cream in top of double boiler. Bring small amount of water to a boil in the bottom pan; turn off heat and melt chocolate mixture over hot water, stirring constantly. At serving time, transfer to fondue pot and keep warm over very low heat. Serve with cubes of sponge cake or fruit such as bananas, apples, pineapple, cut in bite-size pieces, and strawberries.

Asparagus In Market Tipoff It's Soup Time

Bunches of fresh asparagus in the market are always a signal for rejoicing for all lovers of this very special vegetable. Serve it often while it is in season. Before cooking, wash in cold water to remove any sand that may be clinging to the stalks or hidden under the scales. Then cook just until tender, 10 to 15 minutes, preferably in a covered tall pot with about 2 inches of salted water. Dress it with Hollandaise or Cheese Sauce — or make Cream of Asparagus Soup. Making your soup from the fresh vegetable is very simple and it will have real gourmet flavor. Thicken it delicately with Argo corn starch and add just enough nutmeg for seasoning.

CREAM OF ASPARAGUS SOUP

2 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
½ cup asparagus broth
1⅓ cups cooked, chopped asparagus
⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg

Melt margarine in 2-quart heavy saucepan. Add corn starch, salt and pepper and mix well. Remove from heat, gradually add milk and ½ cup of the broth left from cooking asparagus, mixing until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Stir in asparagus and nutmeg. Makes about one quart.

An Heroic Sandwich

Here's a sandwich idea elevated to heroic proportions. Layers of lettuce, egg slices and sardines are stashed in a family-sized loaf and spiked with lemon dressing — just cut off servings sized to the eaters.

VIKING LEMON EGG SANDWICH

1 medium lemon
¼ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Pinch of cayenne pepper
Salt and pepper
Small loaf of bread, unsliced
¼ cup mayonnaise
Lettuce
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
2 green onions, chopped
1 can (3¾ ounces) Norway sardines, drained

Boil whole lemon in salty water until tender, about 15 minutes. Cool. Cut in half, pull out pulp and white pith and discard. Mince lemon peel; add oil, vinegar, dry mustard, cayenne, salt and pepper. Slice bread in half lengthwise; spread with mayonnaise. Top lower half with lettuce, eggs and onions. Top with sardines; pour lemon dressing over all. Cover with top half of bread; slice into sandwiches. Makes 4 servings.

A New Twist To Liver, Onions

LIVER AND ONION FROMAGE

3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablesppons cooking fat
¼ cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons thinly sliced green onions

Mix together flour, salt, garlic salt and pepper; lightly dredge liver in seasoned flour and brown on both sides in cooking fat. Sprinkle grated cheese and onion over liver, turning off heat and cover. When cheese is slightly melted, remove liver to hot platter and serve immediately.

Irish Coffee To Be Served At Art Auction Saturday

White sugar is wrong for Irish coffee, according to Marni Myles of San Rafael, who has undertaken the task of making the Irish coffee for the Terra Linda Art Association's Irish coffee art auction Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

The best Irish coffee is made with demarara sugar, a by-product of the demarara process of making rum, according to Mrs. Myles.

The sugar, which is available in stores in her native Canada, is illegal in the United States, she discovered after calling a sugar company in San Francisco. Coarse brown sugar will be used as a substitute at the party, because it is higher in sucrose and absorbs quicker into the coffee.

The tastiest coffee is made with real whipped cream, Mrs. Myles said, and if it is made in an urn in large quantities she emphasized the directions for making coffee on the urn should not be followed.

"That coffee would turn your tongue black," she said. "Measure according to your taste for each cup. It doesn't take that long."

Although she will be making Irish coffee for 1,000 her recipe can be followed for a small group.

IRISH COFFEE

Jigger of Irish whiskey
Coarse brown sugar (1 to 2 teaspoons according to taste)
1 cup coffee
Whipped cream

A Crunchy Cake With Granola

For natural foods fans, this bread-like coffee cake is made with wholewheat flour. The granola topping is crunchy with slivered almonds. Serve with bacon or cheese and fresh fruit for a highly nutritious breakfast or brunch.

GRANOLA COFFEE CAKE

1⅔ cup whole wheat flour
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1⅓ cups milk
¼ cup vegetable oil
Granola Topping (recipe below)

Mix flour, sugar, baking powder and salt in bowl. Beat egg with milk and oil in another bowl, then mix into flour mixture, stirring just until blended. Pour into oiled 8-inch square pan and sprinkle Granola Topping over. Baek at 375 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until a pick inserted into center comes out dry. Serve warm.

Granola topping: This may be prepared the night before; if so, refrigerate overnight. Mix ¼ cup whole wheat flour with ½ cup brown sugar (packed), ½ cup granola, ½ cup slivered almonds and ¼ cup melted margarine. Add cut up prunes or raisins if you wish.

Wheat Pilaf Helps Make Good Meal

Pilaf made with bulgar (or cracked) wheat is a nutritious accompaniment to vegetables and a meat course.

BULGAR PILAF

1 cup cracked wheat
½ cup vermicelli
½ cube butter
2 cups chicken or meat broth, boiling
Salt to taste

Melt butter in a shallow pan. Break up the vermicelli into small pieces and fry in butter until slightly browned, stirring constantly.

When water is absorbed and wheat is soft, remove from burner and let cool for five minutes. Stir a few times with a fork and serve.

Serves four.

Make Your Own Peanut Butter

With a blender you can make peanut butter at home.

PEANUT BUTTER

1 cup freshly roasted or salted peanuts
3 tablespoons peanut oil
½ teaspoon salt, if nuts are unsalted

Put peanuts in blender and add 1½ tablespoons peanut oil. Blend until smooth, gradually adding another 1½ tablespoons of oil or enough to achieve desired consistency. Add salt if necessary. Makes about one cup.

Main Course Soup Saves Energy

If the thermostat's down to conserve energy, winter evenings are probably nippy. Why shouldn't the cook conserve energy too, and serve hot, hearty soup as a main course?

Spoon-up turkey chowder is made with white sauce, onion, parsley, tender peas and carrots and economical fresh-ground turkey. A can of shrimp adds extra oomph to this chowder. Serve with hot squares of cornbread, fresh from the oven.

Ground turkey is nutritiously high in protein and one of the most economical meat buys. It's a relatively new product, rapidly increasing in popularity because of its tempting flavor, versatility, and budget cost.

TURKEY CHOWDER

1 pound fresh ground turkey
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ cup milk
8 cups turkey or chicken broth
2 tablespoons chopped parsley (optional)
6 medium-sized carrots, pared and sliced
2 cups frozen peas
6 tablespoons butter
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons lemon juice, freshly squeezed
1 7¼-ounce can deveined shrimp

Combine first seven ingredients together in a bowl. Shape into 36 small balls. Bring broth to a boil; add meatballs, cover and poach 10 minutes. Remove from broth and set aside. In remaining broth, cook carrots 20 minutes and peas 5 minutes. Set aside. In a separate large saucepan, melt butter; stir in flour. Mix well. Add broth, cook until bubbly, about 2 minutes. Add lemon juice, carrots, peas, meatballs and shrimp. Garnish with chopped parsley, if desired.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Makes Good Snacks

Beef loaf makes satisfying sandwiches and snacks. Next time double your beef loaf recipe and make twin loaves, one to serve hot, the other to have on hand for cold snacks. It slices neatly for sandwiches or the appetizer tray. For hors d'oeuvres, cut beef loaf into cubes and serve on picks with cherry tomatoes, pickles or whatever. An excellent munching idea for dieters too.

Irish Coffee To Be Served At Art Auction Saturday

White sugar is wrong for Irish coffee, according to Marni Myles of San Rafael, who has undertaken the task of making the Irish coffee for the Terra Linda Art Association's Irish coffee art auction Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

The best Irish coffee is made with demarara sugar, a by-product of the demarara process of making rum, according to Mrs. Myles.

The sugar, which is available in stores in her native Canada, is illegal in the United States, she discovered after calling a sugar company in San Francisco. Coarse brown sugar will be used as a substitute at the party, because it is higher in sucrose and absorbs quicker into the coffee.

The tastiest coffee is made with real whipped cream, Mrs. Myles said, and if it is made in an urn in large quantities she emphasized the directions for making coffee on the urn should not be followed.

"That coffee would turn your tongue black," she said. "Measure according to your taste for each cup. It doesn't take that long."

IRISH COFFEE

Jigger of Irish whiskey
Coarse brown sugar (1 to 2 teaspoons according to taste)
1 cup coffee
Whipped cream

A Crunchy Cake With Granola

For natural foods fans, this bread-like coffee cake is made with wholewheat flour. The granola topping is crunchy with slivered almonds. Serve with bacon or cheese and fresh fruit for a highly nutritious breakfast or brunch.

GRANOLA COFFEE CAKE

1⅔ cup whole wheat flour
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1⅓ cups milk
¼ cup vegetable oil
Granola Topping (recipe below)

Mix flour, sugar, baking powder and salt in bowl. Beat egg with milk and oil in another bowl, then mix into flour mixture, stirring just until blended. Pour into oiled 8-inch square pan and sprinkle Granola Topping over. Baek at 375 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until a pick inserted into center comes out dry. Serve warm.

Granola topping: This may be prepared the night before; if so, refrigerate overnight. Mix ¼ cup whole wheat flour with ½ cup brown sugar (packed), ½ cup granola, ½ cup slivered almonds and ¼ cup melted margarine. Add cut up prunes or raisins if you wish.

Makes nine servings.

Wheat Pilaf Helps Make Good Meal

Pilaf made with bulgar (or cracked) wheat is a nutritious accompaniment to vegetables and a meat course.

BULGAR PILAF

1 cup cracked wheat
½ cup vermicelli
½ cube butter
2 cups chicken or meat broth, boiling
Salt to taste

Melt butter in a shallow pan. Break up the vermicelli into small pieces and fry in butter until slightly browned, stirring constantly.

When water is absorbed and wheat is soft, remove from burner and let cool for five minutes. Stir a few times with a fork and serve.

Serves four.

Make Your Own Peanut Butter

With a blender you can make peanut butter at home.

PEANUT BUTTER

1 cup freshly roasted or salted peanuts
3 tablespoons peanut oil
½ teaspoon salt, if nuts are unsalted

Put peanuts in blender and add 1½ tablespoons peanut oil. Blend until smooth, gradually adding another 1½ tablespoons of oil or enough to achieve desired consistency. Add salt if necessary. Makes about one cup.

Main Course Soup Saves Energy

If the thermostat's down to conserve energy, winter evenings are probably nippy. Why shouldn't the cook conserve energy too, and serve hot, hearty soup as a main course?

Spoon-up turkey chowder is made with white sauce, onion, parsley, tender peas and carrots and economical fresh-ground turkey. A can of shrimp adds extra oomph to this chowder. Serve with hot squares of cornbread, fresh from the oven.

Ground turkey is nutritiously high in protein and one of the most economical meat buys. It's a relatively new product, rapidly increasing in popularity because of its tempting flavor, versatility, and budget cost.

TURKEY CHOWDER

1 pound fresh ground turkey
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ cup milk
8 cups turkey or chicken broth
2 tablespoons chopped parsley (optional)
6 medium-sized carrots, pared and sliced
2 cups frozen peas
6 tablespoons butter
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons lemon juice, freshly squeezed
1 7¼-ounce can deveined shrimp

Combine first seven ingredients together in a bowl. Shape into 36 small balls. Bring broth to a boil; add meatballs, cover and poach 10 minutes. Remove from broth and set aside. In remaining broth, cook carrots 20 minutes and peas 5 minutes. Set aside. In a separate large saucepan, melt butter; stir in flour. Mix well. Add broth, cook until bubbly, about 2 minutes. Add lemon juice, carrots, peas, meatballs and shrimp. Garnish with chopped parsley, if desired.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Makes Good Snacks

Beef loaf makes satisfying sandwiches and snacks. Next time double your beef loaf recipe and make twin loaves, one to serve hot, the other to have on hand for cold snacks. It slices neatly for sandwiches or the appetizer tray. For hors d'oeuvres, cut beef loaf into cubes and serve on picks with cherry tomatoes, pickles or whatever. An excellent munching idea for dieters too.

For Light Meals

Beef is easy to use for light meals and snacks that are nutritious as well as quick and tasty. For sandwiches, use either already cooked beef such as sliced roast, corned beef or meat loaf, or use quick to cook cuts such as ground beef, breakfast steaks or cube steaks. Beef jerky is another nutrition packed snack idea, great for lunch boxes and after school nibbles.

EASTER SEAL SOCIETY PROGRAM

World Made Little Brighter

"You plan at 65 that everything's going to be beautiful — retirement, travel, time to relax after working hard all your life. And then . . . "

Mrs. Emil Reali of San Rafael gestured at the wheelchair where her husband sat paralyzed, the victim of a stroke four years ago at age 66.

Like hundreds of Marin families every year, the Realis have undergone the emotional, financial, social and medical changes that strokes can impose.

They sought the help of Marin's Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and Emil Reali attends weekly speech therapy sessions at the Easter Seals office, 1601 Second Street, San Rafael.

Every Tuesday morning he and his wife, Helen, attend the group communications meetings for patients and their families, tackling the problem of what to do when stroke or other neurological disorders cause the loss of intelligible speech.

TWENTY-FOUR people sit informally near the fire in the Fireside Room of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. A small boy sings, "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning" and 24 voices join in: some halting, some inaudible, some loud and monotonous. The woman who leads the group smiles encouragement, listens carefully to one after another. "Good, George," she says. "Andy, that's beautiful."

She is Frances Lichtenberg of Tiburon, speech therapist for the Marin Easter Seal Society, who conducts the weekly therapy session for patients and their families.

"I have seen the victims of many illnesses," Mrs. Lichtenberg said. "There is nothing so devastating to the patients as this —the complete cutoff of communication with the world around them."

"The hardest part," says Mrs. Harold Zink of San Quentin, is seeing this man, who was always so active, so cheerful, so fond of people, sitting all day alone in his wheelchair. He gets so depressed. He worries that he's a burden. He doesn't want his friends to see him like this.

Harold Zink is suffering from one form of language loss — dysarthria. His intelligence is intact, but his muscle control is such that he often cannot produce intelligible speech.

"I keep trying to encourage him," said his wife, Ann Zink. "I tell him it's happened, now he has to look forward.

"The only place he gets any strength — the only place where he's not treated as an invalid but as a human being — is here, at Easter Seals. He's part of a group. He doesn't feel so alone."

The little group at the Presbyterian church also does exercises. Mrs. Zink helps her husband from his wheelchair, clasps his waist, as he follows Mrs. Lichtenberg's commands. "Stamp your feet. Left, right. George, that's wonderful. You couldn't do that last week. Good, Naomi, good!"

Damage from stroke takes many forms. For those with speech loss, the Easter Seal Society offers individual and group therapy by appointment at the San Rafael office, and two weekly sessions of group communications therapy at the San Anselmo church and at the Redwoods retirement home in Mill Valley.

"This is our social life now," says Mrs. Reali. "Speech therapy every Thursday. These meetings every Tuesday. Without Easter Seals, I don't know what we would have done."

George McDevitt of Corte Madera, 74, is at the blackboard. Mrs. Lichtenberg has asked him to draw an Indian.It's a detailed sketch of a figure with a bonnet of feathers and decorated headband.

"Look. He can do that," said his wife. "So we know he understands everything that's being said. But he can't say a single word in return.

"He speaks, but it's not in words. He wants so badly to communicate. He thinks people are understanding and they're not. So they ask me what he's saying, and I say, 'you know just as well as I do.' You must try to understand it yourself."

The patients then break into groups. At one table they write and attempt to pronounce a list of household objects. At another they play a game of store, with coins to buy articles whose names they have written on paper.

Four women, the wives of patients, gather in the kitchen and their words come tumbling out. One tells of her husband's temper tantrum this week. Another describes her husband's insistence that she never leave his side. All four laugh at the difficulties of their situations.

"We're so grateful to be together," said Magdalen McDevitt. "If I didn't know that someone else was going through this, I'd never have the strength. By sharing, we learn to cope."

The women have a message: speechless stroke victims want to be treated like intelligent human beings.

Speak to them. Don't talk as though they're not even there. Listen to them. Try every possible way to understand them, they advise.

"My husband will search for people's eyes," says Mrs. Reali. "He wants so badly to have someone speak to him. He wants to answer, even if it's in gibberish. He needs to talk. He has so much to unload."

Another woman described her family.

"His sons are so distressed to see their dad this way, they don't even try to speak to him. I plead with them, 'Remember, he's still the same person. He's your dad.' "

Mrs. Lichtenberg said that her therapy is designed to reopen pathways of speech that have been damaged in the brain.

"We use every modality to help these people relearn words — by listening, writing, touching, repeating. Some patients know the word instantly but can't say it. Others need time to search out the word — it's in their memory but they can't find it," she explained.

"We use every bit of knowledge and ingenuity to help them succeed. We encourage them to the limit. Error can be painful. If conversation is painful, you're going to avoid it. Conversely, any communication that's not painful is encouraging."

"Andy's making great progress," said Marianna Castagnola of her husband. "A year ago he couldn't walk or talk. Now with the help of physical therapy he's walking with a brace. With the help of Easter Seals he's beginning to talk. He's made marvelous improvement."

Andrew Castagnola, owner of a restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, is one of the luckier stroke victims. He began therapy immediately, and he sees results. His wife expects his recovery to be total.

Mrs. Reali is not so hopeful.

"But we are making progress," she said. "Emil's comprehension is getting better. And coming here to Easter Seals, at least we know we're not accepting defeat. Something is being done."

ON THE AGENDA

New Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary Members To Be Feted On Saturday

New members of the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary will be honored Saturday at a cocktail party from 6 to 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carlo Fowler in Kentfield.

Being honored are Mmes. Howard B. Kronenberg and Lance Sontag of San Anselmo, Jerry M. Ackeret of Fairfax and Laurence B. Larsen of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Fowler is chairman of the party and will be assisted by Mmes. David Faraday of Ross and Herbert West of Kentfield.

MRS. RICHARD of San Rafael has been named chairman of the Terra Linda Art Association's 11th annual public Irish Coffe and Art Auction, which will be held Saturday from 7 to 11 p.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Committee chairmen are Mmes. J. G. Montgomery and Melvin Bachrach, both of San Rafael, art donations; Frank Myles of San Rafael, refreshments; James Blumberg of San Anselmo, staffing; Neal McNamara of San Rafael, transportation; Stephen Hastings of Corte Madera, tickets; Messrs. and Mmes. Tony Williams of San Rafael and Robert Fuller of Sonoma, art display; and Mmes. William Fitzgerald of San Rafael, publicity, and Lyman Frick and Mary Engstrom of San Rafael, auction aides. P. A. Walters of San Rafael and Victor DeBeck of San Anselmo are in charge of logistics.

Mrs. Thomas Ayers of San Rafael arranged the preview display of art to be auctioned, which may be seen through Friday at the Terra Linda Art Association Gallery, 4127 Redwood Highway in San Rafael.

A POT LUCK dinner for all parishoners at St. Anselm's Catholic Church will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. in the parish hall of the church in San Anselmo.

"WEARIN' OF the Green" will be the theme for the Villa Real Homeowners Association dinner dance Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Elks Club in San Rafael.

Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Toole of San Rafael. Committee members are Messrs. and Mmes. Adolph Capurro, Carroll Walker, Jack Hadley, Charles Willis, Charles Spongberg and Mrs. Patricia Crocker.

THE TAMALPAIS Mothers Club for Tamalpais Assembly 191, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will have a salad luncheon and fashion show Saturday at noon at the Masonic Temple in Larkpsur.

Mrs. Howard Stahl of Corte Madera is reservations chairman.

THE GERONTOLOGY Group of the Novato Federated Women's Club will meet tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Canyon Manor Convalescent Hospital.

Members will serve cookies and refreshments to the patients, according to the chairman Mrs. Edgar Garland.

Flea Market, Garage Sale On March 29

A flea market and garage sale will be held by the Marin Jewish Community Center on the center grounds, 200 north San Pedro Road, San Rafael, on March 24.

Antiques and utilitarian articles, both used and new, will be offered for sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the sale.

EASTER SEAL SOCIETY PROGRAM

World Made Little Brighter

"You plan at 65 that everything's going to be beautiful — retirement, travel, time to relax after working hard all your life. And then . . . "

Mrs. Emil Reali of San Rafael gestured at the wheelchair where her husband sat paralyzed, the victim of a stroke four years ago at age 66.

Like hundreds of Marin families every year, the Realis have undergone the emotional, financial, social and medical changes that strokes can impose.

They sought the help of Marin's Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and Emil Reali attends weekly speech therapy sessions at the Easter Seals office, 1601 Second Street, San Rafael.

Every Tuesday morning he and his wife, Helen, attend the group communications meetings for patients and their families, tackling the problem of what to do when stroke or other neurological disorders cause the loss of intelligible speech.

TWENTY-FOUR people sit informally near the fire in the Fireside Room of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. A small boy sings, "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning" and 24 voices join in: some halting, some inaudible, some loud and monotonous. The woman who leads the group smiles encouragement, listens carefully to one after another. "Good, George," she says. "Andy, that's beautiful."

She is Frances Lichtenberg of Tiburon, speech therapist for the Marin Easter Seal Society, who conducts the weekly therapy session for patients and their families.

"I have seen the victims of many illnesses," Mrs. Lichtenberg said. "There is nothing so devastating to the patients as this —the complete cutoff of communication with the world around them."

"The hardest part," says Mrs. Harold Zink of San Quentin, is seeing this man, who was always so active, so cheerful, so fond of people, sitting all day alone in his wheelchair. He gets so depressed. He worries that he's a burden. He doesn't want his friends to see him like this.

Harold Zink is suffering from one form of language loss — dysarthria. His intelligence is intact, but his muscle control is such that he often cannot produce intelligible speech.

"I keep trying to encourage him," said his wife, Ann Zink. "I tell him it's happened, now he has to look forward.

"The only place he gets any strength — the only place where he's not treated as an invalid but as a human being — is here, at Easter Seals. He's part of a group. He doesn't feel so alone."

The little group at the Presbyterian church also does exercises. Mrs. Zink helps her husband from his wheelchair, clasps his waist, as he follows Mrs. Lichtenberg's commands. "Stamp your feet. Left, right. George, that's wonderful. You couldn't do that last week. Good. Naomi, good!"

Damage from stroke takes many forms. For those with speech loss, the Easter Seal Society offers individual and group therapy by appointment at the San Rafael office, and two weekly sessions of group communications therapy at the San Anselmo church and at the Redwoods retirement home in Mill Valley.

"This is our social life now," says Mrs. Reali. "Speech therapy every Thursday. These meetings every Tuesday. Without Easter Seals, I don't know what we would have done."

George McDevitt of Corte Madera, 74, is at the blackboard. Mrs. Lichtenberg has asked him to draw an Indian.It's a detailed sketch of a figure with a bonnet of feathers and decorated headband.

"Look. He can do that," said his wife. "So we know he understands everything that's being said. But he can't say a single word in return.

"He speaks, but it's not in words. He wants so badly to communicate. He thinks people are understanding and they're not. So they ask me what he's saying, and I say, 'you know just as well as I do.' You must try to understand it yourself."

The patients then break into groups. At one table they write and attempt to pronounce a list of household objects. At another they play a game of store, with coins to buy articles whose names they have written on paper.

Four women, the wives of patients, gather in the kitchen and their words come tumbling out. One tells of her husband's temper tantrum this week. Another describes her husband's insistence that she never leave his side. All four laugh at the difficulties of their situations.

"We're so grateful to be together," said Magdalen McDevitt. "If I didn't know that someone else was going through this, I'd never have the strength. By sharing, we learn to cope."

The women have a message: speechless stroke victims want to be treated like intelligent human beings.

Speak to them. Don't talk as though they're not even there. Listen to them. Try every possible way to understand them, they advise.

"My husband will search for people's eyes," says Mrs. Reali. "He wants so badly to have someone speak to him. He wants to answer, even if it's in gibberish. He needs to talk. He has so much to unload."

Another woman described her family.

"His sons are so distressed to see their dad this way, they don't even try to speak to him. I plead with them, 'Remember, he's still the same person. He's your dad.' "

Mrs. Lichtenberg said that her therapy is designed to reopen pathways of speech that have been damaged in the brain.

"We use every modality to help these people relearn words — by listening, writing, touching, repeating. Some patients know the word instantly but can't say it. Others need time to search out the word — it's in their memory but they can't find it," she explained.

"We use every bit of knowledge and ingenuity to help them succeed. We encourage them to the limit. Error can be painful. If conversation is painful, you're going to avoid it. Conversely, any communication that's not painful is encouraging."

"Andy's making great progress," said Marianna Castagnola of her husband. "A year ago he couldn't walk or talk. Now with the help of physical therapy he's walking with a brace. With the help of Easter Seals he's beginning to talk. He's made marvelous improvement."

Andrew Castagnola, owner of a restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, is one of the luckier stroke victims. He began therapy immediately, and he sees results. His wife expects his recovery to be total.

Mrs. Reali is not so hopeful.

"But we are making progress," she said. "Emil's comprehension is getting better. And coming here to Easter Seals, at least we know we're not accepting defeat. Something is being done."

Just Smile And Tack This Column To Refrigerator Door—They'll Learn

DEAR HELEN:

I'm chuckling as I write this. For more years than I can remember, my children, now my grandchildren too, have been joshing me about my "saving streak." They didn't have to raise a family during the big Depression, as I did. Those hard times never really were erased from my mind, even though we're quite well off now. I still save used wrapping paper and cringe when I see leftover food thrown away — I'm a whiz at casseroles-from-scraps. And I'm an avid bargain hunter — if I can manage it without using much gas. Creating something from nothing pleases me.

Now . . . would you believe. The children are coming to me for tips on how to save money and materials. Conservation and the paper shortage have made them realize my "recycling" (I even cut up junk-mail brochures for household note paper) is smart. And when grandma can tell them how to save 20 per cent on their grocery bills, she isn't "stingy" anymore.

How do I keep from crowing, "I told you so?" — GRANDMA SAVE-IT

DEAR GRANDMA: When you feel a crow coming on, smile instead. The kids know who's got the last laugh: They acknowledge it by asking your advice.

But you might tape this column to your refrigerator. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our newspaper has cut down on comics and feature stories. Even Helen Help Us disappeared for a week, but it came back. The editor says the paper shortage is acute, and the price is out of sight for newsprint.

My question is: Why don't they recycle more waste paper? This couldn't be as expensive as making paper from trees —which are getting scarcer every year.

I'd gladly separate my paper throwaways for pick-up, but I can't even get anyone to take my old newspapers.

When will this country really learn? — FOR A FULL-SIZED NEWSPAPER

DEAR FFSN:

(So Am I.)

Presently only 20 per cent of the paper used in this country comes from recycling plants. The rest is made of wood pulp —and trees can't grow fast enough to replace the millions cut for this purpose.

"Doubling our current use of recycled paper could represent an energy saving of 32.5 billion barrels of oil a year," says experts in the field.

Presently tax discrimination and certain laws work against massive recycling efforts, but Congress may act to change these in 1974. If you'd (hopefully) speed things up, write your congressman.

And if you'd like information on what your state, community or organization can do, write to the National Association of Recycling Industries (NARI), 330 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y., 10017. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm one of millions who go on record as saying this winter daylight savings time saves nothing and infuriates — not to speak of endangers — many, especially the school children who walk in the dark —OVERSLEEPER

DEAR OVERSLEEPER:

What do you bet this little experiment isn't resumed next winter? It wasn't the brightest move Congress ever made, says your up-before-dawn columnist. — H.

Volunteers' Training Set

A second training session for volunteers to assist a program to find Marin residents 65 or older, blind or disabled who may be eligible for benefits, is set for March 21.

The session will be held at 9:30 a.m. at the Marin Red Cross Chapter house, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Those who wish to volunteer for the program, SSI Alert, may contact project director James P. Layton at the Red Cross Chapter house. The program will be conducted by the Marin Red Cross in cooperation with the local Social Security Administration office.

Talents Pooled For Carmel Valley Project

Three years ago, when Donna Dodson and Sue Haerle met, they knew their combined talents and backgrounds would lead to a working team. The friendship has led to an unusual undertaking — combining public relations with interior decorating.

Both of the San Rafael women had secretarial and advertising experience, but Mrs. Dodson's speciality was artistic, while Mrs. Haerle's was working with people.

As volunteers they took on projects for the Marin Shakespeare Festival, the Marin Civic Ballet Association and the Volunteer Bureau of Marin. They organized fund raisers and building dedications, Mrs. Haerle getting the people together, Mrs. Dodson handling the graphics.

Professionally Mrs. Haerle was working in the public relations field and Mrs. Dodson was in the interior decorating field.

"I wanted to take a different approach to public relations. At first I called it internal communications," Mrs. Haerle said, "but I knew something was missing, and that was Donna's touch."

When Mrs. Haerle got the account for a woman's beauty and fitness resort in the Carmel Valley she learned the resort, to open in the spring, was having a decorating problem.

She suggested Mrs. Dodson to the owners of the spa, proposing that they coordinate public relations and interior decorating.

"Inter-relating the project we are able to express an image and create one unified mood," Mrs. Dodson said.

Among the joint projects have been the history of the Carmel Valley, which is reflected both in the decorating and the advertising of the spa.

"The atmosphere begins with the feel of the paper, which will be the woman's first contact with the resort," Mrs. Dodson said.

"The rooms will define the nice qualities of woman — from lively to serene," Mrs. Haerle said. "Together we are working to establish an atmosphere where a woman spending a week will feel she is getting tender, loving care. We are selling and designing an atmosphere for active women who won't have to make a decision the entire week."

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Dodson has lived in Marin for seven years. She is a graduate of Iowa State University and has worked for advertising firms in New Orleans and San Francisco. She also had a secretarial service in Marin.

Mrs. Haerle moved to Marin in 1960 from her native Connecticut.

MRS. RICHARD BOSS
Heads Kent Woodlands guild

Mrs. Boss Chosen To Lead Guild

Mrs. Richard C. Boss of Kentfield is the new president of the Kent Woodlands Guild of Sunny Hills. She has been a member of the guild for 12 years.

A 24-year resident of Marin, Elaine Boss is a native of Chicago. She and her husband, who is employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, are parents of James and Richard Boss Jr. and Mrs. John Regli.

Mrs. Boss is also a member of the Delta Yacht Club and the Fort Sutter Yacht Club. Her hobbies are sewing and boating in the Delta area.

Newlyweds Making Home In Santa Rosa

The couple was married March 2 in Santa Rosa.

First Name

Sisters Will Enter Air Race Again

Norma Draper of San Rafael and her sister, Helen McGee of Sonora, have entered in the 24th annual All Women's International Air Race.

They will take off April 25 from Acapulco, Mexico, with nine stops enroute to the finish, April 28, at Fort Lauderdale. The women will cover the 2,468.76 statute mile route in a 1968 Comanche 260 airplane.

Purpose of the race, which is sanctioned by the National Aeronautic Association, is to promote safety and proficiency in private flying, to acquaint the public with the usefulness of private airplanes and to further international good will and understanding between neighboring countries. For the first time the derby will cross over Mexico's central plateau to span the Continent and two countries.

Flying high to conserve energy and take advantage of favorable winds, the 50 pilots will be competing for an additional prize for the most efficient use of fuel. No after dark flying is permitted.

A member of the San Joaquin Valley Chapter of Ninety-Nines, international organization of women pilots, Mrs. Draper learned to fly in 1970 at Marin County Airport.

Each model of aircraft, ranging from 145 to 520 horsepower, will be assigned a handicap in miles per hour. The pilot exceeding the established handicap ground speed in miles per hour of her aircraft by the largest margin will be judged the winner.

The wife of real estate developer Jerome C. Draper Jr., Mrs. Draper is the mother of Ann, 24, Jerome C. III, 22, and Jessie Draper, 15.

A Single Parents Workshop Is Set

"Single Parents Without Custody" will be the topic of the workshop Thursday sponsored by Woman's Way, 412 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo, at 7:30 p.m.

Cheryl Polster and Ed Berey will lead a discussion of the feelings and problems involved in relinquishing a child or children, the importance of time spent with the child and how to deal with guilt or anger.

Workshop reservations may be made with Woman's Way. The single parents workshop is eighth in a series of weekly workshops presented by Woman's Way.

Cathy Stott's Engagement Is Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stott of Novato, formerly of Mill Valley, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cathy, to Gary John Gorham.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorham of Stockton.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. She is a senior at California State University, Chico, where she is majoring in mass communications. She will receive a bachelor of arts degree in June. She is employed part-time as a staff writer at the Chico Enterprise-Record.

Gary was graduated from Lodi High School in Lodi and will also graduate from California State University, Chico, in June. He is majoring in geography, with an emphasis on regional and community planning.

Agency Sets A Workshop In April

The Family Service Agency of Marin will hold a lifework planning workshop beginning April 3 at the agency offices, 1005 A Street, in San Rafael.

The weekly sessions will be held Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m., led by Phyllis Phelps, a trained social worker. She said that the workshop will be planned for persons who are about to enter the job market or seeking new vocational direction.

The group will be limited to 12 persons.

The workshop will continue through June 5. Enrollment may be made through the Family Service Agency of Marin, San Rafael.

CATHY STOTT
To be June bride

He is employed on a joint study between the university and the Butte County Public Works Department, revising the county's business methods.

Health Degree Program Formed

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Stephens College has affiliated with Johns Hopkins University in a new program for a health associate degree.

Students attending the undergraduate women's college in Missouri will spend the first two years of the program on the Stephens campus and the last two clinical years in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. The training, essentially, is that of physician's assistant.

Judges Are Announced For Contest

Judges have been announced for the District 3 Dairy Princess Contest to be held May 11 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Petaluma.

Jacqueline M. West, administrative secretary for the Redwood Empire Association in San Francisco, will be a judge again this year.

Also Roger M. Bowley, director of training for the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Berkeley, and Doris Levine, public relations officer and publicity manager of Crocker Bank for the state.

Deadline for entrants, who must be unmarried women between the ages of 17 and 25 and have a dairy farm or industry background, is April 22. The district includes Marin, Sonoma, Lake, Mendocino, Napa and Solano counties.

Entry forms are available from the Petaluma Area Chamber of Commerce in Petaluma or the Milk Advisory Board in Modesto, according to Mrs. William Owen of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce.

Easy To Build

Dish gardens for the home are relatively easy to construct, home economists say, and should be arranged to suggest a miniature landscape.

DEAR HELEN:

Our newspaper has cut down on comics and feature stories. Even Helen Help Us disappeared for a week, but it came back. The editor says the paper shortage is acute, and the price is out of sight for newsprint.

My question is: Why don't they recycle more waste paper? This couldn't be as expensive as making paper from trees —which are getting scarcer every year.

I'd gladly separate my paper throwaways for pick-up, but I can't even get anyone to take my old newspapers.

When will this country really learn? — FOR A FULL-SIZED NEWSPAPER

DEAR FFSN:

(So Am I.)

Presently only 20 per cent of the paper used in this country comes from recycling plants. The rest is made of wood pulp —and trees can't grow fast enough to replace the millions cut for this purpose.

"Doubling our current use of recycled paper could represent an energy saving of 32.5 billion barrels of oil a year," says experts in the field.

Presently tax discrimination and certain laws work against massive recycling efforts, but Congress may act to change these in 1974. If you'd (hopefully) speed things up, write your congressman.

And if you'd like information on what your state, community or organization can do, write to the National Association of Recycling Industries (NARI), 330 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y., 10017. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm one of millions who go on record as saying this winter daylight savings time saves nothing and infuriates — not to speak of endangers — many, especially the school children who walk in the dark —OVERSLEEPER

DEAR OVERSLEEPER:

What do you bet this little experiment isn't resumed next winter? It wasn't the brightest move Congress ever made, says your up-before-dawn columnist. — H.

Volunteers' Training Set

A second training session for volunteers to assist a program to find Marin residents 65 or older, blind or disabled who may be eligible for benefits, is set for March 21.

The session will be held at 9:30 a.m. at the Marin Red Cross Chapter house, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Those who wish to volunteer for the program, SSI Alert, may contact project director James P. Layton at the Red Cross Chapter house. The program will be conducted by the Marin Red Cross in cooperation with the local Social Security Administration office.

Talents Pooled For Carmel Valley Project

Three years ago, when Donna Dodson and Sue Haerle met, they knew their combined talents and backgrounds would lead to a working team. The friendship has led to an unusual undertaking — combining public relations with interior decorating.

Both of the San Rafael women had secretarial and advertising experience, but Mrs. Dodson's speciality was artistic, while Mrs. Haerle's was working with people.

As volunteers they took on projects for the Marin Shakespeare Festival, the Marin Civic Ballet Association and the Volunteer Bureau of Marin. They organized fund raisers and building dedications, Mrs. Haerle getting the people together, Mrs. Dodson handling the graphics.

Professionally Mrs. Haerle was working in the public relations field and Mrs. Dodson was in the interior decorating field.

"I wanted to take a different approach to public relations. At first I called it internal communications," Mrs. Haerle said, "but I knew something was missing, and that was Donna's touch."

When Mrs. Haerle got the account for a woman's beauty and fitness resort in the Carmel Valley she learned the resort, to open in the spring, was having a decorating problem.

She suggested Mrs. Dodson to the owners of the spa, proposing that they coordinate public relations and interior decorating.

"Inter-relating the project we are able to express an image and create one unified mood," Mrs. Dodson said.

Among the joint projects have been the history of the Carmel Valley, which is reflected both in the decorating and the advertising of the spa.

"The atmosphere begins with the feel of the paper, which will be the woman's first contact with the resort," Mrs. Dodson said.

"The rooms will define the nice qualities of woman — from lively to serene," Mrs. Haerle said. "Together we are working to establish an atmosphere where a woman spending a week will feel she is getting tender, loving care. We are selling and designing an atmosphere for active women who won't have to make a decision the entire week."

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Dodson has lived in Marin for seven years. She is a graduate of Iowa State University and has worked for advertising firms in New Orleans and San Francisco. She also had a secretarial service in Marin.

Mrs. Haerle moved to Marin in 1960 from her native Connecticut.

Heads Kent Woodlands guild

Mrs. Boss Chosen To Lead Guild

Mrs. Richard C. Boss of Kentfield is the new president of the Kent Woodlands Guild of Sunny Hills. She has been a member of the guild for 12 years.

A 24-year resident of Marin, Elaine Boss is a native of Chicago. She and her husband, who is employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, are parents of James and Richard Boss Jr. and Mrs. John Regli.

Mrs. Boss is also a member of the Delta Yacht Club and the Fort Sutter Yacht Club. Her hobbies are sewing and boating in the Delta area.

Newlyweds Making Home In Santa Rosa

The couple was married March 2 in Santa Rosa.

First Name

Sisters Will Enter Air Race Again

Norma Draper of San Rafael and her sister, Helen McGee of Sonora, have entered in the 24th annual All Women's International Air Race.

They will take off April 25 from Acapulco, Mexico, with nine stops enroute to the finish, April 28, at Fort Lauderdale. The women will cover the 2,468.76 statute mile route in a 1968 Comanche 260 airplane.

Purpose of the race, which is sanctioned by the National Aeronautic Association, is to promote safety and proficiency in private flying, to acquaint the public with the usefulness of private airplanes and to further international good will and understanding between neighboring countries. For the first time the derby will cross over Mexico's central plateau to span the Continent and two countries.

Flying high to conserve energy and take advantage of favorable winds, the 50 pilots will be competing for an additional prize for the most efficient use of fuel. No after dark flying is permitted.

A member of the San Joaquin Valley Chapter of Ninety-Nines, international organization of women pilots, Mrs. Draper learned to fly in 1970 at Marin County Airport.

Each model of aircraft, ranging from 145 to 520 horsepower, will be assigned a handicap in miles per hour. The pilot exceeding the established handicap ground speed in miles per hour of her aircraft by the largest margin will be judged the winner.

The wife of real estate developer Jerome C. Draper Jr., Mrs. Draper is the mother of Ann, 24, Jerome C. III, 22, and Jessie Draper, 15.

A Single Parents Workshop Is Set

"Single Parents Without Custody" will be the topic of the workshop Thursday sponsored by Woman's Way, 412 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo, at 7:30 p.m.

Cheryl Polster and Ed Berey will lead a discussion of the feelings and problems involved in relinquishing a child or children, the importance of time spent with the child and how to deal with guilt or anger.

Workshop reservations may be made with Woman's Way. The single parents workshop is eighth in a series of weekly workshops presented by Woman's Way.

Cathy Stott's Engagement Is Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stott of Novato, formerly of Mill Valley, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cathy, to Gary John Gorham.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorham of Stockton.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. She is a senior at California State University, Chico, where she is majoring in mass communications. She will receive a bachelor of arts degree in June. She is employed part-time as a staff writer at the Chico Enterprise-Record.

Gary was graduated from Lodi High School in Lodi and will also graduate from California State University, Chico, in June. He is majoring in geography, with an emphasis on regional and community planning.

Agency Sets A Workshop In April

The Family Service Agency of Marin will hold a lifework planning workshop beginning April 3 at the agency offices, 1005 A Street, in San Rafael.

The weekly sessions will be held Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m., led by Phyllis Phelps, a trained social worker. She said that the workshop will be planned for persons who are about to enter the job market or seeking new vocational direction.

The group will be limited to 12 persons.

The workshop will continue through June 5. Enrollment may be made through the Family Service Agency of Marin, San Rafael.

CATHY STOTT
To be June bride

He is employed on a joint study between the university and the Butte County Public Works Department, revising the county's business methods.

Health Degree Program Formed

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Stephens College has affiliated with Johns Hopkins University in a new program for a health associate degree.

Students attending the undergraduate women's college in Missouri will spend the first two years of the program on the Stephens campus and the last two clinical years in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. The training, essentially, is that of physician's assistant.

Judges Are Announced For Contest

Judges have been announced for the District 3 Dairy Princess Contest to be held May 11 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Petaluma.

Jacqueline M. West, administrative secretary for the Redwood Empire Association in San Francisco, will be a judge again this year.

Also Roger M. Bowley, director of training for the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Berkeley, and Doris Levine, public relations officer and publicity manager of Crocker Bank for the state.

Deadline for entrants, who must be unmarried women between the ages of 17 and 25 and have a dairy farm or industry background, is April 22. The district includes Marin, Sonoma, Lake, Mendocino, Napa and Solano counties.

Entry forms are available from the Petaluma Area Chamber of Commerce in Petaluma or the Milk Advisory Board in Modesto, according to Mrs. William Owen of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce.

Easy To Build

The Age-Old Question Regarding Student Homework Never Ending

By CYNTHIA PARSONS
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

The controversy over how much homework a school pupil should have and how difficult such homework should be is perpetual. Genrally, teachers start off the school year giving light homework assignments. But later the load becomes heavy.

Youngsters, who know that crocuses, jacks, roller skates and baseball are about to come, begin to react unfavorably to the homework load — especially in the older grades when each teacher piles it on every day.

What often happens is that the history teacher takes a look at the school calendar and realizes he'll never get through the Middle Ages if he doesn't assign an hour's worth of reading a night. Then the English teacher despairs that her pupils will ever learn to write complex sentences and starts assigning a long theme each week. At the same time, the French teacher discovers that the whole class is weak on verbs and assigns memory work which takes hours of time.

USUALLY THE controversy is a three-way split. In the "old" days, parents almost universally sided with the school authorities and saw to it that their children completed any and all homework assignments. Some of this home discipline came from parents who themselves had never completed secondary school and believed that whatever a school assigned was precisely what a student needed.

Another factor was the lack of television as a distraction.

Today, though, there are many parents, especially those who themselves went through the "homework routine," who side with their children and against the schoolteachers, arguing that an hour or two a night is more than enough and that the teachers should get together so that the load is not heavy one night and light another.

Homework has, of course, long been used as "punishment." But is such punitive action fair? Whom does it really penalize — and does the punishment help or hinder learning?

IT'S THE rare instance when "punishment" homework does much more than make weaker students resent school even more and reinforce the feeling among better students that school is a "game" and those who do best do well not because they're really learning but because they are "playing the game."

Hardly a good reason to give homework.

Clearly, the assigning of homework is a teaching skill and should be given as much care as any in-school skill.

It is essential, too, that teachers recognize the variety of environments from which pupils come and govern homework assignments accordingly.

A home too noisy to work in is hardly the place for homework which requires writing an original theme. A home where English is not the primary language is not one to ask for support in memorization work.

Children, for the most part, welcome sharing what they are learning at home with their families.

Perhaps this might be the rule for homework: Does it make the pupil more confident? If so, then it's the right amount and not too difficult.

Clearly, the assigning of homework is a teaching skill and should be given as much care as any in-school skill.

It is essential, too, that teachers recognize the variety of environments from which pupils come and govern homework assignments accordingly.

A home too noisy to work in is hardly the place for homework which requires writing an original theme. A home where English is not the primary language is not one to ask for support in memorization work.

Children, for the most part, welcome sharing what they are learning at home with their families.

Perhaps this might be the rule for homework: Does it make the pupil more confident? If so, then it's the right amount and not too difficult.

St. Isabella's Church Is Scene Of Wedding

Deborah Smith of San Anselmo became the bride of James C. Baker II of San Rafael in a ceremony March 2 at St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Maria Sherman of Burlingame, matron of honor and Roxanne Wodman of Chico and Linda Marino of Saratoga as bridesmaids.

Stephen Baker of Stanford was his brother's best man. The guests were seated by James' other brother, Bruce Baker, and Steve Shepard, both of San Rafael.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Holiday Inn in Terra Linda. The couple took a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno and will live in San Rafael.

Deborah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry W. Smith of San Anselmo. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, the College of Marin and attended California State University, Chico. She is employed with Corte Madera Chrysler Plymouth, Inc., in Corte Madera.

Kevin Smith of Novato is Deborah's brother.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Baker of San Rafael. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School, attended the College of Marin and was graduated from CSU-Chico. He is employed by Digital Telephone Systems, Inc., in San Rafael.

James is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Davis and Mrs. Bernice Baker, all of Denver, Colo.

Challenges To Estate Are Settled

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (UPI) — Two suits challenging the will of the late Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge and the executor of her $100 million estate have been settled without court hearings, giving a grant to an animal home and a salary to the executor.

Six attorneys involved in litigation signed a settlement yesterday, giving a grant of $2.8 million to St. Hubert's Giraldo, the animal home, and a salary of $10,000 for 10 years to Edwin J. Sayers of Madison, N.J., a close friend and executor of Mrs. Dodge's will.

The trustees of the animal shelter caring for Mrs. Dodge's dog filed a suit seeking to have Superior Court validate the will made out in 1955 under which they were to receive $700,000 for the shelter.

Mrs. Dodge, the niece of John D. Rockefeller, signed a second will on Oct. 29, 1962, providing less for the animal shelter. She was declared by the court to be mentally incompetent to manage her sprawling Madison estate before she died on Aug. 13, 1973, at the age of 91.

The second suit was brought by the Fidelity Union and Trust Co. of Newark, accusing Sayers, the court-appointed guardian of the estate, of allegedly selling a piece of land owned by Mrs. Dodge at an unspecified "grossly inadequate" price and questioned his ability to manage the estate.

Under the terms of the settlement, all the charges of wrongdoing against Sayers were dismissed and Sayers will be selected as one of the incorporators and trustees of the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

Casa Grande Parents Call For Improved Education

By ERNEST MURPHY

Several hundred Casa Grande High School parents, convinced that their children aren't getting all they should from school, last night crowded into a Petaluma Board of Education meeting to discuss their problems.

The parents, who have formed an ad hoc committee, earlier had submitted to the board a list of 33 questions alleging educational deficiencies. The meeting was called to answer and discuss them.

The chief concern voiced by the parents last night was the shortage of books at Casa Grande, which opened in the fall of 1972 to serve Petaluma's rapidly growing east side.

Parents claimed last night that some students are unable to bring textbooks home for study because there aren't enough to go around.

District officials told them the shortage is due to a lack of operating revenue and a drastic increase in book prices.

When several parents persisted in asking district business manager George W. Castleberry for his "excuse" for the fund shortage, he testily replied that "It's not my excuse. The citizens of this area have chosen to educate their children at $100 (per student per year) under the state average. We're simply distributing the money we have as fairly as we can."

Board President Daniel B. Plumley acknowledged that Casa Grande lacks reference books as well, mainly due to the school's newness.

"The other schools in Petaluma have been open longer and have built up a supply of books over the years," Plumley said. "Casa Grande hasn't because you don't, in a year's time, equip a school with all that it needs."

Vigorous applause broke out when one parent volunteered to "put up $40 to pay for my daughter's books, if that's what it takes for her to have them."

Margaret Hubbell of 1459 Ivy Lane, whose husband, Wolcott (Woody), is one of the parent committee's cochairmen, said the group is "especially concerned about enough books for 12th graders because it's their last chance before they get out of high school."

Casa Grande presently houses eighth through 11th grade students, she said, and will include 12th graders next year. Mrs. Hubbell said she fears the seniors won't get enough books.

She said the committee organized recently after a school open house where parents found to their amazement that several classes were being taught in one large unpartitioned room. "It was so noisy you couldn't listen," she said.

In a leaflet distributed at the meeting, the committee said it has "long range plans as sort of a watch dog group" to insure that Petaluma students receive good educations.

In response to questions about grading and testing, school district officials told the parents to seek out individual teachers and counselors to determine their children's progress if they find routine grade reports inadequate.

The officials denied the committee's contention that Casa Grande students lack access to school counselors.

After three hours of discussion punctuated by often repeated questions and occasional rancor, Plumley told the Casa Grande delegation that the board would answer remaining questions at an adjourned session scheduled for 7 p.m. tonight at the district administration center, 11 Fifth Street, where the board will also review plans for an addition to Casa Grande and consider business preempted by last night's debate.

A Goof Made; City Landmark Is Chopped Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Practicing firemen who thought they were chopping up a worthless abandoned house turned out to be flailing away at a San Francisco landmark.

The woman slated to buy the house from the city's Redevelopment Agency stopped to admire the two-story Victorian yesterday and found firemen chopping up the interior with picks and axes.

"I was hysterical," said Lavana Leutwyler. "I screamed for them to stop — that it was my house."

The firemen insisted they were authorized to chop holes in the old house, but Mrs. Leutwyler eventually rounded up Redevelopment Agency officials who called off the demolition just as the roof and outer walls were about to go.

Fire and redevelopment officials blamed each other for the foul-up.

Missile Fired At Vandenberg

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI) — A 65,000-pound Minuteman II missile was launched towards an unspecified target in the Western Test Range on a signal from a DC135 aircraft last night, the Air Force said.

The nearly 56-foot long missile was reported on target.

The firing of the intercontinental ballistic missile was another in a series of operational test launches by the Strategic Air Command, the Air Force said.

Lady Bird Gets Tour Of Theater

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson toured a new ballet theater yesterday and was presented with a bouquet of yellow roses from two students of ballet, 11 and 12 years old.

"I hope I shall be coming to see you in this beautiful place," Mrs. Johnson, widow of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, told the two young girls during a tour of the Harkness Theater, which opens April 9.

Novato Trustees Clash Over Case Involving Child's Illness

A case of sickness in a Novato school child, at first diagnosed as a form of typhoid fever but later diagnosed as salmonella typhimurium, an intestinal inflammation, brought about a heated exchange last night between trustee Betty J. Machado and other board members.

The case involved Joan Spiridakis, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spiridakis of 7 Kirsty Court, Novato, who became ill in January. On Feb. 18, she was placed in isolation in Marin General Hospital for two weeks, because the disease was incorrectly diagnosed, her mother told the board last night.

Mrs. Machado said the school had unnecessarily disposed of a tortoise which was suspect and that last Tuesday the students at the school were given the other animals kept at the school for study, to take home. The kitchen at the school was also closed, she said.

Mrs. Machado said she had gone to the Marin County Health Department and others in the case. She said she thought the school had acted improperly by not calling in veterinarians to see if the remaining animals were infected; and by closing the school kitchen although not sure where the girl got the disease as she was the only one to get it.

These accusations brought criticism from other board members.

"The charges of Mrs. Machado are blown all out of proportion," said trustee James Cassasa.

President William Eckhoff said that if the other board members had done what Mrs. Machado had done there would have been chaos.

Similar sentiments were voiced by other board members except John Kassenbrock, a dentist, who obviously was angered, but refused to comment "because of my blood pressure."

The district has called a meeting of school officials, representatives of the Marin County Health Department, the Novato school nurse and the parents for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Meadow Park School multipurpose room to discuss the case.

GIFT — Accepted a $220 gift from the West Novato School Parent-Teacher Association.

CONTRACTS — Awarded three contracts to low bidders for trucks. A $6,323 contract was given Nave Motors for a two-ton stake bed truck; a $6,652 contract to Empire Chevrolet for two one-half ton pickup trucks and a $5,540 contract to Novato Datsun for two light utility trucks. All firms are from Novato.

GASOLINE — Heard a report from Supt. James G. Bunker that the district may run short of gasoline. He has ordered Asst. Supt. Paul C. Mobley to go to Sacramento today to investigate the situation.

PICTURE — Gave an old picture of the raising of the battleship Maine to the City of Novato.

CLOSED DOORS — Went into closed session to discuss hiring procedures for a new superintendent to replace Bunker and to instruct the administrators in negotiations with the teachers who have asked for a 22 per cent salary increase.

Novato Trustees Told Budget Will Be Tight

A $12,584,687 preliminary 1974-75 budget was presented last night to the Novato Unified School District trustees.

The first draft of the preliminary budget is $883,115 more than the current $11,701,771 budget said Eugene F. DeBrecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business.

DeBrecht gave the difference in the two years' incomes in round figures. State income was up $120,000; local taxes up $68,000; special programs down $32,000 and special allowances up $8,000.

Salaries and employee benefits were up from $10,070,395 to $10,208,258. Utilities were up $30,000 and appropriations for contingencies (formerly undistributed reserves) up $249,845 or from $187,323 to $437,168.

"That is the only slack we have in the entire budget," DeBrecht said.

No estimate was made in the tax rate, which is now $5.13 per $100 assessed valuation.

DeBrecht said he wanted to call this the first draft because with the new budget forms required by the state and the changes which will come up before its adoption, it should be called a draft, not a budget.

Expert's Views Of Solzhenitsyn Under Stalin Rule

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn would have been put to death during Josef Stalin's rule in the Soviet Union, according to Soviet expert Henry Shapiro.

"He would have been killed in five seconds in the Stalin era," Shapiro said. "It would have been inconceivable for a man to be having press conferences and criticizing the government."

Shapiro, retired bureau manager of United Press International in Moscow, is now a visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin. His remarks were made in a talk with faculty members at the University's Parkside branch Monday night.

Taxpayers Taking Gas Line Beating

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — California highway patrolmen wasted 5,900 hours waiting in gas lines during February, and this cost the taxpayers $59,000 for the idle time.

Assistant Highway Patrol Commissioner E.D. Herringer said it cost $10 an hour to finance the officers while they

A $12,584,687 preliminary 1974-75 budget was presented last night to the Novato Unified School District trustees.

The first draft of the preliminary budget is $883,115 more than the current $11,701,771 budget said Eugene F. DeBrecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business.

DeBrecht gave the difference in the two years' incomes in round figures. State income was up $120,000; local taxes up $68,000; special programs down $32,000 and special allowances up $8,000.

Salaries and employee benefits were up from $10,070,395 to $10,208,258. Utilities were up $30,000 and appropriations for contingencies (formerly undistributed reserves) up $249,845 or from $187,323 to $437,168.

"That is the only slack we have in the entire budget," DeBrecht said.

No estimate was made in the tax rate, which is now $5.13 per $100 assessed valuation.

DeBrecht said he wanted to call this the first draft because with the new budget forms required by the state and the changes which will come up before its adoption, it should be called a draft, not a budget.

Expert's Views Of Solzhenitsyn Under Stalin Rule

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn would have been put to death during Josef Stalin's rule in the Soviet Union, according to Soviet expert Henry Shapiro.

"He would have been killed in five seconds in the Stalin era," Shapiro said. "It would have been inconceivable for a man to be having press conferences and criticizing the government."

Shapiro, retired bureau manager of United Press International in Moscow, is now a visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin. His remarks were made in a talk with faculty members at the University's Parkside branch Monday night.

Taxpayers Taking Gas Line Beating

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — California highway patrolmen wasted 5,900 hours waiting in gas lines during February, and this cost the taxpayers $59,000 for the idle time.

Assistant Highway Patrol Commissioner E.D. Herringer said it cost $10 an hour to finance the officers while they

Challenges To Estate Are Settled

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (UPI) — Two suits challenging the will of the late Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge and the executor of her $100 million estate have been settled without court hearings, giving a grant to an animal home and a salary to the executor.

Six attorneys involved in litigation signed a settlement yesterday, giving a grant of $2.8 million to St. Hubert's Giraldo, the animal home, and a salary of $10,000 for 10 years to Edwin J. Sayers of Madison, N.J., a close friend and executor of Mrs. Dodge's will.

The trustees of the animal shelter caring for Mrs. Dodge's dog filed a suit seeking to have Superior Court validate the will made out in 1955 under which they were to receive $700,000 for the shelter.

Mrs. Dodge, the niece of John D. Rockefeller, signed a second will on Oct. 29, 1962, providing less for the animal shelter. She was declared by the court to be mentally incompetent to manage her sprawling Madison estate before she died on Aug. 13, 1973, at the age of 91.

The second suit was brought by the Fidelity Union and Trust Co. of Newark, accusing Sayers, the court-appointed guardian of the estate, of allegedly selling a piece of land owned by Mrs. Dodge at an unspecified "grossly inadequate" price and questioned his ability to manage the estate.

Under the terms of the settlement, all the charges of wrongdoing against Sayers were dismissed and Sayers will be selected as one of the incorporators and trustees of the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

Missile Fired At Vandenberg

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI) — A 65,000-pound Minuteman II missile was launched towards an unspecified target in the Western Test Range on a signal from a DC135 aircraft last night, the Air Force said.

The nearly 56-foot long missile was reported on target.

The firing of the intercontinental ballistic missile was another in a series of operational test launches by the Strategic Air Command, the Air Force said.

Casa Grande Parents Call For Improved Education

By ERNEST MURPHY

Several hundred Casa Grande High School parents, convinced that their children aren't getting all they should from school, last night crowded into a Petaluma Board of Education meeting to discuss their problems.

The parents, who have formed an ad hoc committee, earlier had submitted to the board a list of 33 questions alleging educational deficiencies. The meeting was called to answer and discuss them.

The chief concern voiced by the parents last night was the shortage of books at Casa Grande, which opened in the fall of 1972 to serve Petaluma's rapidly growing east side.

Parents claimed last night that some students are unable to bring textbooks home for study because there aren't enough to go around.

District officials told them the shortage is due to a lack of operating revenue and a drastic increase in book prices.

When several parents persisted in asking district business manager George W. Castleberry for his "excuse" for the fund shortage, he testily replied that "It's not my excuse. The citizens of this area have chosen to educate their children at $100 (per student per year) under the state average. We're simply distributing the money we have as fairly as we can."

Board President Daniel B. Plumley acknowledged that Casa Grande lacks reference books as well, mainly due to the school's newness.

"The other schools in Petaluma have been open longer and have built up a supply of books over the years," Plumley said. "Casa Grande hasn't because you don't, in a year's time, equip a school with all that it needs."

Vigorous applause broke out when one parent volunteered to "put up $40 to pay for my daughter's books, if that's what it takes for her to have them."

Margaret Hubbell of 1459 Ivy Lane, whose husband, Wolcott (Woody), is one of the parent committee's cochairmen, said the group is "especially concerned about enough books for 12th graders because it's their last chance before they get out of high school."

Casa Grande presently houses eighth through 11th grade students, she said, and will include 12th graders next year. Mrs. Hubbell said she fears the seniors won't get enough books.

She said the committee organized recently after a school open house where parents found to their amazement that several classes were being taught in one large unpartitioned room. "It was so noisy you couldn't listen," she said.

In a leaflet distributed at the meeting, the committee said it has "long range plans as sort of a watch dog group" to insure that Petaluma students receive good educations.

In response to questions about grading and testing, school district officials told the parents to seek out individual teachers and counselors to determine their children's progress if they find routine grade reports inadequate.

The officials denied the committee's contention that Casa Grande students lack access to school counselors.

After three hours of discussion punctuated by often repeated questions and occasional rancor, Plumley told the Casa Grande delegation that the board would answer remaining questions at an adjourned session scheduled for 7 p.m. tonight at the district administration center, 11 Fifth Street, where the board will also review plans for an addition to Casa Grande and consider business preempted by last night's debate.

A Goof Made; City Landmark Is Chopped Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Practicing firemen who thought they were chopping up a worthless abandoned house turned out to be flailing away at a San Francisco landmark.

The woman slated to buy the house from the city's Redevelopment Agency stopped to admire the two-story Victorian yesterday and found firemen chopping up the interior with picks and axes.

"I was hysterical," said Lavana Leutwyler. "I screamed for them to stop — that it was my house."

The firemen insisted they were authorized to chop holes in the old house, but Mrs. Leutwyler eventually rounded up Redevelopment Agency officials who called off the demolition just as the roof and outer walls were about to go.

Fire and redevelopment officials blamed each other for the foul-up.

Lady Bird Gets Tour Of Theater

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson toured a new ballet theater yesterday and was presented with a bouquet of yellow roses from two students of ballet, 11 and 12 years old.

"I hope I shall be coming to see you in this beautiful place," Mrs. Johnson, widow of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, told the two young girls during a tour of the Harkness Theater, which opens April 9.

Mrs. Johnson was the guest of Rebekah Harkness, patron and artistic director of the theater.

'Jane Pittman' Raves Surprise Korty

By PAUL LIBERATORE

The last frames of the unedited version of "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman" had just flashed on the screen.

"When the lights came up, we were all terribly depressed," said the film's director, John Korty, with a bemused smile, remembering recently in his Mill Valley offices that disconsolate moment. "The explanation was that we had seen it so much, there were no surprises."

Critics, however, reacted in opposite fashion. They were nearly unanimous in their acclaim for the two-hour television drama aired in January. Some called it the best movie ever made for television.

An adaptation from the novel of the same name by San Francisco author Ernest Gaines, the film told through the eyes of Miss Jane, a fictional 110-year-old black woman, the story of her life, from the emancipation of the slaves after the Civil War to the civil rights struggles of the 1960s.

Actress Cicely Tyson, playing the title role, wore elaborate plastic makeup to transform her into the elderly Jane. It took six hours a day to apply, presenting Korty with one of several knotty problems during the five weeks of filming around Baton Rouge, La., last September and October.

Although the makeup sessions began at 6 a.m., Miss Tyson was not ready for shooting until after lunch, leaving only a few precious hours of daylight.

"There was very little time for anything fancy," said the 37-year-old Korty. "I'd just say, 'Get the wide angle shot, get the closeup,' and that was about it."

Preventing the makeup from sagging in the heat and humidity of the South was a second headache. Miss Tyson had to be transported in an air conditioned station wagon from her air conditioned trailer to the set. She sat in the car until the last possible moment.

"When she stepped from that car she was into the part," said Korty. "She is a young woman but she didn't just stride over to take her place. She walked very slowly and deliberately. It was so funny because people would rush over to help her up the steps."

She was so convincing, Korty recalled, that the illusion was complete for some. "There was a local woman who played Mary, one of Jane's companions. She once was in an old Clark Gable movie and in this she was so wonderful we enlarged her part. Well, she never saw Cicely any other way but in that makeup. I think she believed that Cicely was actually 110 years old."

Korty, who directed three movies of the week for ABC-TV in the past three years, hesitated at first when the Jane Pittman project was offered him.

"I asked if there wasn't a black director who could do it," he said. "But I was told they were all busy doing black exploitation films. It was offered to Motown and other black companies but they turned it down."

The production involved 6,000 wardrobe changes, 30 locations, a crew of 45, 80 actors with speaking parts and between 600 and 800 extras.

The logistics of completing such an epic in slightly more than one month were a mind blower, Korty admits, and although production finished on time, there were some trying moments. For instance, the case of the hysterical mule:

"It was the scene where young Jane and the little boy try to hitch a ride across the river on a ferry. In it, we had two donkeys, a mule, two horses and an old fat sow to deal with. The assistant director led out the mule and it proceeded to sink up to its shoulders in the mud.

"We had to stop shooting because there was this hysterical mule braying all over the place. At first it was funny but we couldn't get him out and someone wanted to shoot him. I didn't want that, so we used a Jeep with a winch to pull him out. That used up two and a half hours."

The soft-spoken Korty, recalling the filming with an obvious affection, said that despite occasional hangups, the regiments of crew members and actors and the carefully selected locations were necessary to give the film its "epic feeling, its richness, the qualities that set it apart from most things on TV."

It also dealt straightforwardly with racism, and the struggles by blacks to overcome it.

"We encountered some racial problems while shooting. There were people who were openly offended or amused. Three or four refused to let us use their homes in scenes.

"During another river bank scene, we had permission to use a small piece of property, but we didn't get a clearance or anything from a local sheriff's deputy who lived next door. While we were trying to film, he kept revving the engine on his motorcycle. He was on his own property. There was nothing we could do. We had a state trooper with us who went over to talk to the man. That just made him madder. Finally, he got drunk enough and lost interest."

But there were positive examples of changing attitudes on race in the South as well. The motel where the crew stayed was the same one used by the cast of the motion picture "Sounder," also starring Miss Tyson.

While bragging about "Sounder," Korty said, the motel manager complained that in all the weeks she stayed there, Miss Tyson, a health food enthusiast, entered his restaurant only once.

"There was this genuine feeling of disappointment in him that this big star had only graced his establishment one time. That's quite a change from a few years ago, when blacks were not allowed in many restaurants at all."

Although most black publications gave the film good reviews, there were some blacks who believed it was too sympathetic toward whites, according to Korty. Conversely, some whites felt it did not show them in a positive enough light.

"The film was not revolutionary in the way it was made. . ." Korty said. "I wasn't trying to change 50 million people a lot. I was trying to change the 50 million who saw it a little."

Although Jane Pittman proved that Korty could do more than an ordinary TV show, and his phones lately have been ringing off the hook, he made up his mind long ago "to avoid the Hollywood syndrome."

He plans to remain in Mill Valley, where he works and lives with his wife and two sons, and is eager to return to independent filmmaking.

Korty has to his credit a number of independent productions, including "The Crazy Quilt," "Funnyman," and "Riverrun," filmed in 1970 on location around Tomales Bay.

He has been doing animation since he began making movies as a 16-year-old schoolboy in Missouri and last year completed 14 animated spots for the "Sesame Street" and "Electric Company" educational TV shows. More are planned.

FILMMAKER — John Korty takes a moment from work in his Mill Valley offices to recall his experiences directing "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," the highly acclaimed film for television aired in January. In addition to 80 actors and between 600 and 800 extras, there were two donkeys, two horses, an old fat sow and an hysterical mule to deal with.

People Prefer Demos, 2 to 1

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — Political pollster George Gallup says Americans prefer Democrats two-to-one over Republicans as "the party better able to handle what people regard as the most important problems."

His surveys, he said, indicate the energy crisis ad inflation worry Americans more than the Watergate scandal, "but you can't apply that two-to-one on each of those three top problems."

But, he said, "that doesn't mean Watergate isn't going to have a big effect in ways we haven't discovered. It may stop people from going to the polls. It may have a backlash."

Gallup said the economy and fuel problems will likely "overshadow" Watergate in elections this fall, but said Republican losses could "go far beyond the normal loss."

The logistics of completing such an epic in slightly more than one month were a mind blower, Korty admits, and although production finished on time, there were some trying moments. For instance, the case of the hysterical mule:

"It was the scene where young Jane and the little boy try to hitch a ride across the river on a ferry. In it, we had two donkeys, a mule, two horses and an old fat sow to deal with. The assistant director led out the mule and it proceeded to sink up to its shoulders in the mud.

"We had to stop shooting because there was this hysterical mule braying all over the place. At first it was funny but we couldn't get him out and someone wanted to shoot him. I didn't want that, so we used a Jeep with a winch to pull him out. That used up two and a half hours."

The soft-spoken Korty, recalling the filming with an obvious affection, said that despite occasional hangups, the regiments of crew members and actors and the carefully selected locations were necessary to give the film its "epic feeling, its richness, the qualities that set it apart from most things on TV."

It also dealt straightforwardly with racism, and the struggles by blacks to overcome it.

"We encountered some racial problems while shooting. There were people who were openly offended or amused. Three or four refused to let us use their homes in scenes.

"During another river bank scene, we had permission to use a small piece of property, but we didn't get a clearance or anything from a local sheriff's deputy who lived next door. While we were trying to film, he kept revving the engine on his motorcycle. He was on his own property. There was nothing we could do. We had a state trooper with us who went over to talk to the man. That just made him madder. Finally, he got drunk enough and lost interest."

But there were positive examples of changing attitudes on race in the South as well. The motel where the crew stayed was the same one used by the cast of the motion picture "Sounder," also starring Miss Tyson.

While bragging about "Sounder," Korty said, the motel manager complained that in all the weeks she stayed there, Miss Tyson, a health food enthusiast, entered his restaurant only once.

"There was this genuine feeling of disappointment in him that this big star had only graced his establishment one time. That's quite a change from a few years ago, when blacks were not allowed in many restaurants at all."

Although most black publications gave the film good reviews, there were some blacks who believed it was too sympathetic toward whites, according to Korty. Conversely, some whites felt it did not show them in a positive enough light.

"The film was not revolutionary in the way it was made. . ." Korty said. "I wasn't trying to change 50 million people a lot. I was trying to change the 50 million who saw it a little."

Although Jane Pittman proved that Korty could do more than an ordinary TV show, and his phones lately have been ringing off the hook, he made up his mind long ago "to avoid the Hollywood syndrome."

He plans to remain in Mill Valley, where he works and lives with his wife and two sons, and is eager to return to independent filmmaking.

Korty has to his credit a number of independent productions, including "The Crazy Quilt," "Funnyman," and "Riverrun," filmed in 1970 on location around Tomales Bay.

He has been doing animation since he began making movies as a 16-year-old schoolboy in Missouri and last year completed 14 animated spots for the "Sesame Street" and "Electric Company" educational TV shows. More are planned.

FILMMAKER — John Korty takes a moment from work in his Mill Valley offices to recall his experiences directing "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," the highly acclaimed film for television aired in January. In addition to 80 actors and between 600 and 800 extras, there were two donkeys, two horses, an old fat sow and an hysterical mule to deal with.

People Prefer Demos, 2 to 1

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — Political pollster George Gallup says Americans prefer Democrats two-to-one over Republicans as "the party better able to handle what people regard as the most important problems."

His surveys, he said, indicate the energy crisis ad inflation worry Americans more than the Watergate scandal, "but you can't apply that two-to-one on each of those three top problems."

But, he said, "that doesn't mean Watergate isn't going to have a big effect in ways we haven't discovered. It may stop people from going to the polls. It may have a backlash."

Gallup said the economy and fuel problems will likely "overshadow" Watergate in elections this fall, but said Republican losses could "go far beyond the normal loss."

Locking Gas Caps Might Be Illegal

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Air Resources Board yesterday warned the owners of 1970 and later autos who buy locking gasoline tank caps that they may be in violation of vehicle pollution control laws.

William Simmons, board executive officer, said all cars sold in California starting with 1970 models are required to have evaporative emissions control systems which include a pressure vacuum-relief-type gas cap.

He said that replacing the pressurized cap with a vented locking mechanism destroys the closed system and could cause gasoline hydrocarbons to escape into the atmosphere through evaporation or gasoline leakage.

"Motorists who install vented locking caps on their gasoline tanks not only defeat the evaporative controls but run the risk of citation by the highway patrol for illegally modifying a state-approved vehicle emissions control system," Simmons said.

The board said the evaporative control systems, which augment the required crankcase and exhaust emissions controls, capture vapors from the carburetor and fuel tank. They reduce hydrocarbon emission in new cars approximately 15 per cent, the board said.

Yorty Attorney Eyes Options On Finances

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former Mayor Sam Yorty would surrender his financial records to a City Council investigating committee rather than go to jail, if those are his options.

Yorty's lawyer said yesterday if the former mayor fails to get the state court of appeal to quash a council subpoena, he will turn over the records demanded. The council, which had started action to jail Yorty for contempt when he ignored the subpoena, decided yesterday to postpone action for three weeks.

The council is investigating a land trade during Yorty's administration in which Occidental Oil Co. acquired a controversial drilling site on what had been city land in the well-to-do Pacific Palisades area. Yorty, under pressure, admitted he owned stock in Occidental, but he said his holding was small and was sold before the trade was completed.

SEPARATE BRAIN FUNCTIONS

Getting The Sides Together

By REBECCA LARSEN

Although a person is not aware of it, when he reads a newspaper article, he's using the left side of his brain. When he draws a geometrical design, he's using the right side.

Examining these separate functions of the hemispheres of the brain is the specialty of two Marin County psychiatrists who work at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Interest in their work has become so great that the two, Dr. David Galin of Mill Valley and Dr. Arthur Deikman of the Panoramic Highway area, will be participating in a special lecture series.''

''The Psychology of Consciousness,'' will be offered by the University of California extension program beginning March 19 on the Cal Berkeley campus.

The main premise of their work rests on experiments that show that one side of the brain specializes in technical, verbal, and logical knowledge, while the other half is more involved with intuitive, emotional thinking.

Our highly technological, Western culture has concentrated on developing this technical side of the brain, while Eastern thinking has concentrated on the intuitive side, say the doctors.

Their aim is to get modern men to blend these two ways of thinking, to experience the meditative, contemplative way of life as well as the technological, verbal one.

''We're not necessarily talking about sitting in a cave or all by yourself in your bedroom and thinking,'' said Deikman. ''But we need a change of attitudes as we approach our lives.''

An assistant professor in the department of psychiatry at Langley Porter Neuropsychiatrist Institute at the medical center, Galin has specialized in laboratory research on the functions of the halves of the brain.

In his experiments, he has taken ''normal'' subjects and examined brain waves from the two sides of their heads while they did everyday activities.

''For example, we looked at the kind of brain waves produced while writing a letter versus the kind produced while doing a geometric design problem. The two kinds of thinking you're doing are very different. You would find it very difficult to put into words what you're doing with the geometric design. It would be like describing how to ride a bike.''

Deikman, an associate clinical professor at the medical center, has concentrated on describing what meditative and contemplative thinking is all about.

''I get housewives, graduate students, ordinary people. I sit them down and have them practice thinking in contemplative ways and then ask them about their experiences afterwards. I've seen a marked change in their state of consciousness that's similar to mystical experiences in Eastern religion. However, these experiments have nothing to do with religion in themselves.

''I found that normal people can easily achieve radical changes in their body image and quality of thought in these experiments. They had experiences they valued highly but couldn't describe what happened during them.''

Deikman said he has tried to use these techniques in his San Francisco psychiatric practice.

''It's not so much a question of encouraging meditation but more getting patients to allow things to happen to them. Instead of striving, they work on opening to others, achieving different modes of consciousness associated with meditation.''

The two hope that through their work and an organization they have started called the institute for the study of human consciousness that they can encourage more blending of eastern and western ways of thinking.

''The important thing is to get the two halves of the brain together,'' said Galin. ''We need to develop the left side for language and to survive in the Western world. But we need to blend with it understanding from the other side. Creative activity is dependent on synthesis of the two.''

One place where Galin thinks more of this synthesis is needed is in the school system where education is largely geared to reading, writing and arithmetic — left hemisphere functions.

''The arts, crafts, music are treated as frills,'' said Galin. ''They're regarded as being impractical, but they may be crucial for us to survive.''

But the two also warn against picking up one fragment of Eastern thought and running one's whole life around it.

''In California, for example, we picked up a lot of them, like the encounter movement or the Alpha Wave craze or oriental martial arts, and we practice them in isolation,'' said Galin. ''People latch onto simple things and say this will solve everything.''

GETTING IT TOGETHER — Dr. David Galin at home in Mill Valley describes his work in analyzing what half of the brain does what. Galin argues that modern man must learn to combine the best of Western ways of thinking with Eastern modes of thought.

THOSE LONELY DAYS — With the help of a nurse's aide this woman, who must spend daylight hours in a wheel chair or in her bed, has only the window to view the outside world.

LIFE AFTER 65

Each Person Ages Differently

By JACK GOURLAY
Associated Press
(Third of 10 articles)

Old age is not a disease. Nor can it be measured by purely chronological criteria. A 45-year-old can be ''old'' just as a 65-year-old can be ''young.''

Dr. Rene Baujat, the French gerontologist, explains it this way: ''A man is a complex being consisting of organs, tissues, cells, functions, habits and reactions. And each of these different elements has its own special way of living, developing, and getting old.''

You actually start declining in physical capacity in your mid-20s. As you proceed into your 40s and 50s, you begin to recognize some obvious signs. You discover that it takes much longer to reach first base at the company picnic. You may need eyeglasses to help you read the numbers in the telephone book, and more important, you begin to notice your waistline inching outward. You adjust quite naturally to these signs of age.

But there are other signs as well, for which there is no clear-cut explanation: the lines and wrinkles that form on the face and neck, the hair that turns gray, the fact that you don't stand as erect as easily as before, and the slowdown in your reactions and reflexes.

These signs have mystified the medical profession since the beginning of the study of geriatrics — the diseases of the aged. Many say that the clue may be found in the behavior of the cell.

Other medical scientists contend that it is a breakdown of blood vessels, or of connective tissues which cause the aging process. Still others maintain that the process is due to cells just plain wearing out.

Dr. Albert L. Lansing, of Washington University in St. Louis, one of America's foremost authorities on aging, says the body continues to rebuild its cells as long as the body lives. ''In all probability,'' he says, ''the main reason organisms age is not a wearing out of the cells, but a decline in the body's cellbuilding efficiency.''

Geriatrics is a relatively new field, and much research remains to be done. But there is one point everyone agrees on: the organs of the body are interdependent. The activities or functions of one organ depend on the activities or functions of others. Therefore, any change in one could set off an equally significant change in an associated organ. So one can readily see that a whole series of factors can affect the aging process. This may partially explain why signs of aging vary so greatly from one person to another of the same age.

Once the factors which cause aging to speed up are known, then medical science would be close to taking the steps which could lead to a slowdown of the process itself. Definite gains are being made in this field.

The appearance of new therapeutic tools and techniques continue to radically change diagnosis and treatment of the aged. For example, an older person breaking his hip years ago, most often, would have been confined in bed or in a wheelchair for the remainder of his days. Today, a metallic pin would replace the head of the fractured hipbone, and the patient would be back on his feet in a relatively short period of time.

New medicines have also played a key role: Bogomoletz serum has been found to reduce fatigue in old people; embryonic and placenta extracts have speeded up circulation and improved muscle strength, and hormone treatments have been beneficial in many cases.

Today's gerontologists can now control or correct many chronic problems of the aged. Diabetes, for example, is so thoroughly controlled today by insulin and oral hypoglycemics that, with proper diet, a diabetic can live to a rather advanced age with no significant handicap due to his condition.

Experiments with cortisone, insulin and testosterone, new treatments for arthritis, chemotherapy for cancer, nutritional aids to inhibit the aging process are all part of the advances which will benefit us and the generations yet to come, making us healthier, stronger, and longer-lived.

Gerontologists at the U.S. Public Health Service are predicting quite seriously that the day will come when the 100-year-olds will be ''as physically capable of maintaining themselves, both socially and economically, as an individual of 50 is at present.''

Lack Of Demand Results In Reduced Meat Prices

By MARY LEYDECKER

There are plenty of cattle fattened and ready for the table these days, but the average family apparently changed its eating habits some months ago when beef prices hit new highs.

And today — to the consternation of those in the cattle industry — families are still making do with less of the old American diet staple.

It's this ''basic law of supply and demand'' that will bring lower beef prices in Marin and other parts of the country this week, according to a spokesman for the U.S. Department of Agriculture in San Francisco.

''The housewife just backed away from the meat counter'' last year when prices skyrocketed, according to Dick Cadwell of the agriculture department. ''Now, out of habit,'' she is continuing to feed her family beef substitutes, Cadwell theorized.

In the meantime, ranchers must sell their cattle to feeders and the feeders must move them out, even if the price is delcining.

Cadwell, who makes a weekly report of cattle prices, said that beef prices have dropped from $82 per hundred weight for top car lot volume meat on Feb. 7 to $71 last Thursday.

This means that shoppers will find beef advertised at the lowest prices in a long time in today's Independent-Journal.

''You'll notice the biggest drop in steaks and roasts,'' said a spokesman for a local market chain.

Last week, for example the Big G Super advertised cross rib roasts for $1.39 per pound. This week the same cut is $1.29. Round steak which cost $1.17 per pound at Safeway last week will be $1.08 this week.

Similar reductions of from 5 to 10 cents a pound will be in effect in most markets.

Those in the cattle business hope the drop in prices will ''stimulate'' the market, and draw the shopper back to beef, Cadwell said.

In the meantime, the feedlot operators who must feed steers for a period of 120 to 150 days to get them ready for market are caught in the middle of the price shift, Cadwell explained.

They paid prices for the beef on the hoof based on wholesale prices several months ago and since have had to pay rising prices for feed for the animals.

''They're really unhappy,'' Cadwell said.

He added that if shoppers respond to the lower prices by creating more demand for beef, the price, of course, will go up again.

Lamb prices also will probably drop in three or four weeks, a local market operator said.

Getting The Sides Together

By REBECCA LARSEN

Although a person is not aware of it, when he reads a newspaper article, he's using the left side of his brain. When he draws a geometrical design, he's using the right side.

Examining these separate functions of the hemispheres of the brain is the specialty of two Marin County psychiatrists who work at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Interest in their work has become so great that the two, Dr. David Galin of Mill Valley and Dr. Arthur Deikman of the Panoramic Highway area, will be participating in a special lecture series."

"The Psychology of Consciousness," will be offered by the University of California extension program beginning March 19 on the Cal Berkeley campus.

The main premise of their work rests on experiments that show that one side of the brain specializes in technical, verbal, and logical knowledge, while the other half is more involved with intuitive, emotional thinking.

Our highly technological, Western culture has concentrated on developing this technical side of the brain, while Eastern thinking has concentrated on the intuitive side, say the doctors.

Their aim is to get modern men to blend these two ways of thinking, to experience the meditative, contemplative way of life as well as the technological, verbal one.

"We're not necessarily talking about sitting in a cave or all by yourself in your bedroom and thinking," said Deikman. "But we need a change of attitudes as we approach our lives."

An assistant professor in the department of psychiatry at Langley Porter Neuropsychiatrist Institute at the medical center, Galin has specialized in laboratory research on the functions of the halves of the brain.

In his experiments, he has taken "normal" subjects and examined brain waves from the two sides of their heads while they did everyday activities.

"For example, we looked at the kind of brain waves produced while writing a letter versus the kind produced while doing a geometric design problem. The two kinds of thinking you're doing are very different. You would find it very difficult to put into words what you're doing with the geometric design. It would be like describing how to ride a bike."

Deikman, an associate clinical professor at the medical center, has concentrated on describing what meditative and contemplative thinking is all about.

"I get housewives, graduate students, ordinary people. I sit them down and have them practice thinking in contemplative ways and then ask them about their experiences afterwards. I've seen a marked change in their state of consciousness that's similar to mystical experiences in Eastern religion. However, these experiments have nothing to do with religion in themselves.

"I found that normal people can easily achieve radical changes in their body image and quality of thought in these experiments. They had experiences they valued highly but couldn't describe what happened during them."

Deikman said he has tried to use these techniques in his San Francisco psychiatric practice.

"It's not so much a question of encouraging meditation but more getting patients to allow things to happen to them. Instead of striving, they work on opening to others, achieving different modes of consciousness associated with meditation."

The two hope that through their work and an organization they have started called the institute for the study of human consciousness that they can encourage more blending of eastern and western ways of thinking.

"The important thing is to get the two halves of the brain together," said Galin. "We need to develop the left side for language and to survive in the Western world. But we need to blend with it understanding from the other side. Creative activity is dependent on synthesis of the two."

One place where Galin thinks more of this synthesis is needed is in the school system where education is largely geared to reading, writing and arithmetic — left hemisphere functions.

"The arts, crafts, music are treated as frills," said Galin. "They're regarded as being impractical, but they may be crucial for us to survive."

But the two also warn against picking up one fragment of Eastern thought and running one's whole life around it.

"In California, for example, we picked up a lot of them, like the encounter movement or the Alpha Wave craze or oriental martial arts, and we practice them in isolation," said Galin. "People latch onto simple things and say this will solve everything."

GETTING IT TOGETHER — Dr. David Galin at home in Mill Valley describes his work in analyzing what half of the brain does what. Galin argues that modern man must learn to combine the best of Western ways of thinking with Eastern modes of thought.

THOSE LONELY DAYS — With the help of a nurse's aide this woman, who must spend daylight hours in a wheel chair or in her bed, has only the window to view the outside world.

Each Person Ages Differently

By JACK GOURLAY
Associated Press
(Third of 10 articles)

Old age is not a disease. Nor can it be measured by purely chronological criteria. A 45-year-old can be "old" just as a 65-year-old can be "young."

Dr. Rene Baujat, the French gerontologist, explains it this way: "A man is a complex being consisting of organs, tissues, cells, functions, habits and reactions. And each of these different elements has its own special way of living, developing, and getting old."

You actually start declining in physical capacity in your mid-20s. As you proceed into your 40s and 50s, you begin to recognize some obvious signs. You discover that it takes much longer to reach first base at the company picnic. You may need eyeglasses to help you read the numbers in the telephone book, and more important, you begin to notice your waistline inching outward. You adjust quite naturally to these signs of age.

But there are other signs as well, for which there is no clear-cut explanation: the lines and wrinkles that form on the face and neck, the hair that turns gray, the fact that you don't stand as erect as easily as before, and the slowdown in your reactions and reflexes.

These signs have mystified the medical profession since the beginning of the study of geriatrics — the diseases of the aged. Many say that the clue may be found in the behavior of the cell.

Other medical scientists contend that it is a breakdown of blood vessels, or of connective tissues which cause the aging process. Still others maintain that the process is due to cells just plain wearing out.

Dr. Albert L. Lansing, of Washington University in St. Louis, one of America's foremost authorities on aging, says the body continues to rebuild its cells as long as the body lives. "In all probability," he says, "the main reason organisms age is not a wearing out of the cells, but a decline in the body's cellbuilding efficiency."

Geriatrics is a relatively new field, and much research remains to be done. But there is one point everyone agrees on: the organs of the body are interdependent. The activities or functions of one organ depend on the activities or functions of others. Therefore, any change in one could set off an equally significant change in an associated organ. So one can readily see that a whole series of factors can affect the aging process. This may partially explain why signs of aging vary so greatly from one person to another of the same age.

Once the factors which cause aging to speed up are known, then medical science would be close to taking the steps which could lead to a slowdown of the process itself. Definite gains are being made in this field.

The appearance of new therapeutic tools and techniques continue to radically change diagnosis and treatment of the aged. For example, an older person breaking his hip years ago, most often, would have been confined in bed or in a wheelchair for the remainder of his days. Today, a metallic pin would replace the head of the fractured hipbone, and the patient would be back on his feet in a relatively short period of time.

New medicines have also played a key role: Bogomoletz serum has been found to reduce fatigue in old people; embryonic and placenta extracts have speeded up circulation and improved muscle strength, and hormone treatments have been beneficial in many cases.

Today's gerontologists can now control or correct many chronic problems of the aged. Diabetes, for example, is so thoroughly controlled today by insulin and oral hypoglycemics that, with proper diet, a diabetic can live to a rather advanced age with no significant handicap due to his condition.

San Anselmo Withdraws A Smoking Ban Proposal

The San Anselmo City Council last night withdrew the controversial section of a proposed antismoking ordinance because "there was no hope of really enforcing it."

The council did, however, adopt the section of the ordinance which prohibits smoking in city buildings used for public meetings, a stipulation that had met no opposition.

The requirement, though, that all commercial or other establishments open to the public which provide seating for more than 20 persons set aside a voluntary nonsmoking section, was withdrawn.

It had been proposed that such sections be marked with signs saying, "The San Anselmo City Council has requested that we set aside this area for nonsmokers. Your cooperation is requested."

Failure to post such signs could have led to as much as a $500 fine for businessmen.

Restaurant owners and other entreprenaurs in the city had objected to the measure, saying it might lead to fights and drive away customers. The measure was primarily the work of Dr. Martin G. Blinder, San Anselmo's new mayor, who earlier succeeded in getting smoking banned at city council meetings.

It was agreed last night, however, that attempts would be made to enlist support of the city's chamber of commerce before taking up the matter again.

In other action last night, the city council attempted to allay fears of residents about the city's new garbage contract, which provides lower rates for persons who recycle their garbage.

Questioners were told that garbage men are not "guys with Ph.D's" who will minutely inspect the contents of each trash can. Some residents had feared that a transgression or two from the recycling program might keep them from being on the lower rate schedule.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

COMMISSION — Called for applications to fill a vacancy on the planning commission to replace John H. Colteaux, who was elected to the city council.

NOMINEES — Asked for nominees to the Marin County Grand Jury and for the "outstanding senior citizen of the year" award from citizens of San Anselmo.

AWARD — Outgoing Mayor Louis H. Stewart presented an embroidered pillow to Attilio Segale as a "citizen of the year" award. Segale is a regular attendant and participant in the city council meetings.

Kaeppel In Resignation To Council

Alfred C. Kaeppel, San Anselmo's city administrator-controller, last night announced his resignation to the city council.

Kaeppel, 62, said he does not plan to take another job but neither does he plan complete retirement. "I have many projects in mind," he said after the meeting.

He was appointed city controller in 1961 and in 1967 the job of city administrator was added.

Kaeppel is a native of St. Louis, Mo., and is a graduate of Loyola University and holds a master's degree from San Francisco State College. Music was his college major.

Kaeppel asked last night that his resignation become effective no later than Sept. 30.

In a short talk, he also asked the city council to make completion of the city's general plan a high priority item and to make long range plans for capital improvements and spending of federal revenue sharing funds.

Blinder Is Elected As Hub Mayor

Voting for him were two new councilmen, John H. Colteaux and Pieter Toal, and a reelected one, Woodrow V. Capurro, who took their seats last night. Retiring Mayor Lewis W. Stewart and Councilman Warren R. Perry, who did not seek reelection, made farewell talks.

Dr. Blinder, 37, has served on the council since April 1972.

Blinder's stint as councilman began with a motion that the San Anselmo Council place five of the United States Supreme Court justices under surveillance so that the judges would know what surveillance is like.

Since that time he has fought a rather successful battle to limit smoking in public places in San Anselmo and has spoken out on many diverse subjects ranging from campaign spending to the care of elm trees.

Blinder's practice of psychiatry often includes court appearances and he is the author of a number of publications, including "Psychiatry in the Everyday Practice of Law."

Before election to the city council, he was chairman of the San Anselmo Town Meeting for two years.

San Anselmo Withdraws A Smoking Ban Proposal

The San Anselmo City Council last night withdrew the controversial section of a proposed antismoking ordinance because "there was no hope of really enforcing it."

The council did, however, adopt the section of the ordinance which prohibits smoking in city buildings used for public meetings, a stipulation that had met no opposition.

The requirement, though, that all commercial or other establishments open to the public which provide seating for more than 20 persons set aside a voluntary nonsmoking section, was withdrawn.

It had been proposed that such sections be marked with signs saying, "The San Anselmo City Council has requested that we set aside this area for nonsmokers. Your cooperation is requested."

Failure to post such signs could have led to as much as a $500 fine for businessmen.

Restaurant owners and other entreprenaurs in the city had objected to the measure, saying it might lead to fights and drive away customers. The measure was primarily the work of Dr. Martin G. Blinder, San Anselmo's new mayor, who earlier succeeded in getting smoking banned at city council meetings.

It was agreed last night, however, that attempts would be made to enlist support of the city's chamber of commerce before taking up the matter again.

In other action last night, the city council attempted to allay fears of residents about the city's new garbage contract, which provides lower rates for persons who recycle their garbage.

Questioners were told that garbage men are not "guys with Ph.D's" who will minutely inspect the contents of each trash can. Some residents had feared that a transgression or two from the recycling program might keep them from being on the lower rate schedule.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

COMMISSION — Called for applications to fill a vacancy on the planning commission to replace John H. Colteaux, who was elected to the city council.

NOMINEES — Asked for nominees to the Marin County Grand Jury and for the "outstanding senior citizen of the year" award from citizens of San Anselmo.

AWARD — Outgoing Mayor Louis H. Stewart presented an embroidered pillow to Attilio Segale as a "citizen of the year" award. Segale is a regular attendant and participant in the city council meetings.

1.9 Million Deaths

NEW YORK (UPI) — From 1900 through 1972, motor-vehicle deaths in the United States totaled more than 1.9 million.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

THE GOVERNOR

Health — Said he would "take over" San Francisco's sewage system — shut down by a strike — if continued pollution of the bay poses a public health hazard.

Fuel — Told a news conference the winter fuel storage "all in all turned out very well."

Botulism — Apologized for saying it was "too bad we can't have an epidemic of botulism" in the Patricia Hearst kidnaping food giveaway.

THE SENATE

Passed

Pesticides — Grants authority to state and county agriculture officials to prohibit harvesting of crops found laden with excess pesticides. AB2546-Seeley, R-Blythe. 27-0.

Confirmed

JUDICIARY

Approved

Rape — Bars defense attorneys from prying into the sex life of rape victims. SB1678-Robbins, D-North Hollywood. 7-3. To floor.

Introduced

Coed Dorms

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A bill forbidding unmarried men and women students to live in the same college dormitories without "fixed walls" between them was passed in the Tennessee Senate yesterday.

Kaeppel In Resignation To Council

Alfred C. Kaeppel, San Anselmo's city administrator-controller, last night announced his resignation to the city council.

Kaeppel, 62, said he does not plan to take another job but neither does he plan complete retirement. "I have many projects in mind," he said after the meeting.

He was appointed city controller in 1961 and in 1967 the job of city administrator was added.

Kaeppel is a native of St. Louis, Mo., and is a graduate of Loyola University and holds a master's degree from San Francisco State College. Music was his college major.

Kaeppel asked last night that his resignation become effective no later than Sept. 30.

In a short talk, he also asked the city council to make completion of the city's general plan a high priority item and to make long range plans for capital improvements and spending of federal revenue sharing funds.

Blinder Is Elected As Hub Mayor

Voting for him were two new councilmen, John H. Colteaux and Pieter Toal, and a reelected one, Woodrow V. Capurro, who took their seats last night. Retiring Mayor Lewis W. Stewart and Councilman Warren R. Perry, who did not seek reelection, made farewell talks.

Dr. Blinder, 37, has served on the council since April 1972.

Blinder's stint as councilman began with a motion that the San Anselmo Council place five of the United States Supreme Court justices under surveillance so that the judges would know what surveillance is like.

Since that time he has fought a rather successful battle to limit smoking in public places in San Anselmo and has spoken out on many diverse subjects ranging from campaign spending to the care of elm trees.

Blinder's practice of psychiatry often includes court appearances and he is the author of a number of publications, including "Psychiatry in the Everyday Practice of Law."

Before election to the city council, he was chairman of the San Anselmo Town Meeting for two years.

ORDINANCE NO. 1139
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AMENDING TITLE 8, CHAPTER 8.12, SECTIONS 8.12.080 AND 8.12.090 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE PERTAINING TO POSTING OF SIGNS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:
DIVISION 1. Title 8, Chapter 8.12, Section 8.12.080 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended and shall read as follows:
Section:
8.12.080 Billposting and political signs on poles, posts, trees, electroliers, wires, and public property prohibited.
8.12.080 BILLPOSTING AND POLITICAL SIGNS ON POLES, POSTS, TREES, ELECTROLIERS, WIRES AND PUBLIC PROPERTY PROHIBITED. It is unlawful for any person to tack, paste or in any manner affix or attach any political sign, bill, sign, advertisement, notice, or matter of any kind whatever, printed or otherwise, to or upon any pole or post within the City of San Rafael used for carrying telephone, telegraph, or electric light wires, or to or upon any electroliers, electrolier poles, wires or conduits, or to or upon any city property, park or public place, including any tree in or thereupon, within the City of San Rafael. The above prohibitions do not extend to notices that are legally required to be posted under Federal, State, local or judicial regulations.
DIVISION 2. Title 8, Chapter 8.12, Section 8.12.090 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended and shall read as follows:
Section:
8.12.090 Billposting and political signs on private premises.
8.12.090 BILLPOSTING AND POLITICAL SIGNS ON PRIVATE PREMISES. It is unlawful for any person to build, post or affix or to cause to be built, posted or affixed, to or upon any private premises, any advertising board, sign, political sign, poster, bill or notice without the written consent of the owner, agent or occupant of the premises, and first having obtained a permit from the city manager or his designated representative, and having posted a cash bond in a sum to be set by resolution of the City Council of the City of San Rafael.
Any advertising board, political sign, sign, poster, bill or notice posted or affixed to or upon any private premises, with such consent, must be removed therefrom by the person receiving such permit within fifteen days after notice has been served upon him by the city manager or his designated representative. If such person fails or refuses to remove said advertising board, political sign, sign, poster, bill or notice, as much as is necessary of the security deposit heretofore posted by said permittee shall be used for the purpose of removing said advertising board, political sign, poster, bill, or notice. Any sums remaining after the removal as set forth above shall be returned to the person having posted said cash bond.
Upon obtaining the written consent of an owner, agent, or occupant of premises political signs may be posted inside said building or dwelling so that they are visible through the windows thereof. No permit shall be required from the City of San Rafael for displaying political signs in the manner set forth in this paragraph.
DIVISION 3. This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Businessmen Candidates For Heart Attack and Ulcers

Many business and professional men work constantly as they struggle along the ladder to success. They are overly ambitious in their desire to excel and cannot let go. Relaxation to them is synonymous with laziness. Many of these men become nervous and fidgety when they have nothing to do and champ at the bit when asked to spend a quiet evening. But the few who reach the pinnacle of achievement bask in the environment of decision making and "let the chips fall where they may."

While climbing to the top, the majority are candidates for a heart attack, ulcer, high blood pressure, or spastic bowel. Many are victims of a psychological disturbance that drives them on. They are ambitious and aggressive, with a profound sense of time urgency.

THESE PERSONALITY types are active physically and mentally. Their speech is forceful, explosive, emphatic, and often accompanied by fist clenching and grimaces.

However, they place health on the line when they begin to eat irregularly, use too much coffee and tea, and do not get enough sleep. Alcohol is used as a soporific by many of these men. There is no harm in a cocktail or two, but the individual is courting alcoholism and loss of his job when liquor is used to escape from reality. Most of the men who reach the top are emotionally mature and in absolute control of their faculties. They practice moderation in all things and do not let alcohol or anything else disturb their thinking.

MANY POTENTIAL and younger executives or professional men and women are charter members of the grief case brigade. Unfinished work is taken home and right after dinner they are busy at the desk in the library, den, or dining room. There is no harm provided they allow for leisure and fun. The brief case or traveling conscience serves as a reminder of unfinished projects and makes it harder to turn off the wheels when trying to sleep.

It has been said that if a man cannot finish his work in eight hours, he has too many jobs, is poorly organized, or is inept. Most tasks (except daily health columns) will keep until tomorrow; there is no need to carry them home.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed evenlope accompanies request c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

NIGHT SWEATS

Mr. P. writes: I have to change my pajamas two or three times every day (winter and summer) because of night sweats. Please advise.

REPLY

The sweat glands are controled by the autonomic nervous system and are overactive in high-strung and nervous people. Other causes are conditions in which the body is too warm and must dissipate the excees heat; fever from infection is the best example. Too many blankets, taking too much alcohol or aspirin, or overactivity of the thyroid gland may be responsible.

Case 86433

SHERIFF'S OFFICE )
COUNTY OF MARIN ) ss.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA )

BY VIRTUE of an execution issued out of the Municipal Court of County of San Francisco in an action wherein SIDNEY M. LEWIN, plaintiff, and INTERNATIONAL CONCRETE SYSTEMS CONSULTANTS, INC., et al, defendant, upon a judgment rendered on the 26th day of September, 1973, in favor of said SIDNEY M. LEWIN and against said INTERNATIONAL CONCRETE SYSTEMS CONSULTANTS, Inc., a corporation, ANDREA MINUTOLI and REGINALD LOCKS, in the sum of One Thousand Eight Hundred Ninety Seven and 46/100 in Lawful Money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have this day levied upon all the right, title, claim, and interest of said defendant, INTERNATIONAL CONCRETE SYSTEMS CONSULTANTS INC., a corporation in and to all that real property situated in the Central Judicial District, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

PARCEL ONE:
BEGINNING at a point on the center line of Diablo Avenue, distant thereon North 29° 15' East 270 feet from the Southwest corner of Lot 97, as the same is shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Subdivision A and B of the Novato Ranch, Marin County, Cal.", filed November 18, 1907 in Book 3 of Maps at page 36, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, State of California, running thence North 29° 15' East 120 feet, thence leaving said center line of Diablo Road and running South 60° 45' East 330 feet; thence South 29° 15' West 120 feet; thence North 60° 45' West 330 feet to the point of beginning.
EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion included in Diablo Road for Road purposes.

PARCEL TWO:
BEGINNING at a point on the center line of Diablo Avenue, distant thereon North 29° 15' East 390 feet from the Southwest corner of Lot 97, as the same is shown and delineated upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Subdivision "A" and "B" of the Novato Ranch, Marin County, Cal.", filed November 18, 1909 in Book 3 of Maps at page 36, in the office of the County Recorder, Marin County, California, thence South 60° 45' East 330 feet; thence North 29° 15' East 36 Feet to the center of the drainage ditch running along said lot; thence Northwesterly along the center of said ditch to a point in the center line of Diablo Avenue which point is distant North 29° 15' East 149.3 feet from the point of commencement; thence South 29° 15' West 149.3 feet along the center line of Diablo Avenue to the point of beginning.
EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion for road purposes within Diablo Avenue.
EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion conveyed in the Deed executed by Herbert R. Ormsby, et ux, to John L. Novak, et ux, recorded November 6, 1951 in Book 715 of Official Records at page 440, Marin County Records and more particularly described as follows:
BEGINNING at a point on the Southeasterly line of Diablo Road, which point bears North 29° 15' East 507.35 feet and South 60° 45' East 15.0 feet from the intersection of the center line of Diablo Road with the center line of Center Road, as said roads are shown on map of Subdivision A & B, Novato Ranch, filed November 18, 1909 in Book 3 of Maps at page 36, Marin-County Records, and running thence South 60° 45' East 25.93 feet, North 29° 15' East 11.18 feet and North 52° 29' 10" West 26.20 feet to said Diablo Road line, thence South 29° 15' West 14.95 feet to the point of beginning.
BEING portions of Lot 97 as shown upon the map above referred to.

PARCEL THREE:
BEGINNING at a point on the centerline of Diablo Avenue, distant thereon North 29° 15' East 270 feet from the Southwest corner of Lot 97, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Subdivision "A" and "B" of the Novato Ranch, Marin County, Cal.", filed for record November 18, 1909 in Volume 3 of Maps, at Page 36, Marin County Records; thence South 60° 45' East 330 feet; thence South 29° 15' West 120 feet; thence North 60° 45' West 330 feet; thence North 29° 15' East 120 feet to the point of beginning.
And notice is hereby given that I will on Tuesday, the 2nd day of April, 1974, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, in front of the Sheriff's Dept. Entrance, Lobby 3, Hall of Justice, Civic Center, in the City of San Rafael in said County, sell to the highest bidder at PUBLIC AUCTION for Lawful Money of the United States, all the right, title, claim, and interest of said defendant, International Concrete Systems Consultants Inc., a California corporation in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient money to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs and accruing costs.

Public Notice

ORDINANCE NO. 1139
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AMENDING TITLE 8, CHAPTER 8.12, SECTIONS 8.12.080 AND 8.12.090 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE PERTAINING TO POSTING OF SIGNS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:
DIVISION 1. Title 8, Chapter 8.12, Section 8.12.080 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended and shall read as follows:
Section:
8.12.080 Billposting and political signs on poles, posts, trees, electroliers, wires, and public property prohibited.
8.12.080 BILLPOSTING AND POLITICAL SIGNS ON POLES, POSTS, TREES, ELECTROLIERS, WIRES AND PUBLIC PROPERTY PROHIBITED. It is unlawful for any person to tack, paste or in any manner affix or attach any political sign, bill, sign, advertisement, notice, or matter of any kind whatever, printed or otherwise, to or upon any pole or post within the City of San Rafael used for carrying telephone, telegraph, or electric light wires, or to or upon any electroliers, electrolier poles, wires or conduits, or to or upon any city property, park or public place, including any tree in or thereupon, within the City of San Rafael. The above prohibitions do not extend to notices that are legally required to be posted under Federal, State, local or judicial regulations.
DIVISION 2. Title 8, Chapter 8.12, Section 8.12.090 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended and shall read as follows:
Section:
8.12.090 Billposting and political signs on private premises.
8.12.090 BILLPOSTING AND POLITICAL SIGNS ON PRIVATE PREMISES. It is unlawful for any person to build, post or affix or to cause to be built, posted or affixed, to or upon any private premises, any advertising board, sign, political sign, poster, bill or notice without the written consent of the owner, agent or occupant of the premises, and first having obtained a permit from the city manager or his designated representative, and having posted a cash bond in a sum to be set by resolution of the City Council of the City of San Rafael.
Any advertising board, political sign, sign, poster, bill or notice posted or affixed to or upon any private premises, with such consent, must be removed therefrom by the person receiving such permit within fifteen days after notice has been served upon him by the city manager or his designated representative. If such person fails or refuses to remove said advertising board, political sign, sign, poster, bill or notice, as much as is necessary of the security deposit heretofore posted by said permittee shall be used for the purpose of removing said advertising board, political sign, poster, bill, or notice. Any sums remaining after the removal as set forth above shall be returned to the person having posted said cash bond.
Upon obtaining the written consent of an owner, agent, or occupant of premises political signs may be posted inside said building or dwelling so that they are visible through the windows thereof. # HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Businessmen Candidates For Heart Attack and Ulcers

Many business and professional men work constantly as they struggle along the ladder to success. They are overly ambitious in their desire to excel and cannot let go. Relaxation to them is synonymous with laziness. Many of these men become nervous and fidgety when they have nothing to do and champ at the bit when asked to spend a quiet evening. But the few who reach the pinnacle of achievement bask in the environment of decision making and "let the chips fall where they may."

While climbing to the top, the majority are candidates for a heart attack, ulcer, high blood pressure, or spastic bowel. Many are victims of a psychological disturbance that drives them on. They are ambitious and aggressive, with a profound sense of time urgency.

THESE PERSONALITY types are active physically and mentally. Their speech is forceful, explosive, emphatic, and often accompanied by fist clenching and grimaces.

However, they place health on the line when they begin to eat irregularly, use too much coffee and tea, and do not get enough sleep. Alcohol is used as a soporific by many of these men. There is no harm in a cocktail or two, but the individual is courting alcoholism and loss of his job when liquor is used to escape from reality. Most of the men who reach the top are emotionally mature and in absolute control of their faculties. They practice moderation in all things and do not let alcohol or anything else disturb their thinking.

MANY POTENTIAL and younger executives or professional men and women are charter members of the grief case brigade. Unfinished work is taken home and right after dinner they are busy at the desk in the library, den, or dining room. There is no harm provided they allow for leisure and fun. The brief case or traveling conscience serves as a reminder of unfinished projects and makes it harder to turn off the wheels when trying to sleep.

It has been said that if a man cannot finish his work in eight hours, he has too many jobs, is poorly organized, or is inept. Most tasks (except daily health columns) will keep until tomorrow; there is no need to carry them home.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed evenlope accompanies request c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

NIGHT SWEATS

Mr. P. writes: I have to change my pajamas two or three times every day (winter and summer) because of night sweats. Please advise.

REPLY

The sweat glands are controled by the autonomic nervous system and are overactive in high-strung and nervous people. Other causes are conditions in which the body is too warm and must dissipate the excees heat; fever from infection is the best example. Too many blankets, taking too much alcohol or aspirin, or overactivity of the thyroid gland may be responsible.

Bold Bandits

HONG KONG (UPI) — Five bandits, one of them a woman, tied up the staff of a hotel yesterday and systematically went from room to room robbing the occupants at knifepoint, police said.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8 p.m. — David Niven narrates the special "We Live With the Elephants," a documentary woven around the five-year study of Scottish scientist Ian Douglas-Hamilton and his family, who have been living among 500 elephants on the Manyara preserve in Tanzania.

KCRA (3), KRON (4), 8:30 p.m. — The true story of Eddie Slovik, the only American serviceman executed for desertion since the Civil War, is traced from his young adulthood to his execution in France in "The Execution of Private Slovik." The motion picture drama stars Martin Sheen, Mariclare Costello and Ned Beatty.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — A former gunslinger is unjustly hanged and pronounced dead, yet returns to life hours later as a mystical and mysterious avenger in the Old West in "The Hanged Man," a western starring Steve Forrest, Dean Jagger, Will Geer and Cameron Mitchell.

KQED (9), 10:30 p.m. — "The Uprising of the 20,000," an original dramatization based on the first large strike of women workers in the United States, will be seen on "Open Studio TV." Performed by the American Conservatory Theater students, the show portrays events of the 1909 strike when women garment workers in New York City rebelled against their intolerable working conditions.

Nixon Tells Veterans Military Might Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taking tough stands on military and Watergate matters, President Nixon has begun a new series of public appearances apparently designed to help gain public support.

Speaking before the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention last night, Nixon emphasized the need for U.S. military strength to enable the country to keep peace around the world.

"The key to the United States' being able to play the role of peacemaker is strength —military strength is part of that," he said.

"In terms of the defense budget of the United States it is essential that at this particular time...the United States keep the strength it needs to keep the peace," Nixon said.

He said he would continue to work toward the goal of world peace "in the three years I have in this office remaining."

The Osmonds Are First A Family

TALENTED TROUPE — The Osmonds, devout Mormons and night club entertainment stars, might seem paradoxical to some, but not to the family, which has managed to maintain a wholesome environment amid all the glitter and temptations of the entertainment world.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — To some people, the lives of the Osmonds — teen idols, night club stars and recording artists — might seem paradoxical.

On the one hand, they are devout Mormons, pledged to abstain from alcohol, tobacco, coffee, gambling and premarital sex.

On the other hand, they live in a world of rock music criticized by some Mormon leaders and they earn much of their wealth performing before the gambling crowds of Las Vegas.

But the 11-member family, which says it begins each day with a family prayer and gives 10 per cent of its income to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, sees no contradictions in lifestyles.

"Jesus ate with the publicans and the sinner," Olive Osmond, the mother, said during an interview at the family's Provo home between work engagements.

"People are people whether they're there to see a show or gamble in the slot machines," said her husband, George. "We go in the back door and out the back door."

Whatever the religious considerations, the Osmonds have hit it big. Almost continually one or more of the seven singing Osmond children has a record high on the charts. They play to standing room crowds.

In 1972, the Osmonds produced 11 records, each hitting at least the one million mark in sales. No other singer or group — not the Beatles, not Elvis Presley — had so many gold records in one year.

The seven performing Osmonds are Alan, 24; Wayne, 22; Merrill, 20; Jay, 19; Donny, 16; Marie, 14, and Jimmy, 10. Two older children in the family, Virl and Tom, are deaf and work on "Osbro" — a name given some family productions.

Alan, Wayne, Merrill and Jay were the original Osmond Brothers, but Donny later joined them. Jimmy solos and sometimes performs novelty acts with the group, while Marie is getting into the country and western field with her recent top-of-the-charts "Paper Roses."

Donny, who appers monthly on the covers of fan magazines aimed at teen-age girls, was not allowed to date until his 16th birthday last December, the family says.

The progress of the family from obscurity in Utah to bright lights in Las Vegas can be measured step by step.

They started with barbershop harmonies at their church-sponsored family home evenings, then went from civic club dates to Disneyland, to the Andy Williams television show for nine seasons and finally to Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. They recently signed a four-year contract with the Tropicana in Las Vegas.

"We always felt that our mission was to the outside world," said George Osmond, 56, a former insurance and real estate broker.

After singing, the brothers learned to dance, then play instruments.

The Osmonds attribute to their family closeness any success they have in maintaining a wholesome environment amid the glitter and temptations of the entertainment world.

"It's rough to be in the business and not start to become part of it," says Alan. "If you're careful, you can be. And that's why working together as a family has helped us to maintain our values and our goals."

Bold Bandits

HONG KONG (UPI) — Five bandits, one of them a woman, tied up the staff of a hotel yesterday and systematically went from room to room robbing the occupants at knifepoint, police said.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8 p.m. — David Niven narrates the special "We Live With the Elephants," a documentary woven around the five-year study of Scottish scientist Ian Douglas-Hamilton and his family, who have been living among 500 elephants on the Manyara preserve in Tanzania.

KCRA (3), KRON (4), 8:30 p.m. — The true story of Eddie Slovik, the only American serviceman executed for desertion since the Civil War, is traced from his young adulthood to his execution in France in "The Execution of Private Slovik." The motion picture drama stars Martin Sheen, Mariclare Costello and Ned Beatty.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — A former gunslinger is unjustly hanged and pronounced dead, yet returns to life hours later as a mystical and mysterious avenger in the Old West in "The Hanged Man," a western starring Steve Forrest, Dean Jagger, Will Geer and Cameron Mitchell.

KQED (9), 10:30 p.m. — "The Uprising of the 20,000," an original dramatization based on the first large strike of women workers in the United States, will be seen on "Open Studio TV." Performed by the American Conservatory Theater students, the show portrays events of the 1909 strike when women garment workers in New York City rebelled against their intolerable working conditions.

Nixon Tells Veterans Military Might Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taking tough stands on military and Watergate matters, President Nixon has begun a new series of public appearances apparently designed to help gain public support.

Speaking before the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention last night, Nixon emphasized the need for U.S. military strength to enable the country to keep peace around the world.

"The key to the United States' being able to play the role of peacemaker is strength —military strength is part of that," he said.

"In terms of the defense budget of the United States it is essential that at this particular time...the United States keep the strength it needs to keep the peace," Nixon said.

He said he would continue to work toward the goal of world peace "in the three years I have in this office remaining."

CHANNEL CHUCKLES

The Osmonds Are First A Family

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — To some people, the lives of the Osmonds — teen idols, night club stars and recording artists — might seem paradoxical.

On the one hand, they are devout Mormons, pledged to abstain from alcohol, tobacco, coffee, gambling and premarital sex.

On the other hand, they live in a world of rock music criticized by some Mormon leaders and they earn much of their wealth performing before the gambling crowds of Las Vegas.

But the 11-member family, which says it begins each day with a family prayer and gives 10 per cent of its income to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, sees no contradictions in lifestyles.

"Jesus ate with the publicans and the sinner," Olive Osmond, the mother, said during an interview at the family's Provo home between work engagements.

"People are people whether they're there to see a show or gamble in the slot machines," said her husband, George. "We go in the back door and out the back door."

Whatever the religious considerations, the Osmonds have hit it big. Almost continually one or more of the seven singing Osmond children has a record high on the charts. They play to standing room crowds.

In 1972, the Osmonds produced 11 records, each hitting at least the one million mark in sales. No other singer or group — not the Beatles, not Elvis Presley — had so many gold records in one year.

The seven performing Osmonds are Alan, 24; Wayne, 22; Merrill, 20; Jay, 19; Donny, 16; Marie, 14, and Jimmy, 10. Two older children in the family, Virl and Tom, are deaf and work on "Osbro" — a name given some family productions.

Alan, Wayne, Merrill and Jay were the original Osmond Brothers, but Donny later joined them. Jimmy solos and sometimes performs novelty acts with the group, while Marie is getting into the country and western field with her recent top-of-the-charts "Paper Roses."

Donny, who appers monthly on the covers of fan magazines aimed at teen-age girls, was not allowed to date until his 16th birthday last December, the family says.

TALENTED TROUPE — The Osmonds, devout Mormons and night club entertainment stars, might seem paradoxical to some, but not to the family, which has managed to maintain a wholesome environment amid all the glitter and temptations of the entertainment world.

The progress of the family from obscurity in Utah to bright lights in Las Vegas can be measured step by step.

They started with barbershop harmonies at their church-sponsored family home evenings, then went from civic club dates to Disneyland, to the Andy Williams television show for nine seasons and finally to Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. They recently signed a four-year contract with the Tropicana in Las Vegas.

"We always felt that our mission was to the outside world," said George Osmond, 56, a former insurance and real estate broker.

After singing, the brothers learned to dance, then play instruments.

The Osmonds attribute to their family closeness any success they have in maintaining a wholesome environment amid the glitter and temptations of the entertainment world.

"It's rough to be in the business and not start to become part of it," says Alan. "If you're careful, you can be. And that's why working together as a family has helped us to maintain our values and our goals."

SHERRY C. LEVIT

Mrs. Levit To Belvedere City Council

Sherry C. Levit, who missed out by 15 votes last week in a bid for the Belvedere City Council, was appointed to a two-year term last night by the new council.

Until she can be seated, though, councilmen voted not to elect a mayor to replace Allan Steinau, who did not seek re-election.

A state law prohibits a councilman from taking office for at least 10 days after filing a financial disclosure statement. Mrs. Levit said she would do so today.

Newly elected councilmen Charles E. Auerbach, 52, and Dr. Stuart C. Cullen, 65, took their seats last night. Cullen polled 322 votes in the March 5 balloting, edging out Mrs. Levit, who had 307.

The outgoing council had recommended that the new council name Mrs. Levit, the person who placed third in the election, to fill the unexpired term of Merritt K. Ruddock, who resigned unexpectedly two weeks ago, and councilmen did so unanimously.

Then, Cullen suggested the traditional election of a mayor be postponed until Mrs. Levit, 31, takes office. His motion likewise passed unanimously.

Before the old council yielded to the new, outgoing Mayor Steinau reported he telegraphed the San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday expressing his "extreme distress and concern" over the dumping of raw sewage into the bay during that city's municipal employees' strike.

On a motion by David E. Bordon, the council affirmed Steinau's action and voted to send a similar letter to the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The council adjourned to a closed session at 8 p.m. March 25 to consider appointments to various city commissions and committees.

Butz Will Make An Asian Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz plans to make a three-week swing through Asia for trade and agricultural talks next month.

Spokesmen said yesterday Butz will be visiting countries which buy one quarter of all U.S. farm exports—Japan, Korea, Thailand, Hong Kong, the Philippines and Taiwan.

Butz plans to leave April 2 and return April 25.

Pipes In Castle Are Lead Hazard

LONDON (UPI) — Drinking water passing through Victorian era lead pipes may threaten the health of the British royal family at their Balmoral country estate in Scotland, a pollution authority said yesterday.

Derek Bryce-Smith of Reading University's chemistry department said a test of water at the castle showed it contained 100 micrograms of lead per liter. The safety level set by the World Health Organization is 50 micrograms, he said.

RALPH CHATOIAN

I-J Sports Editor

Pro Trackmen: An Underpaid Lot

Professional track and field performers are among the very few pro athletes who earn less money than the out-of-shape, portly characters who scribble down notes and then write about those performers in newspapers throughout the land.

Some of them even made more money in under the table payoffs than they earn professionally now that they have thrown off the cloak of amateurism.

While professional football, baseball and basketball players are pulling down six-figure contracts like so many plums off a tree, the pro trackmen are struggling. Their earnings are more like meal money to the high rollers of the other sports.

Last year's leading money winner on the International Track Association tour was quarter-miler Lee Evans. His total winnings: $13,900. Number two winner was Chris Fisher, middle distance runner from Australia, with earnings of $13,000. Fisher, a very articulate young man, stopped off in San Rafael the other day and we were able to discuss the pro track story.

He is very optimistic of the pro sport's future. But he also has a hole card, so to speak, in that he already has a job to fall back to if the paychecks don't go up in track. He is putting together a partnership in a sporting goods store in Australia so he won't go hungry if he quits track.

"LAST YEAR WAS THE first year for pro track," said Fisher, and I know things will improve. Bigger crowds will increase the purses."

The ITA has made four stops this year and in three of them the attendance was adequate. Baltimore drew only 5,000 spectators, a losing proposition, but 7,000 were at Pocatello, Idaho, 10,500 at Salt Lake City and 11,000 at Long Island, N.Y. That's improvement.

Fisher and the rest of the indoor track and field stars — performers such as Jim Ryun, Ben Jipcho, Bob Seagren, Steve Smith, Dave Wottle and Brian Oldfield — will be competing in the ITA meet at the Cow Palace Friday evening, March 29.

"THE ITA IS IN the infant stages," said Fisher. "Like everything else, it will take time to develop. . . maybe four or five years." But he is not shooting for the moon. "It's out of proportion the money some athletes are getting. No one athlete is worth $200,000. No one basketball player is worth $1 million."

Fisher might be patient, but he's not happy, about the low pay of the pro track athlete. "We train twice as hard as athletes in other sports," he said. "The unfortunate part is that you train so hard for the amount of money you get."

During their stay in the U.S., Fisher and his wife are living in the home of Seagren and his wife in Westwood. They do a lot of their training at UCLA. That helps the Fisher expenses, since he didn't get a fat paycheck out of ABC's Superstar promotion as did Seagren the past two years.

HAPPY TO BE OUT of so-called amateur track, Fisher said the situation is even worse in Australia than it is in the United States in keeping amateur track lily white. "It's the worst hypocritical, political bull that I know of." The definition of amateur changes drastically when you get to the Soviet Union or Japan, he points out. "These people are pro in every sense of the word."

Fisher set an indoor world mark of 2:19.7 for 1,000 meters last year and it was seen on a "Wide World of Sports" telecast. The former Olympian (Munich, '72) recorded 11 wins, three seconds and one third during that initial season. This year he is unbeaten in four 1,000-meter races, and to do that he has had to beat Ryun and Olympic champ Wottle. He'll be challenged by that pair again in the Cow Palace meet.

Tickets for that meet are available at all Ticketron outlets, including those in Marin County.

(UPI Telephoto)

A'S BEAT GIANTS, 8-5

Both Teams Happy

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Each team had something to be happy about today after Oakland took San Francisco 8-5 in the first Cactus League meeting of the spring between the two cross-bay neighbors.

The A's were happy with the win yesterday which was largely due to a three-run homer by designated hitter Deron Johnson off young Don Rose in the fourth.

But the big news was the good performance by Chuck Dobson, who was 15-5 in 1971 but never has approached that form since undergoing arm surgery in 1972.

Dobson allowed four hits and fanned three in three innings to get credit for the win and said after the game he felt better than he has the past two years, most of which were spent in the minors.

If the A's were to add a recovered Dobson to their already awesome mound staff, it would make them nearly a sure shot for a third straight championship.

San Francisco could take satisfaction in getting five runs off the tough A's and the fact that Tom Bradley, Elias Sosa and Randy Moffitt all pitched well against Oakland, which went with its top lineup. Only Rose was shelled.

Oakland, now 2-2 in spring play, entertains California here today. San Francisco, 1-2, plays the Cubs in Phoenix.

Manny Trillo and Ted Kubiak had said they both wanted the job after Green announced his retirement but Green was talked out of retirement in what is becoming an annual ceremony.

"Manny and Ted are fine all-around players," Dark said yesterday. "Each can play three infield positions and Kubiak already has surprised me with his glove. But Greenie? Well, I had Dick at Kansas City in '66 and '67 and I've got to say he is some kind of a player."

USF Dons Claim Cinderella Role In NCAA Tournament

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of San Francisco Dons have undisputed claim to the Cinderella role in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament.

"We're not a great team," Coach Bob Gaillard concedes.

But this may be the year UCLA, with seven straight NCAA titles, doesn't have a great team either. The Dons hope to meet the Bruins in the finals of the tournament's Western Regional which opens tomorrow night in Tucson, Ariz.

The Dons take an 18-8 regular season record into their opening tournament game against New Mexico, 21-6. San Francisco has the worst record among the 16 teams in the four regionals, and the Dons are one of just three teams not ranked in the nation's top 20.

"But in our defense, we were doing a lot of experimenting then," Gaillard said. "And the teams we lost to weren't so bad — teams like Michigan, Maryland, Providence and Long Beach State."

Senior Kevin Restani, who shot 51 per cent from the floor as a junior, was barely over 20 per cent in the tough December going. After a brief spell on the bench, however, the 6-foot-9 forward regained his touch and finished with an average of 16.8 points per game and a 46 per cent shooting mark.

Phil Smith, senior guard, led the Dons in scoring with a 21.3 point average.

The Dons won a third straight West Coast Athletic Conference title with a 12-2 record, losing road games to Seattle and Nevada-Las Vegas.

"They start four seniors, have great over-all quickness and rebounding strength. On defense, they're a pressure type of team."

Guards Smith and John Boro will be the Dons getting most of the pressure, and Gaillard doesn't want his team to fast break too much.

"We're not going to try to run with them. They have too much depth," he said.

USF has used no more than seven players in most of its toughest games. New Mexico has used up to 11, Gaillard said.

Goals Galore Expected Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) — There shold be plenty of scoring tonight when the California Golden Seals host Detroit, 8 o'clock in Oakland Coliseum Arena.

Oakland has allowed 283 goals this season while winning 13 losing 44 and tying nine. Only Detroit can approach this record for defensive ineptitude, allowing 264 goals while winning 11 more games.

Seals owner Garry Young said yesterday that "there is no question our first pick in the (amateur) draft will be a defensemen. I've narrowed it down to two kids, both big ones."

Marin Tennis Team Whips Merritt, 9-0

Pooped Warriors Hoping For Rest

Lakers Get Chance To Take Lead

DETROIT (UPI) — Is it lack of a killer instinct or lack of a bench that causes the Golden State Warriors frequently to dissipate large leads in key games?

Last night, it might have just been the fact that the team was pooped.

Whatever the cause, Golden State was leading Detroit 65-56 when the Pistons went on a 16-2 burst and rode home on Dave Bing's hot shooting to a 113-108 win.

Los Angeles, in stark contrast, trailed at New York 97-89 but rallied for a 109-102 win to pull within percentage points of the Warriors. The Lakers can move ahead with a win at Philadelphia tonight.

The Warriors return to action tomorrow when New York comes to call and then meet Los Angeles Friday and Saturday.

Bing wound up with 28 points and Bob Lanier, who went to the hospital Monday night with an eye injury, came back in full force to score 25.

Rick Barry and Jeff Mullins, who scored 67 points in leading the Warriors to a 120-108 win over the Pistons in a makeup game Monday, only produced 45 last night as they tallied 23 and 22 respectively.

By midnight Saturday, the Warriors will have played eight games in 10 days and six in seven days.

"It's just not fair," says Barry. "We'll be dead by the end of the week."

The Warriors are especially bitter at Monday's contest at Detroit, which interrupted what could have been a key day of rest.

GOLDEN STATE (108): Barry 8 7-7 23, Lee 2 4-7 8, G. Johnson 8 1-3 17, Beard 3 0-0 6, Mullins 9 4-4 22, Russell 8 2-2 18, Barnett 6 2-2 14. Totals 44 20-25 108.

Ed Thibodeau shot an even-par 34 for the Bulldogs, while Mark Campagna led Tam with a 37.

Raiders Outscore 49ers On Court

By DAVE DEL GRANDE

Two young men, Marin County's first sports streakers of the year, made a brief third-quarter appearance during the basketball game between the Oakland Raiders and San Francisco 49ers. They raced the length of the floor, one scored on a layup, and then both vanished into the night.

The methodical Raiders ignored the interruption and went on to an 84-75 victory in one of their traveling cage encounters. Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff, as quick and evasive as the streakers but somewhat better dressed, consistently hit from 20 to 25 feet out enroute to his game high 36 points. He also collected 13 rebounds.

The 49ers, who played Oakland even for the first three quarters, collapsed in the fourth. While failing to score a field goal in the first four minutes of the fourth period, San Francisco saw a 60-60 tie drop to a 70-60 deficit and thereafter never was within five. John Isenbarger led all 49er scorers with 23 points while offensive tackle Cas Banaszek led all rebounders with 22.

The game was very serious at times. One incident had Biletnikoff, undoubtedly taking off-season lessons from teammate Ray Guy, punting the ball nearly through Redwood's roof after referee Verle Sorgen had accused him of traveling. The scene drew Biletnikoff not a 15-yard penalty, but a technical foul.

Another serious moment was when 49er Cedrick Hardman fell heavily to the court after grabbing a rebound. As the 1,200 fans feared another knee injury, Hardman quickly returned to his feet and all worries were erased.

Little League Protest Planned

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Little League baseball administrators plan to hold a demonstration at the state capital soon to urge the New Jersey Legislature to stay a ruling requiring the league to let girls play.

In January the State Division on Civil Rights formalized a ruling that made New Jersey the first state in the nation to require Little League baseball teams to permit girls to play. Civil Rights Hearing Examiner Sylvia Pressler issued the ruling last November.

At a meeting in Hazlet Saturday, Little League officials — incensed at the ruling — voted unanimously to suspend all play in the state.

Carmine Conti, administrator for the league's District 7 in Hudson County, said yesterday that administrators and league presidents intend to hold another meeting this weekend at which they plan to organize a "buscade" to Trenton. Members about the state would bus to the capital, probably early next week, he said, to see the governor and legislators and to demonstrate peacefully.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?

Phil Roberto (17, white) of St. Louis ended up with the puck resting on his arm in a National Hockey League game last night in St. Louis, causing Toronto's Bob Neely (3) to try desperately to get it away, even though he had to hurdle Toronto goalie Dunc Wilson to do it. St. Louis won, 2-1. See hockey roundup, page 35.

I-J Sports Editor

Pro Trackmen: An Underpaid Lot

Professional track and field performers are among the very few pro athletes who earn less money than the out-of-shape, portly characters who scribble down notes and then write about those performers in newspapers throughout the land.

Some of them even made more money in under the table payoffs than they earn professionally now that they have thrown off the cloak of amateurism.

While professional football, baseball and basketball players are pulling down six-figure contracts like so many plums off a tree, the pro trackmen are struggling. Their earnings are more like meal money to the high rollers of the other sports.

Last year's leading money winner on the International Track Association tour was quarter-miler Lee Evans. His total winnings: $13,900. Number two winner was Chris Fisher, middle distance runner from Australia, with earnings of $13,000. Fisher, a very articulate young man, stopped off in San Rafael the other day and we were able to discuss the pro track story.

He is very optimistic of the pro sport's future. But he also has a hole card, so to speak, in that he already has a job to fall back to if the paychecks don't go up in track. He is putting together a partnership in a sporting goods store in Australia so he won't go hungry if he quits track.

"LAST YEAR WAS THE first year for pro track," said Fisher, and I know things will improve. Bigger crowds will increase the purses."

The ITA has made four stops this year and in three of them the attendance was adequate. Baltimore drew only 5,000 spectators, a losing proposition, but 7,000 were at Pocatello, Idaho, 10,500 at Salt Lake City and 11,000 at Long Island, N.Y. That's improvement.

Fisher and the rest of the indoor track and field stars — performers such as Jim Ryun, Ben Jipcho, Bob Seagren, Steve Smith, Dave Wottle and Brian Oldfield — will be competing in the ITA meet at the Cow Palace Friday evening, March 29.

"THE ITA IS IN the infant stages," said Fisher. "Like everything else, it will take time to develop. . . maybe four or five years." But he is not shooting for the moon. "It's out of proportion the money some athletes are getting. No one athlete is worth $200,000. No one basketball player is worth $1 million."

Fisher might be patient, but he's not happy, about the low pay of the pro track athlete. "We train twice as hard as athletes in other sports," he said. "The unfortunate part is that you train so hard for the amount of money you get."

During their stay in the U.S., Fisher and his wife are living in the home of Seagren and his wife in Westwood. They do a lot of their training at UCLA. That helps the Fisher expenses, since he didn't get a fat paycheck out of ABC's Superstar promotion as did Seagren the past two years.

HAPPY TO BE OUT of so-called amateur track, Fisher said the situation is even worse in Australia than it is in the United States in keeping amateur track lily white. "It's the worst hypocritical, political bull that I know of." The definition of amateur changes drastically when you get to the Soviet Union or Japan, he points out. "These people are pro in every sense of the word."

Fisher set an indoor world mark of 2:19.7 for 1,000 meters last year and it was seen on a "Wide World of Sports" telecast. The former Olympian (Munich, '72) recorded 11 wins, three seconds and one third during that initial season. This year he is unbeaten in four 1,000-meter races, and to do that he has had to beat Ryun and Olympic champ Wottle. He'll be challenged by that pair again in the Cow Palace meet.

Tickets for that meet are available at all Ticketron outlets, including those in Marin County.

Both Teams Happy

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Each team had something to be happy about today after Oakland took San Francisco 8-5 in the first Cactus League meeting of the spring between the two cross-bay neighbors.

The A's were happy with the win yesterday which was largely due to a three-run homer by designated hitter Deron Johnson off young Don Rose in the fourth.

But the big news was the good performance by Chuck Dobson, who was 15-5 in 1971 but never has approached that form since undergoing arm surgery in 1972.

Dobson allowed four hits and fanned three in three innings to get credit for the win and said after the game he felt better than he has the past two years, most of which were spent in the minors.

If the A's were to add a recovered Dobson to their already awesome mound staff, it would make them nearly a sure shot for a third straight championship.

San Francisco could take satisfaction in getting five runs off the tough A's and the fact that Tom Bradley, Elias Sosa and Randy Moffitt all pitched well against Oakland, which went with its top lineup. Only Rose was shelled.

Oakland, now 2-2 in spring play, entertains California here today. San Francisco, 1-2, plays the Cubs in Phoenix.

Manny Trillo and Ted Kubiak had said they both wanted the job after Green announced his retirement but Green was talked out of retirement in what is becoming an annual ceremony.

"Manny and Ted are fine all-around players," Dark said yesterday. "Each can play three infield positions and Kubiak already has surprised me with his glove. But Greenie? Well, I had Dick at Kansas City in '66 and '67 and I've got to say he is some kind of a player."

USF Dons Claim Cinderella Role In NCAA Tournament

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of San Francisco Dons have undisputed claim to the Cinderella role in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament.

"We're not a great team," Coach Bob Gaillard concedes.

But this may be the year UCLA, with seven straight NCAA titles, doesn't have a great team either. The Dons hope to meet the Bruins in the finals of the tournament's Western Regional which opens tomorrow night in Tucson, Ariz.

The Dons take an 18-8 regular season record into their opening tournament game against New Mexico, 21-6. San Francisco has the worst record among the 16 teams in the four regionals, and the Dons are one of just three teams not ranked in the nation's top 20.

"But in our defense, we were doing a lot of experimenting then," Gaillard said. "And the teams we lost to weren't so bad — teams like Michigan, Maryland, Providence and Long Beach State."

The Dons won a third straight West Coast Athletic Conference title with a 12-2 record, losing road games to Seattle and Nevada-Las Vegas.

Bowler Laub Heads Entries

Combined AP & UPI

DENVER — Larry Laub, who took last week off after winning three of the first nine stops on this year's Pro Bowlers Association tour, heads the list of entries in the $85,000 Lincoln Mercury Open bowling tournament beginning today.

Laub, of San Francisco, has won $34,000, second only to Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., who has almost $44,000 in winnings.

Hockey

DETROIT — Defenseman Larry Johnson, who had been playing without a signed contract, was paid off yesterday and told he was not needed the rest of the season by the Detroit Red Wings.

Johnson renegotiated his expiring two-year pact with general manager Ned Harkness, who resigned before the defenseman could iron out some minor details and sign the new contract, which was to have been for three seasons.

Tennis

NEW YORK — Ilie Nastase, the fiery Romanian rated as perhaps the best tennis player in the world, cannot play World Team Tennis.

The New York sets, who had been negotiating with him, announced yesterday that Nastase, under orders from his Romanian tennis federation, cannot compete in WTT league play, because if he did so he would be banned from major European events, such as the French and Italian championships.

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Top-seeded American star Arthur Ashe defeated Jun Kamiwazumi of Japan, 6-3, 6-1, in the second-round of the $46,000 World Championship Tennis Green Group Tournament yesterday.

Basketball

Football

CHICAGO — The Chicago Fire of the new World Football League signed a contract yesterday to play a minimum of eight games per season at Soldier Field, present home of the Chicago Bears of the rival National Football League.

A spokesman said the agreement covered the 1974 and 1975 seasons and gave the Fire an option for 1976. He said the Fire would play a "minimum of eight games and probably 10," with the Chicago Park District, owners of the field, being paid 12 per cent of the gate or a minimum of $10,000 per game.

ATHENS, Ga. — Don Golden, a three-year starter at safety for the University of Georgia football team, has signed a free-agent contract with the Chicago Bears, the school said yesterday.

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Mike Kuklenski, 33, defensive coach at California State University, Long Beach, was hired by Oregon State University's football team yesterday as an assistant coach.

In Own Little Way, Rose Is Baseball Revolutionist

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

Not only by the way he plays —who ever heard of anyone running out a base on balls?— but by some of the things he says.

To wit:

"You know, I'm starting to wonder about that whiskey bottle thrown at me last October in Shea Stadium. I checked out the label and found out that brand is bottled in Cincinnati. Do you suppose it could've been a Reds' fan, and not a Mets' fan, who threw it at me?"

Pete Rose gives you those big baby blues of his when he says that he has all he can do not to laugh.

NOT JOKING

The Reds' switch-hitting MVP, who'll be pulling down $158,000 this year, doesn't joke around at all though when the subject moves around to money and how small an amount of it would he play professional baseball for?

"I'd play for nothing," says Pete Rose, and before you tell him to go butter his popcorn someplace else, at least hear him out.

"I mean it, I'd play baseball for nothing if you could keep those 'windows' out of my mail box."

Windows?

"Yeah, you know, those windowed envelopes they send you. House bills, clothing bills, utility bills and all the other bills. If there were none of those, I'd play for nothing."

Rose doesn't mean to convey the idea he's in poor shape financially.

NOT WORRIED

"Money?" he says. "I don't worry about it that much. I don't ever have to be concerned for my son, Pete. He's four years old and you oughta see him. He was just over here a minute ago. He'll tell you he's Pete Rose, the ballplayer's son. Alex (coach Alex Grammas) was throwing to him the other day and Pete was hitting. Alex threw a ball behind his head and Pete hollered at him 'get that bleep over!' He's gonna be a star. You know the only reason he will? He likes it."

Nobody loves to play baseball more than the older Rose. You can tell that by the way he hits, runs, throws, dives or does anything else on a ballfield. He loves everything connected with it, the excitement, the competition, even the manager-player relationship.

FOR TEAM

'You pick up the paper sometimes and read where a player says, 'I can't play for this manager,'" says Rose. "Makes me laugh. You don't play for the manager; you play for the team. This is who I play for," he says, pointing to the scarlet Cincinnati lettering across his chest. "I play for 24 other players, the manager and the trainer. Everybody on the team."

"What about yourself?" a newsman inquired. "Don't tell me you never play for yourself."

"Yes, I do," said Rose. "In order to make money you have to play for yourself somewhat. Primarily though, I play for the team."

Nobody could ever dispute that.

Actually, it's hard to argue with Rose on any subject because he's generally right on target pretty much the same way he is up there at the plate where all he did was hit .338 last season to win the National League batting title for the third time.

Rose doesn't feed on controversy, but he will give you a good honest answer to any question.

OPINIONS

Willie Stargell — "I don't think I would've had a gripe had he been named MVP. He had a fantastic year. It's also unfair to compare him and me. We're two different kinds of ballplayers. He's great for his team; I'm good for mine."

Bud Harrelson — "A tremendous shortstop and a nice guy. He knows I was only trying to break up a double play. You know, I was really impressed with both shortstops in the world series, him and Campaneris also. They're two vacuum cleaners out there."

Cesar Cedeno —"People are gonna yell at him, but he should let it ride. He was judged not guilty so he has nothing to worry about. People would've yelled at him anyway because he's a good player."

WILL HELP

Mike Marshall —"I wish they would've traded him to the American League so I wouldn't have to face him. Jim Brewer is the guy who always gave me the most trouble though. That means this trade is gonna help me. I won't have to face Brewer so much."

Tom Seaver —"I've had good luck against him. On certain days he's the best pitcher in baseball. Put it this way: more times out there he's the best than he isn't."

Pete Rose always wants to get in a word for O.J. Simpson, whom he met for the first time and competed against recently in the Superstars' championship here in Florida. Says Rose:

"I can see why those linemen of his go outta their way to knock guys down for him. He is really a terrific person. No phoniness about him at all."

Walton Wins Third Player Of Year Nod

DETROIT (UPI) — Center Bill Walton of UCLA was honored yesterday by Basketball Weekly as the college player of the year for the third consecutive year.

San Rafael And Redwood Swimmers Stay Unbeaten

San Rafael and Redwood high schools remained undefeated in league swimming with victories yesterday, while Terra Linda gained a bit of regional prestige for Marin by knocking off an East Bay power in a non-league meet.

The Marin County Athletic League schedule saw San Rafael defeat San Marin at Novato High, 104½ to 57½, Redwood top visiting Drake, 116-37, and Tamalpais beat visiting Novato, 100-54.

Jeff Kamler and Scott Hislop each won two events and swam on a winning relay for San Rafael (4-0), while Mike Lindstrom scored the only triple for Redwood (3-0). Robert Winkler, Dick Atwood and Ron Wellman tripled for Tam, Atwood setting a school record in the 100-yard butterfly (57.4).

Terra Linda's Mike Russo, Dan Stewart and Tom Olund participated in three victories apiece. Russo won the 200 freestyle (1:57.3) and 500 free (5:14.9) and Stewart took the 200 individual medley (2:08.4) and 100 breaststroke (1:06.3). All three swam on the 400 medley relay (3:33.0). Olund won the 100 free (52.0) and joined Mark Shibata, Bill Power and Mitch Young in the 200 medley relay (1:52.0).

Terra Linda won the Class B meet, 119-47.

SAY YANKS, PIRATES:

Batters Are Catching Up

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates will tell you today that the batters are starting to catch up to the pitchers.

The Yankee batsmen, no-hit on Monday by the Atlanta Braves, rebounded yesterday with nine hits and nine runs in blanking the Kansas City Royals 9-0. The Pirates, meanwhile, who've scored only four runs in three games this spring, also erupted for nine runs— including three homers—while downing the Chicago White Sox 9-5.

The Yankees did their scoring in bunches, getting a pair in the first on Ron Blomberg's two-run single and another five in the fifth that was featured by newcomer Lou Piniella's two run double that put the game out of reach. A quartet of Sam McDowell, Bob Polinsky, Ken Wright and Tom Buskey checked the Royals on four hits for the Yanks.

Richie Zisk, Dave Augustine and Willie Stargell, the latter playing his first game of the spring, all homered in the Pirates' win over White Sox. In addition, rookie Dwayne Peltier also drove in a pair of runs for the Bucs.

Other highlights in spring training action included Jay Johnstone, who singled twice and scored both the St. Louis Cardinals' runs against his old Chicago White Sox teammates in the Redbirds' 2-1 victory.

As for the pitchers, the Texas Rangers' young ace Jim Bibby went a strong four innings against the Atlanta Braves, yielding one run on two hits. The Rangers went on to win the game 7-3. Another opening day likely, Luis Tiant, helped pitch the Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory over the National League champion New York Mets by yielding just three hits in three scoreless innings.

One pitcher who has yet to be as effective as he'd like is Sparky Lyle. Lyle , the Yankee's ace relief pitcher, continued his prolonged holdout, refusing to report to the club's training quarters until they up his salary over the $75,000 mark.

1-0 Baseball Win For Terra Linda

It may have been raining everywhere else, but the sun was shining on Terra Linda High School yesterday.

The Trojans (3-1) got a combined three-hitter from Kevin Kirby and Dana Beck to defeat St. Ignatius, 1-0, in a non-league baseball game in San Francisco.

Terra Linda got its only run in the seventh inning when Beck walked, went to second on an errant pickoff throw, took third on Loyd Bonfante's sacrifice and scored on a single to center field by Pat Woerner.

Kirby and Beck combined for nine strikeouts (five in two innings by Beck) and stranded five runners. The Trojans made three double plays.

Rained out were Vallejo at Tamalpais, Marin Catholic at Rancho Cotate, Hogan (Vallejo) at Drake, Berkeley at San Rafael, Riordan (San Francisco) at San Marin and Novato at Petaluma.

Rescheduled was San Rafael at Riordan, 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Bowler Laub Heads Entries

Combined AP & UPI

DENVER — Larry Laub, who took last week off after winning three of the first nine stops on this year's Pro Bowlers Association tour, heads the list of entries in the $85,000 Lincoln Mercury Open bowling tournament beginning today.

Laub, of San Francisco, has won $34,000, second only to Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., who has almost $44,000 in winnings.

Hockey

DETROIT — Defenseman Larry Johnson, who had been playing without a signed contract, was paid off yesterday and told he was not needed the rest of the season by the Detroit Red Wings.

Johnson renegotiated his expiring two-year pact with general manager Ned Harkness, who resigned before the defenseman could iron out some minor details and sign the new contract, which was to have been for three seasons.

Tennis

The New York sets, who had been negotiating with him, announced yesterday that Nastase, under orders from his Romanian tennis federation, cannot compete in WTT league play, because if he did so he would be banned from major European events, such as the French and Italian championships.

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Top-seeded American star Arthur Ashe defeated Jun Kamiwazumi of Japan, 6-3, 6-1, in the second-round of the $46,000 World Championship Tennis Green Group Tournament yesterday.

Basketball

Football

CHICAGO — The Chicago Fire of the new World Football League signed a contract yesterday to play a minimum of eight games per season at Soldier Field, present home of the Chicago Bears of the rival National Football League.

A spokesman said the agreement covered the 1974 and 1975 seasons and gave the Fire an option for 1976. He said the Fire would play a "minimum of eight games and probably 10," with the Chicago Park District, owners of the field, being paid 12 per cent of the gate or a minimum of $10,000 per game.

ATHENS, Ga. — Don Golden, a three-year starter at safety for the University of Georgia football team, has signed a free-agent contract with the Chicago Bears, the school said yesterday.

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Mike Kuklenski, 33, defensive coach at California State University, Long Beach, was hired by Oregon State University's football team yesterday as an assistant coach.

Not only by the way he plays —who ever heard of anyone running out a base on balls?— but by some of the things he says.

To wit:

"You know, I'm starting to wonder about that whiskey bottle thrown at me last October in Shea Stadium. I checked out the label and found out that brand is bottled in Cincinnati. Do you suppose it could've been a Reds' fan, and not a Mets' fan, who threw it at me?"

The Reds' switch-hitting MVP, who'll be pulling down $158,000 this year, doesn't joke around at all though when the subject moves around to money and how small an amount of it would he play professional baseball for?

"I'd play for nothing," says Pete Rose, and before you tell him to go butter his popcorn someplace else, at least hear him out.

"I mean it, I'd play baseball for nothing if you could keep those 'windows' out of my mail box."

Windows?

"Yeah, you know, those windowed envelopes they send you. House bills, clothing bills, utility bills and all the other bills. If there were none of those, I'd play for nothing."

Rose doesn't mean to convey the idea he's in poor shape financially.

NOT WORRIED

"Money?" he says. "I don't worry about it that much. I don't ever have to be concerned for my son, Pete. He's four years old and you oughta see him. He was just over here a minute ago. He'll tell you he's Pete Rose, the ballplayer's son. Alex (coach Alex Grammas) was throwing to him the other day and Pete was hitting. Alex threw a ball behind his head and Pete hollered at him 'get that bleep over!' He's gonna be a star. You know the only reason he will? He likes it."

Nobody loves to play baseball more than the older Rose. You can tell that by the way he hits, runs, throws, dives or does anything else on a ballfield. He loves everything connected with it, the excitement, the competition, even the manager-player relationship.

FOR TEAM

"You pick up the paper sometimes and read where a player says, 'I can't play for this manager,'" says Rose. "Makes me laugh. You don't play for the manager; you play for the team. This is who I play for," he says, pointing to the scarlet Cincinnati lettering across his chest. "I play for 24 other players, the manager and the trainer. Everybody on the team."

"What about yourself?" a newsman inquired. "Don't tell me you never play for yourself."

"Yes, I do," said Rose. "In order to make money you have to play for yourself somewhat. Primarily though, I play for the team."

Nobody could ever dispute that.

Actually, it's hard to argue with Rose on any subject because he's generally right on target pretty much the same way he is up there at the plate where all he did was hit .338 last season to win the National League batting title for the third time.

Rose doesn't feed on controversy, but he will give you a good honest answer to any question.

OPINIONS

Willie Stargell — "I don't think I would've had a gripe had he been named MVP. He had a fantastic year. It's also unfair to compare him and me. We're two different kinds of ballplayers. He's great for his team; I'm good for mine."

Bud Harrelson — "A tremendous shortstop and a nice guy. He knows I was only trying to break up a double play. You know, I was really impressed with both shortstops in the world series, him and Campaneris also. They're two vacuum cleaners out there."

Cesar Cedeno —"People are gonna yell at him, but he should let it ride. He was judged not guilty so he has nothing to worry about. People would've yelled at him anyway because he's a good player."

WILL HELP

Mike Marshall —"I wish they would've traded him to the American League so I wouldn't have to face him. Jim Brewer is the guy who always gave me the most trouble though. That means this trade is gonna help me. I won't have to face Brewer so much."

Tom Seaver —"I've had good luck against him. On certain days he's the best pitcher in baseball. Put it this way: more times out there he's the best than he isn't."

Pete Rose always wants to get in a word for O.J. Simpson, whom he met for the first time and competed against recently in the Superstars' championship here in Florida. Says Rose:

"I can see why those linemen of his go outta their way to knock guys down for him. He is really a terrific person. No phoniness about him at all."

Walton Wins Third Player Of Year Nod

DETROIT (UPI) — Center Bill Walton of UCLA was honored yesterday by Basketball Weekly as the college player of the year for the third consecutive year.

San Rafael And Redwood Swimmers Stay Unbeaten

San Rafael and Redwood high schools remained undefeated in league swimming with victories yesterday, while Terra Linda gained a bit of regional prestige for Marin by knocking off an East Bay power in a non-league meet.

The Marin County Athletic League schedule saw San Rafael defeat San Marin at Novato High, 104½ to 57½, Redwood top visiting Drake, 116-37, and Tamalpais beat visiting Novato, 100-54.

Jeff Kamler and Scott Hislop each won two events and swam on a winning relay for San Rafael (4-0), while Mike Lindstrom scored the only triple for Redwood (3-0). Robert Winkler, Dick Atwood and Ron Wellman tripled for Tam, Atwood setting a school record in the 100-yard butterfly (57.4).

Terra Linda's Mike Russo, Dan Stewart and Tom Olund participated in three victories apiece. Russo won the 200 freestyle (1:57.3) and 500 free (5:14.9) and Stewart took the 200 individual medley (2:08.4) and 100 breaststroke (1:06.3). All three swam on the 400 medley relay (3:33.0). Olund won the 100 free (52.0) and joined Mark Shibata, Bill Power and Mitch Young in the 200 medley relay (1:52.0).

Terra Linda won the Class B meet, 119-47.

Batters Are Catching Up

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates will tell you today that the batters are starting to catch up to the pitchers.

The Yankee batsmen, no-hit on Monday by the Atlanta Braves, rebounded yesterday with nine hits and nine runs in blanking the Kansas City Royals 9-0. The Pirates, meanwhile, who've scored only four runs in three games this spring, also erupted for nine runs— including three homers—while downing the Chicago White Sox 9-5.

The Yankees did their scoring in bunches, getting a pair in the first on Ron Blomberg's two-run single and another five in the fifth that was featured by newcomer Lou Piniella's two run double that put the game out of reach. A quartet of Sam McDowell, Bob Polinsky, Ken Wright and Tom Buskey checked the Royals on four hits for the Yanks.

Richie Zisk, Dave Augustine and Willie Stargell, the latter playing his first game of the spring, all homered in the Pirates' win over White Sox. In addition, rookie Dwayne Peltier also drove in a pair of runs for the Bucs.

Other highlights in spring training action included Jay Johnstone, who singled twice and scored both the St. Louis Cardinals' runs against his old Chicago White Sox teammates in the Redbirds' 2-1 victory.

As for the pitchers, the Texas Rangers' young ace Jim Bibby went a strong four innings against the Atlanta Braves, yielding one run on two hits. The Rangers went on to win the game 7-3. Another opening day likely, Luis Tiant, helped pitch the Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory over the National League champion New York Mets by yielding just three hits in three scoreless innings.

One pitcher who has yet to be as effective as he'd like is Sparky Lyle. Lyle , the Yankee's ace relief pitcher, continued his prolonged holdout, refusing to report to the club's training quarters until they up his salary over the $75,000 mark.

1-0 Baseball Win For Terra Linda

It may have been raining everywhere else, but the sun was shining on Terra Linda High School yesterday.

The Trojans (3-1) got a combined three-hitter from Kevin Kirby and Dana Beck to defeat St. Ignatius, 1-0, in a non-league baseball game in San Francisco.

Terra Linda got its only run in the seventh inning when Beck walked, went to second on an errant pickoff throw, took third on Loyd Bonfante's sacrifice and scored on a single to center field by Pat Woerner.

Kirby and Beck combined for nine strikeouts (five in two innings by Beck) and stranded five runners. The Trojans made three double plays.

Rained out were Vallejo at Tamalpais, Marin Catholic at Rancho Cotate, Hogan (Vallejo) at Drake, Berkeley at San Rafael, Riordan (San Francisco) at San Marin and Novato at Petaluma.

Rescheduled was San Rafael at Riordan, 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Ways To Improve Control Of Rudder

It comes as a jolt to many beginners in boating just how much less control the rudder has as speed decreases. Often the jolt occurs just as their boat hits a dock.

It is one of two conditions in both power and sail, where the beginner can make a serious error in judgment, and the result cost him money.

The other condition is the failure to judge speed accurately after travelling at a fast clip for a long time. When you slow down to what you think is 5 miles per hour, it's probably 15 mph.

If you ever see a novice bang his boat against a pier or a dock, it's usually because of one of these shortcomings of boat control.

But it's very simple to avoid trouble, and you will see many an old timer use this system. Just stop your boat completely, let it sit quietly for about 10 seconds a few boatlengths from the dock, then start the docking action as a completely separate and independent action.

During the period the boat is stopped, observe the natural influences such as wind, current and wave action. These will affect the docking procedure because you will want to come into your berth against the strongest of these forces. You will find that you have better control.

It doesn't take a boat operator very long to discover that the most common, and costly mistake in docking is coming in too fast.

Q. I turned my boat hard to port to miss a large piling. The bow missed but the stern swung to starboard and hit. . . ruining the boat. Why?

A. This is something most boat operators learn the hard way — that a boat steers differently to a car. A car turns at the front end and the rear end follows it around, but a boat turns by swinging the stern to point the bow in a new direction. Thus, a sharp turn that allows the bow to clear an obstruction throws the stern into the same obstruction with destructive force.

Q. At what angle should I point the bow to come into dock?

A. An angle between 10 and 25 degrees is best. If the approach is made at an angle of 30 degrees or more, you have to swing the stern sharply to cause it to lie parallel to the dockside. The more you have to swing, the greater the chance of misjudgment.

Q. I'm told that docking a houseboat is tricky. Why?

A. This is not so if there is no wind. Houseboats handle just like any other boat. But, in even a slight breeze, the high sides of the houseboat act like sails. This can be deadly when coming downwind towards a dock. Thousands of houseboats have been damaged by swinging broadside to the wind and coming up to the wharf or pier with a resounding crunch.

Q. I'm renting a large inboard cruiser this summer and I'm told it's possible to swing the stern of an inboard without moving the boat. How?

A. On single screw boats with right hand engines (turning the prop clockwise viewed from behind), the prop tends to throw the stern of the boat to starboard (right) in forward gear and to port (left) in reverse. The skillful operator just gives the engine a short, sharp burst of power. The stern swings; but the boat (because of its inertia) moves only very little. Try it.

Q. Is there a special technique for picking up a mooring buoy under sail?

A. Approach the mooring from down wind on a track which would put the mooring a boat's length to windward if you were to go right past it. On the approach, lower and secure the job. When you reach the point where the mooring is a boat length to windward, turn into the wind. Momentum will carry the boat up to the pick-up buoy. Secure the mooring, then lower the mainsail.

NBA ROUNDUP

Buffalo Chills The Opposition

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Bob McAdoo, the NBA's leading scorer, was down with the flu so General Manager Eddie Donovan's Buffalo transplants were used to chill the opposition.

Jim McMillian, a Los Angeles acquisition, scored 30 points, Garfield Heard, who played for Seattle and Chicago last season, had 25 and Jack Marin, recently of Houston, hit 23 as the playoff-bound Braves routed the Phoenix Suns 124-94 last night.

Bob Kauffman, the only original Brave when Buffalo entered the league in 1970, chipped in with 12 points.

The Braves, destined to meet Boston in the opening round of the playoffs, posted their fifth win in the last six games as they reeled off 16 unanswered points during a three-minute span in the second half to blind the Suns.

Lakers 109, Knicks 102

Celtics 110, Trail Blazers 93

Reserve guard Paul Westphal, subbing for ailing Jo Jo White, scored 21 points for Boston. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 27. Portland, paced by John Johnson's 32 points, moved within eight points of Boston with three minutes to play, but couldn't sustain the momentum.

Bullets 112, 76ers 101

Phil Chenier scored 10 points in the third quarter and added 12 more in the final period in leading Capital past Philadelphia. Chenier led the Bullets with 28 points and Mike Riordan had 27 for the Central Division champions. The best the 76ers could manage was 23 points from Fred Carter.

Kings 93, Bulls 91

KC-Omaha prevented Chicago from clinching a playoff spot by upsetting the Bulls behind Jimmy Walker's 28 points. Chicago, with seven games remaining, was led by Bob Love's 31 points.

Cavaliers 95, Hawks 84

Atlanta coach Cotton Fitzsimmons benched is starting five in the fourth quarter after Cleveland opened an 82-61 lead after three periods. Bobby Smith and Austin Carr paced the Cavs with 24 points each. The ice-cold Hawks received spotty support from Pete Maravich's team-high 19 points.

A's, Orioles, Reds, Bucs Favored

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI) — The Oakland A's and Baltimore Orioles are the co-choices in the American League and the Cincinnati Reds are favored in the National League, according to baseball odds posted yesterday by Harrah's Tahoe racebook.

Ohio University Basketball Coach Calls It Quits

ATHENS, Ohio (UPI) — Jim Snyder, Ohio University basketball coach since 1949, ended weeks of speculation today by announcing he is retiring effective June 30.

"I always said when it ceased to be fun I would do something else," said Snyder, who guided the Bobcats to the Mid-American Conference championship the past season. "I'm simply tired of coaching."

Snyder, a native of Canton, Ohio, is a graduate of Ohio University and returned to his alma mater in 1946 as assistant basketball coach under W. J. (Dutch) Trautwein. He was named Trautwein's replacement in 1949 and his Bobcat teams compiled a 354-245 record in his 25 years and won seven MAC titles.

"OU has been more than good to me," Snyder said. "It has given me practically my whole life, including my education and the opportunity to use my education.

"The many fine people I've had to work with in our basketball program over the years have made such a contribution, greater than can ever be repaid."

No NIT Slowdown Expected

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Invitation Tournament petitioned the NCAA early in January for permission to install a 30-second clock for the 37th annual basketball classic, which begins Saturday in Madison Square Garden, and Manhattan Coach Jack Powers spoke in favor of the proposal.

The request was denied by the NCAA, but Powers hardly is worried about the Jaspers becoming the victims of stall tactics in their opening round game Saturday.

Manhattan (18-8) faces Maryland-Eastern Shore in the 2 p.m. EDT nationally televised opener of the NIT and if there is one thing the Hawks are not, it is gun-shy.

Maryland-Eastern Shore averaged nearly 99 points a game in compiling a 26-1 record this season, the highest average of any major college in the nation.

In fact, the Hawks' proclivity for run-and-gun basketball has caused Powers to admit the Jaspers will attempt to keep the contest from becoming a series of mad dashes up and down the court.

In other words, the New York City squad is not going to engage in playground ball with the country boys from the sticks of Maryland.

"We're going to slow the tempo down a bit," Powers said.

Who is Maryland-Eastern Shore to create such trepidation on Powers' behalf?

Well, he's not exactly sure.

That's why the Hawks, the first predominately black school to receive a berth in the NIT, will be on national television. They are the unknown quality of the NIT. Obviously, they are the class of the small colleges this season. But, Manhattan represents their first shot at the big guys.

It's been speculated that small schools have had a tough time cracking the NIT lineup because the larger schools fear the embarrassment of losing to them, plus the ensuing damage to recruiting programs.

"I was on the NCAA tournament committee last year and they were being considered for a berth till the very end, so I know how good they are," Powers said.

NHL ROUNDUP

Flyers Closing In On Division Title

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Philadelphia Flyers moved a step closer to a division title last night while the Buffalo Sabres moved closer to elimination.

Philadelphia took a nine-point lead over Chicago in the race for the National Hockey League West title by beating the New York Islanders 2-1. Buffalo, chasing Toronto for the fourth and final playoff slot in the East, lost a chance to pick up ground when it lost to Boston 4-0.

St. Louis edged Toronto 2-1 and Detroit nipped Vancouver 2-1 in the only other NHL action.

Flyers 2, Islanders 1

Bill Barber's 25th goal at 8:02 mark of the second period gave Philadelphia its sixth consecutive victory, a club record. Simon Nolet opened the scoring for Philadelphia in the third minute of the second period and New York tied the score at 7:06 of the same period on Ralph Stewart's goal.

The Flyers' Dave Shultz, the league leader in penalty minutes, was in two fights on the ice and also became involved in an altercation with fans near the Philadelphia penalty box. Special police quickly intervened.

Bruins 4, Sabres 0

Wayne Cashman broke his scoreless tie with is 23rd goal and Boston erupted for three more to beat the Sabres. Bobby Orr collected his 100th point of the season at 6:30 of the last period when he assisted on John Bucyk's 27th goal. Orr has scored more than 100 points in each of his last five seasons. Phil Esposito collected his 59th goal and Richie Leduc added the final score. Buffalo trails Toronto by eight points.

Blues 2, Leafs 1

Pierre Plante scored the deciding goal and assisted on another by Larry Giroux as St. Louis downed Toronto for the Blues' first win in nine games. Plante assisted on Giroux' goal at 3:22 of the first period and made it 2-0 with his 21st goal in the second period. Jim McKenney had the Leafs' score.

Red Wings 2, Canucks 1

Mickey Redmond's 45th goal with 61 seconds left in the second period was the deciding score as Detroit edged Vancouver. Henry Boucha had Detroit's first goal while Don Lever scored for the Canucks.

Hoskins, Thoms Attend Banquet At Boys' Club

Bob Hoskins and Art Thoms, defensive tackles for the San Francisco 49ers and the Oakland Raiders, respectively, will be guests at the annual awards banquet of the Marin City Boys Club next Monday evening.

The banquet, scheduled for the Manzanita Center, will honor the Marin City Boys' Club "Boy of the Year," and other awards will be made. No host cocktails are scheduled at 6:30, and the boys' portion of the program begins with a buffet dinner at 7:30.

Dave Scofield of Larkspur, public address announcer for the 49ers, will be the master of ceremonies. Tickets cost $3 for adults, $1 for children under 17 years old.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Boys' Club, 640 Drake Ave. or at the door.

Davis Drives In Four In USC Win

IRVINE, Calif. (UPI) — Anthony Davis drove in four runs with a homer and a double yesterday to lead the University of Southern California baseball team to a 10-4 win over UC Irvine.

The Anteaters beat the Trojans 9-3 in an earlier game.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Ways To Improve Control Of Rudder

It comes as a jolt to many beginners in boating just how much less control the rudder has as speed decreases. Often the jolt occurs just as their boat hits a dock.

It is one of two conditions in both power and sail, where the beginner can make a serious error in judgment, and the result cost him money.

The other condition is the failure to judge speed accurately after travelling at a fast clip for a long time. When you slow down to what you think is 5 miles per hour, it's probably 15 mph.

If you ever see a novice bang his boat against a pier or a dock, it's usually because of one of these shortcomings of boat control.

But it's very simple to avoid trouble, and you will see many an old timer use this system. Just stop your boat completely, let it sit quietly for about 10 seconds a few boatlengths from the dock, then start the docking action as a completely separate and independent action.

During the period the boat is stopped, observe the natural influences such as wind, current and wave action. These will affect the docking procedure because you will want to come into your berth against the strongest of these forces. You will find that you have better control.

It doesn't take a boat operator very long to discover that the most common, and costly mistake in docking is coming in too fast.

Q. I turned my boat hard to port to miss a large piling. The bow missed but the stern swung to starboard and hit. . . ruining the boat. Why?

A. This is something most boat operators learn the hard way — that a boat steers differently to a car. A car turns at the front end and the rear end follows it around, but a boat turns by swinging the stern to point the bow in a new direction. Thus, a sharp turn that allows the bow to clear an obstruction throws the stern into the same obstruction with destructive force.

A. An angle between 10 and 25 degrees is best. If the approach is made at an angle of 30 degrees or more, you have to swing the stern sharply to cause it to lie parallel to the dockside. The more you have to swing, the greater the chance of misjudgment.

Q. I'm told that docking a houseboat is tricky. Why?

A. This is not so if there is no wind. Houseboats handle just like any other boat. But, in even a slight breeze, the high sides of the houseboat act like sails. This can be deadly when coming downwind towards a dock. Thousands of houseboats have been damaged by swinging broadside to the wind and coming up to the wharf or pier with a resounding crunch.

Q. I'm renting a large inboard cruiser this summer and I'm told it's possible to swing the stern of an inboard without moving the boat. How?

A. On single screw boats with right hand engines (turning the prop clockwise viewed from behind), the prop tends to throw the stern of the boat to starboard (right) in forward gear and to port (left) in reverse. The skillful operator just gives the engine a short, sharp burst of power. The stern swings; but the boat (because of its inertia) moves only very little. Try it.

Q. Is there a special technique for picking up a mooring buoy under sail?

A. Approach the mooring from down wind on a track which would put the mooring a boat's length to windward if you were to go right past it. On the approach, lower and secure the job. When you reach the point where the mooring is a boat length to windward, turn into the wind. Momentum will carry the boat up to the pick-up buoy. Secure the mooring, then lower the mainsail.

NBA ROUNDUP

Buffalo Chills The Opposition

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Bob McAdoo, the NBA's leading scorer, was down with the flu so General Manager Eddie Donovan's Buffalo transplants were used to chill the opposition.

Jim McMillian, a Los Angeles acquisition, scored 30 points, Garfield Heard, who played for Seattle and Chicago last season, had 25 and Jack Marin, recently of Houston, hit 23 as the playoff-bound Braves routed the Phoenix Suns 124-94 last night.

The Braves, destined to meet Boston in the opening round of the playoffs, posted their fifth win in the last six games as they reeled off 16 unanswered points during a three-minute span in the second half to blind the Suns.

Lakers 109, Knicks 102

Celtics 110, Trail Blazers 93

Reserve guard Paul Westphal, subbing for ailing Jo Jo White, scored 21 points for Boston. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 27. Portland, paced by John Johnson's 32 points, moved within eight points of Boston with three minutes to play, but couldn't sustain the momentum.

Bullets 112, 76ers 101

Phil Chenier scored 10 points in the third quarter and added 12 more in the final period in leading Capital past Philadelphia. Chenier led the Bullets with 28 points and Mike Riordan had 27 for the Central Division champions. The best the 76ers could manage was 23 points from Fred Carter.

Kings 93, Bulls 91

KC-Omaha prevented Chicago from clinching a playoff spot by upsetting the Bulls behind Jimmy Walker's 28 points. Chicago, with seven games remaining, was led by Bob Love's 31 points.

Cavaliers 95, Hawks 84

No NIT Slowdown Expected

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Invitation Tournament petitioned the NCAA early in January for permission to install a 30-second clock for the 37th annual basketball classic, which begins Saturday in Madison Square Garden, and Manhattan Coach Jack Powers spoke in favor of the proposal.

The request was denied by the NCAA, but Powers hardly is worried about the Jaspers becoming the victims of stall tactics in their opening round game Saturday.

Manhattan (18-8) faces Maryland-Eastern Shore in the 2 p.m. EDT nationally televised opener of the NIT and if there is one thing the Hawks are not, it is gun-shy.

Maryland-Eastern Shore averaged nearly 99 points a game in compiling a 26-1 record this season, the highest average of any major college in the nation.

In fact, the Hawks' proclivity for run-and-gun basketball has caused Powers to admit the Jaspers will attempt to keep the contest from becoming a series of mad dashes up and down the court.

In other words, the New York City squad is not going to engage in playground ball with the country boys from the sticks of Maryland.

"We're going to slow the tempo down a bit," Powers said.

Who is Maryland-Eastern Shore to create such trepidation on Powers' behalf?

That's why the Hawks, the first predominately black school to receive a berth in the NIT, will be on national television. They are the unknown quality of the NIT. Obviously, they are the class of the small colleges this season. But, Manhattan represents their first shot at the big guys.

It's been speculated that small schools have had a tough time cracking the NIT lineup because the larger schools fear the embarrassment of losing to them, plus the ensuing damage to recruiting programs.

"I was on the NCAA tournament committee last year and they were being considered for a berth till the very end, so I know how good they are," Powers said.

NHL ROUNDUP

Flyers Closing In On Division Title

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Philadelphia Flyers moved a step closer to a division title last night while the Buffalo Sabres moved closer to elimination.

Philadelphia took a nine-point lead over Chicago in the race for the National Hockey League West title by beating the New York Islanders 2-1. Buffalo, chasing Toronto for the fourth and final playoff slot in the East, lost a chance to pick up ground when it lost to Boston 4-0.

St. Louis edged Toronto 2-1 and Detroit nipped Vancouver 2-1 in the only other NHL action.

Flyers 2, Islanders 1

Bill Barber's 25th goal at 8:02 mark of the second period gave Philadelphia its sixth consecutive victory, a club record. Simon Nolet opened the scoring for Philadelphia in the third minute of the second period and New York tied the score at 7:06 of the same period on Ralph Stewart's goal.

The Flyers' Dave Shultz, the league leader in penalty minutes, was in two fights on the ice and also became involved in an altercation with fans near the Philadelphia penalty box. Special police quickly intervened.

Bruins 4, Sabres 0

Wayne Cashman broke his scoreless tie with is 23rd goal and Boston erupted for three more to beat the Sabres. Bobby Orr collected his 100th point of the season at 6:30 of the last period when he assisted on John Bucyk's 27th goal. Orr has scored more than 100 points in each of his last five seasons. Phil Esposito collected his 59th goal and Richie Leduc added the final score. Buffalo trails Toronto by eight points.

Blues 2, Leafs 1

Pierre Plante scored the deciding goal and assisted on another by Larry Giroux as St. Louis downed Toronto for the Blues' first win in nine games. Plante assisted on Giroux' goal at 3:22 of the first period and made it 2-0 with his 21st goal in the second period. Jim McKenney had the Leafs' score.

Red Wings 2, Canucks 1

Hoskins, Thoms Attend Banquet At Boys' Club

Bob Hoskins and Art Thoms, defensive tackles for the San Francisco 49ers and the Oakland Raiders, respectively, will be guests at the annual awards banquet of the Marin City Boys Club next Monday evening.

The banquet, scheduled for the Manzanita Center, will honor the Marin City Boys' Club "Boy of the Year," and other awards will be made. No host cocktails are scheduled at 6:30, and the boys' portion of the program begins with a buffet dinner at 7:30.

Dave Scofield of Larkspur, public address announcer for the 49ers, will be the master of ceremonies. Tickets cost $3 for adults, $1 for children under 17 years old.

Davis Drives In Four In USC Win

IRVINE, Calif. (UPI) — Anthony Davis drove in four runs with a homer and a double yesterday to lead the University of Southern California baseball team to a 10-4 win over UC Irvine.

The Anteaters beat the Trojans 9-3 in an earlier game.

RICHARD S. COLLINS
Gains eagle award

Eagle Scout Rank Will Be Awarded

Richard S. Collins, 15, will receive an eagle award in a court of honor for Boy Scout Troop 61, at 8 p.m. March 27 in Blessed Sacrament Church, Santa Venetia.

Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Collins of 78 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael. He is a sophomore at San Rafael High School, where he is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, a member of the gymnastics and diving teams, and is involved in photography and music activities.

His eagle project was the donation of 75 hours of work as canteen worker and nurses' aide at the Irwin Memorial Blood Center in San Rafael.

He has been assistant patrol leader and quartermaster for the troop, attended the national Jamboree and earned two 50-mile outing awards; he is bugler and scribe for the troop's leadership corps. He earlier received an Optimist Club award and the Order of the Arrow.

Tot Lot Project Is Scheduled This Weekend

The Belvedere Parks and Recreation Commission is sponsoring a playground building project Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the tot lot next to Belvedere City Hall.

Volunteer parents and children should bring carpentry equipment, outdoor plywood, tree stumps and dead trees for use in building, according to commission chariman Sherry C. Levit. Park designer Jay Beckwith will supervise the work and provide power tools.

Mrs. Levit said that both Tiburon and Belvedere residents can join in the project.

Opening lead — ♣ 3

My beef originates with a hand played some years ago in a match between Holland and England. The contract was three no-trump at both tables, and the same opening lead was made in each case.

At each table South took the king of clubs and returned the jack of hearts, losing to East's queen. Back came the queen of diamonds at the first table, and South played low. West continued with thy jack of diamonds, and South perspired but played low again.

West had to win with the ace of diamonds, and that was the end of the defense. East cou get a trick with the ace hearts, but South easily had t rest.

LOW RETURN

At the other table Meredi held the East cards. When won the second trick with t queen of hearts he returned l lowest diamond.

Now, for the last two hundr years we've been teaching pe ple to lead the queen from suit headed by queen-jack-te In this case Meredith's lead the low diamond worked bette South covered with the nine diamonds, and West won wi the ace. West had nothing be ter to do than to return diamond.

Now the diamonds were e tablished, and East was sure get in with the ace of hearts time to cash the rest of H tricks. Down one.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investor's Selection Shows Much Merit

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in a company called Reynolds & Reynolds (OTC). Would you advise purchase at this time? My objective is long-term growth and I now hold a number of Big Board blue chips. — S.A.

A. Reynolds & Reynolds is an attractive commitment in view of your investment objectives. In the 5-year period through fiscal 1973, the company increased sales an average of 12 per cent annually, while earnings grew at a 17 per cent average annual rate. An old line printer of business forms, much of the company's recent growth is attributable to its newest area — electronic data processing, which began to contribute meaningfully to profits in the mid-1960s. Although EDP accounted for only 35 per cent of 1973 sales, revenues in this division rose 22.4 per cent year-to-year versus 10.2 per cent in the business forms area.

In the past two years, Reynolds has acquired two firms in the computer service field: World-Wide Time-Sharing and Diversified On-Line Computing. As a result of the latter acquisition, an $80,000 charge to net income and an increase in the number of common shares reduced earnings by 2 cents per share in the first quarter of fiscal 1974. As reported, company sales rose 15 per cent (21 per cent in the EDP division) and net was up 7 per cent equal to 32 cents a share. Full year 1974 results, aided by price increases in both divisions, should approximate $1.40 a share versus $1.27 for the year ended Sept. 30, 1973. One negative remains, however: the company's heavy reliance on the automotive dealer market which accounts for about 80 per cent of revenues. Reynolds is aware of this dependence and has increased its marketing emphasis in other industries. It was with a view toward more successfully penetrating other markets, that World-Wide was acquired. Results of this merger should begin to be felt later this year. These shares, now trading at about 18x estimated yet, yielding 1.2 per cent, have good speculative potential.

Today's Trading Keyed To Oil Embargo Conference

NEW YORK (UPI) — Optimism that a meeting of Arab oil ministers would lead to an end of the oil embargo took stock prices broadly higher today on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was fairly active. The meeting of the Arab oil ministers opened today in Tripoli.

The standout performer today was Avis, Inc. The stock rose 5⅜, following an announcement Avis will merge into a unit of American Express Co. under terms calling for payments of $25 a share for all outstanding Avis common stock.

International Telephones & Telegraph Corp., under a 1971 consent decree, was ordered to divest itself of its 52 per cent holding of Avis. ITT stock was trading at 26, up ¼.

Glamor issues also advanced strongly. Johnson & Johnson and Polaroid each added 2⅞, Honeywell 2, while IBM, Burroughs, Fairchild Camera, Digital Equipment, Xerox, Corning Glass and Upjohn each advanced a point or more.

There Are Many Changes This Year On Charitable Deductions

There are many changes in the rules on charitable contributions.

Gifts of cash to charities are fully deductible and the rules governing gifts of depreciated property, such as used clothing or household furnishings to the Salvation Army, Goodwill, etc., remain unchanged.

You can, of course, continue to deduct expenses in rendering services to your favorite charity or church, such as automobile, six cents per mile, cost of parking, bridge tolls, etc. Also deductible would be your telephone calls for soliciting funds, etc., and uniforms required for your charitable duties.

There are new limits on the amount deductible in the year of gift.

Gifts to "public charities" are deductible up to 50 per cent of adjusted gross income and to other charities up to 20 per cent.

"Public charities" or "50 per cent charities" are churches, educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals and organizations which normally receive a substantial part of their support from the government or the general public such as libraries, Red Cross, United Crusade, Cancer Society, etc., plus private operating foundations, certain private non-operating foundations and community foundations. All others are 20 per charities.

There is a 30 per cent limitation on gifts to a "50 per cent charity" of appreciated property that would qualify for long term capital gain treatment if sold.

Excess gifts qualifying for the 50 per cent limitation and excess figts of long term capital gain property qualifying for the 30 per cent limitation may be carried over to the five succeeding years.

A carryover from 1969 and prior years is carried forward as a gift subject to the 50 per cent limitation even if it was a gift of appreciated property.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Investor's Selection Shows Much Merit

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in a company called Reynolds & Reynolds (OTC). Would you advise purchase at this time? My objective is long-term growth and I now hold a number of Big Board blue chips. — S.A.

A. Reynolds & Reynolds is an attractive commitment in view of your investment objectives. In the 5-year period through fiscal 1973, the company increased sales an average of 12 per cent annually, while earnings grew at a 17 per cent average annual rate. An old line printer of business forms, much of the company's recent growth is attributable to its newest area — electronic data processing, which began to contribute meaningfully to profits in the mid-1960s. Although EDP accounted for only 35 per cent of 1973 sales, revenues in this division rose 22.4 per cent year-to-year versus 10.2 per cent in the business forms area.

In the past two years, Reynolds has acquired two firms in the computer service field: World-Wide Time-Sharing and Diversified On-Line Computing. As a result of the latter acquisition, an $80,000 charge to net income and an increase in the number of common shares reduced earnings by 2 cents per share in the first quarter of fiscal 1974. As reported, company sales rose 15 per cent (21 per cent in the EDP division) and net was up 7 per cent equal to 32 cents a share. Full year 1974 results, aided by price increases in both divisions, should approximate $1.40 a share versus $1.27 for the year ended Sept. 30, 1973. One negative remains, however: the company's heavy reliance on the automotive dealer market which accounts for about 80 per cent of revenues. Reynolds is aware of this dependence and has increased its marketing emphasis in other industries. It was with a view toward more successfully penetrating other markets, that World-Wide was acquired. Results of this merger should begin to be felt later this year. These shares, now trading at about 18x estimated yet, yielding 1.2 per cent, have good speculative potential.

Today's Trading Keyed To Oil Embargo Conference

NEW YORK (UPI) — Optimism that a meeting of Arab oil ministers would lead to an end of the oil embargo took stock prices broadly higher today on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was fairly active. The meeting of the Arab oil ministers opened today in Tripoli.

The standout performer today was Avis, Inc. The stock rose 5⅜, following an announcement Avis will merge into a unit of American Express Co. under terms calling for payments of $25 a share for all outstanding Avis common stock.

International Telephones & Telegraph Corp., under a 1971 consent decree, was ordered to divest itself of its 52 per cent holding of Avis. ITT stock was trading at 26, up ¼.

Glamor issues also advanced strongly. Johnson & Johnson and Polaroid each added 2⅞, Honeywell 2, while IBM, Burroughs, Fairchild Camera, Digital Equipment, Xerox, Corning Glass and Upjohn each advanced a point or more.

There Are Many Changes This Year On Charitable Deductions

There are many changes in the rules on charitable contributions.

Gifts of cash to charities are fully deductible and the rules governing gifts of depreciated property, such as used clothing or household furnishings to the Salvation Army, Goodwill, etc., remain unchanged.

You can, of course, continue to deduct expenses in rendering services to your favorite charity or church, such as automobile, six cents per mile, cost of parking, bridge tolls, etc. Also deductible would be your telephone calls for soliciting funds, etc., and uniforms required for your charitable duties.

There are new limits on the amount deductible in the year of gift.

Gifts to "public charities" are deductible up to 50 per cent of adjusted gross income and to other charities up to 20 per cent.

"Public charities" or "50 per cent charities" are churches, educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals and organizations which normally receive a substantial part of their support from the government or the general public such as libraries, Red Cross, United Crusade, Cancer Society, etc., plus private operating foundations, certain private non-operating foundations and community foundations. All others are 20 per charities.

There is a 30 per cent limitation on gifts to a "50 per cent charity" of appreciated property that would qualify for long term capital gain treatment if sold.

Excess gifts qualifying for the 50 per cent limitation and excess figts of long term capital gain property qualifying for the 30 per cent limitation may be carried over to the five succeeding years.

Excess gifts subject to the 20 per cent limitations may not be carried over.

A carryover from 1969 and prior years is carried forward as a gift subject to the 50 per cent limitation even if it was a gift of appreciated property.

Chattanooga Restaurant Will Take Over Dali Feenjon Site

A new restaurant called Chattanooga, featuring home-made Mid-Eastern food, may open next month in San Rafael at the present Dali Feenjon location, Second and B Streets.

Dali Feenjon, a night-club restaurant operated by Dr. and Mrs. Gar C. May of San Rafael, closed this month for remodeling after 14 months in business. The Mays are negotiating for sale of the business to David Mirmoez of San Rafael, owner of Caspian Imports at 1313 Fourth Street. Mirmoez said his Chattanooga restaurant will serve basically home-made food like soups, hamburgers, shish kebab, chicken kebab and other Mideastern gourmet dishes.

"It won't be just another restaurant," said Mirmoez. "We're really promising the best in Mideastern and American food." It will also serve beer and wine. He plans to open the new restaurant by mid-April, and serve food six days a week from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Two other partners who will join Mirmoez in the new business are Hassan Mostaghim of San Rafael, who came from Iran about a year ago after two years of experience in the restaurant business; and Faramarz Majidi, who plans to move from San Francisco to San Rafael in about a month.

Mirmoez said they chose the name Chattanooga because there was a fine restaurant by that name in Teheran, Iran. Mirmoez will continue to operate Caspian Imports, which he has owned for two years, previously at 909 D Street across the street from the post office and then at 1313 Fourth Street for the past eight months.

Brown

Gold

Brown joined Memorex in October, 1971, after five years with the office products division of IBM Corporation. A 1958 graduate of San Rafael High School and 1965 graduate of UC Davis, he now lives with his family in San Carlos.

WARREN GOLD of Tiburon just opened Motor Cars West in San Francisco, specializing in import, sports and exotic cars.

Located at 1361 Bush Street, the company gives advice on the purchase and sale of all import models. "Imports are more desirable then ever because of today's emphasis on efficiency and gas economy," said Gold.

ANOTHER MEDICAL building had its groundbreaking ceremony today at 1000 South Eliseo in Greenbrae, next to the PG&E administrative offices near Marin General Hospital. Developer Mat Copenhaver Associates of San Francisco has designed a two-story structure with extensive use of natural wood; a skylighted brick-paved lobby, and extensive landscaping. Contractor is E.A. Hathaway & Co. of San Jose.

The medical suites are custom designed for the following doctors, who hope to move in about November: Doctors Henry Grausz, Albert D. Hall, Winthrop H. Hall Jr., Mark C. Lambert, Howard L. Lang, William C. Langford, Michael Lash, Robert M. MacInnes, Patrick H. McLin, John R. Manis, Richard A. Jaqua, James E. Shepard, William R. Smart, Frank R. Tavel and Vernon E. Weldon. They are affiliated with Marin General Hospital, and most of them have current practices in Greenbrae and San Rafael.

LOYD GRAFF of Terra Linda has joined Ingram Pharmaceutical Co., San Francisco, as marketing manager. In advertising and marketing for 14 years, Graff was vice president and general manager of Fletcher Mayo Associates in San Francisco before coming to Ingram.

President of Ingram Pharmaceutical is William P. Muller of Ross.

TWO BUSINESS FIRMS in Marin County—Handi Kup Co. of Corte Madera and Shamrock Materials Inc. of San Rafael — received U.S. Department of Commerce Savenergy citations today.

The presentations were made on behalf of Secretary of Commerce Frederick B. Dent by Herbert A. Heberling of Corte Madera, chief of the international trade division of the San Francisco regional office. To qualify for the Savenergy certificate, a company commits itself to a four-point program to conserve all forms of energy.

Shamrock Materials is a ready-mix concrete producer serving Marin and Sonoma, and Handi Kup Co. manufactures styrofoam cups and containers for distribution in 11 western states.

LA RED SWAN Salon at 630 Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, behind Scotty's Market, changed hands this week, but the services will continue unchanged under manager Candy Helbing of Novato, who has been working there for two years.

New owner of La Red Swan is Jerry J. Lucchi of San Rafael, who bought it from Betty W. Zancha of Novato, who is retiring after operating the shop for five years. Mrs. Lucchi is supervisor of central supplies for Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda and will continue with her hospital job, letting Mrs. Helbing manage the hair salon.

THE TEA ROOM at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, operated since 1967 by a volunteer organization called the Pathfinders Group, has expanded in patronage to the point where a paid manager has been hired.

The manager is Frances (Mrs. John) Ford of San Rafael, who has been treasurer of The Pathfinders for two years and a volunteer at The Tea Room for at least four years. The Pathfinders Tea Room is open to the public Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., serving home-made food with recipes contributed by members.

Mrs. George Lester, publicity chairman and historian, said the Tea Room can handle about 80 customers inside and 50 or more outside in one sitting. It has served from 200 to 300 luncheon customers on a busy day. She said reservations are recommended.

DIRCK W. BRINCKERHOFF has joined the San Rafael law firm of Rockwell, Fulkerson & Barry as an associate.

A graduate of San Rafael High School, Brinckerhoff won his AB degree from Stanford University in 1967 and graduated from University of California Hastings College of Law in June of 1973. He spent two years in the U.S. Peace Corps. Brinckerhoff lived most of his life in Marin but now lives in San Francisco.

Topps & Trowsers Has Best Year

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Topps & Trowsers, 47-store men's casual clothing chain, has reported record operating results for the first 13-week period ended Jan. 27.

Sales increased 35 per cent to $2,498,320 from $1,848,851 for the comparable period a year earlier. Net income totaled $138,623, equal to 31 cents per share, compared with 30 cents per share for the same period one year earlier.

What A Way To Run A City — Or State

Municipal bus drivers were not on strike, but no muni buses ran.

There was no strike against the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, but BART trains did not run west of the bay.

There was no strike at San Francisco International Airport, but litter piled up as janitors refused to cross picket lines. Arriving passengers found difficulty in getting transportation from the airport, as pickets interfered with taxis and buses.

Raw, untreated sewage poured from city sewage treatment plants to foul the bay, because the treatment plant workers refused to cross picket lines.

Publicly owned hospitals were operating on an "emergency only" basis, staffed largely by unpaid volunteers — although there was no strike by hospital workers.

Schools were operating with half their teaching staffs — and with fewer than half the pupils because of complete lack of public transportation.

Public events from ballet to sports contests were cancelled because of pickets at publicly owned halls and ball parks.

THIS WAS the picture this week in San Francisco, which calls itself "the city that knows how."

All this came about because of a strike against the city by the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO, which represents about 12,000 "miscellaneous" city workers.

And this strike itself was illegal. Mayor Joseph L. Alioto and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors were aware it was illegal: they had been told so by their city attorney.

The strike came because members of the Service Employees Union were dissatisfied with a pay increase offered by the board of supervisors.

Then the San Francisco Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO — which represents a minority of the city's school teachers — took advantage of the situation by calling its own strike.

THE SHUTDOWN continued, and spread, because the mayor and board of supervsiors allowed it to continue and spread.

They did not go to court to stop the illegal Service Employees Union strike. The San Francisco Board of Education did not go to court to stop the illegal teacher strike.

Instead, Mayor Alioto attempted to conduct his own "mediation" sessions with union representatives. When he got nowhere, he formed a committee from the board of supervisors to assist him in further negotiations.

THIS IS THE WAY Joseph L. Alioto and the board of supervisors run San Francisco.

This, presumably, is the way Joseph L. Alioto would run the State of California if he were elected governor.

He wants to be elected governor. He is a candidate for the Democratic nomination, with large union support.

Maybe this is the way the people of San Francisco want their city to be run. We doubt very much if this is the way the people of California want their state to be run. We're sure we don't.

"Rub it in, why don'tcha?"

Another Kind Of Woman Who Really Gets Things Done

COCONUT GROVE, Fla. — The society pages of small-town papers still are full of old-fashioned garden club ladies who keep out of trouble by doing flower arrangements and sponsoring azalea contests. The front and back pages are fuller of a newer breed, liberated women who would not be caught dead at a garden club meeting and might not be warmly welcomed if they arrived — who flaunt their emancipation yet argue that it will not be complete without an amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Another class of woman has been competing with men on their own political terms since long before the superstars of the modern fem-lib movement were born. As sensitive as any fancier of orchids, as practical in action as any Harry Truman, and not at all insulted to be recognized as a lady.

SHE IS NOT a rarity in life, so much as in the flashier media. There are plenty of recent and current examples: Maurine Neuberger and Margaret Chase Smith in the Senate; Patsy Mink , Edith Green, Barbara Jordan and Margaret Heckler in the House. There is a prize illustration here in Florida, too.

Her name is Alice Wainwright. They dedicated a park to her the other morning, along the shore of Biscayne Bay just south of the Rickenbacker Causeway that leads to the Rebozo-Nixon stronghold of Key Biscayne. It includes the only natural hammock (jungle) left today along the bayfront, where high rises and dredged marinas and causeway approaches have wiped away the rest.

That is appropriate for Wainwright Park, for she will be remembered more later for the fact that she was a devoted and effective conservationist than for the historical details that she was the first woman city commissioner of Miami and the first woman vice mayor. The Puerto Rican mayor, the Cuban vice mayor, a Jewish judge, a black commissioner paid respectful tribute to her at the dedication ceremonies. I paid closer attention to the gulls and pelicans who went ahead and enjoyed without waiting for the ribbon-cutting.

ALICE WAINWRIGHT came to Miami 40 years ago when there was a lot more natural everything than remains today. She was a daughter of a Marine officer, who, when she was a girl and he was commander of the barracks at Pearl Harbor, had excused his troops from drill so they could plant palm trees throughout the base. Anybody who has spent time there since could hardly imagine the base without them.

A lot of her father carried over — the Marine officer's propensity for direct action, with that particular officer's concern for the way things ought to be. Eventually Alice, a Briarcliff graduate, concluded that what she could do through the Coconut Grove Civic Club was nice, but not enough. She went back to school and got her law degree at about the age of 40. She has taken a lot of direct action since.

From her interest in local zoning arguments, she mobilized what amounted to the first land-use movement here. She took on major cases that have nationwide implications as the realization that land use must be controlled spreads from state to state.

She pushed through landmark legislation establishing the principle that for zoning variances to be granted, a genuine hardship to the property involved had to be proved — not merely a "hardship" to the owner who wants to make a killing from rezoning.

NOT SUDDENLY, but year-by-year, billboards are being phased out here. All parking lots outside industrial areas must be hidden by landscaping. Both were achieved by Wainwright against fat and furious lobbying.

On the State Environmental Land Management Study Committee, she helped implement guidelines for new subdivisions that are among the strongest in the country. Now, on the board of the State Pollution Control Department, she is confronting daily the fresh water shortage brought on in South Florida by shortsighted overdevelopment and by abuse of the irreplaceable "wasteland" of the Everglades.

Like so many other women who prefer doing to wailing, she has just gone out and done it, without showmanship. For her own internal guidance, she has stuck to a modest line from Tennyson, "I am a part of all that I have met." And that is what I would say to anybody who came to Alice Wainwright Park to watch the birds splash and asked, "Who's she?"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND: Time For Reform

WASHINGTON — The long and painful gap between the commission of the Watergate crimes and the indictment and trial of those involved is coming speedily to a head. Fifteen have already pleaded guilty or been convicted. We can confidently leave to the courts and to the Congress the determination of individual guilt or innocence. The judicial process is trustworthily at work.

Now there is a more urgent task facing the country and the Congress. We need to be about it before the perniciousness and the ugliness of the Watergate crimes fade into the background. There are needed post-Watergate reforms which Congress ought to enact before its members go before the voters in the fall elections.

IT IS WELL that the country should know before the November voting whether Congress is going to do as good a job in the area of reform as the judiciary is doing in the area of justice.

Will the quality of the political process equal the quality of the judicial process? What will the answer of Congress be? It ought to be forthcoming no later than early fall so that the voters can render their verdict — yes or no — on the record of the congressional candidates seeking their approval.

We don't have to wait for the verdict of the courts on the guilt or innocence of those involved in the Watergate crimes to assess the magnitude of those crimes and the awful harm they have done to the nation. The indictments of some 30 high administration officials, including a former attorney general, a former secretary of commerce, and several top White House aides, rest on the fact that the crimes took place. They are visible.

The money corruption in the 1972 presidential campaign, predominantly practiced by the Nixon fund raisers but not limited to the Republican candidate, cries for radical reform.

ARE BUGGING and burglary of an opponent's campaign headquarters to be tolerated as acceptable political tactics? Are such "dirty tricks" as printing and distributing scurrilous lies on an opponent's stolen stationery to be allowed to pass without lifting a finger to prevent it in the future?

Can't a protective shield be erected around such sensitive and nonpartisan agencies of the government as the FBI and the CIA, so that White House officials can't pressure them to join in grossly improper or illegal actions?

Can no barrier be erected to prevent the executive branch of the government, properly and acutely concerned to keep valid government secrets from theft and illegal disclosure, from violating the civil rights of Americans in carrying out that responsibility? Should the government use the illegal tools of an enemy against its own citizens? By doing so the administration so badly bungled the Ellsberg case that it had to be thrown out of court. The administration might have won if it had stepped back from the break-in of the private offices of Ellsberg's psychiatrist in Los Angeles — an act which President Nixon himself described as illegal.

I AM NOT SUGGESTING that stiffer laws and heavier penalties will avert all these things in the future. The lessons of Watergate and a more exacting standard of ethics demanded by the American people, as evidenced by the low opinion they have of political leaders, will weigh heavily with those in public life. But it seems to me that the Ervin committee will have proved itself a nearly empty exercise if it doesn't examine every single Watergate offense in terms of what should be done to prevent a repetition, and prove its worth by offering considered proposals to Congress.

Undoubtedly the most imperative reform concerns the money corruption which marked so much of the methods of the officials of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

Repetitive patchwork reform won't be equal to the need. The politicians have tried in the past to put a ceiling on campaign gifts and require spending reports, and they have always made the loopholes bigger than the law. Those who propose that kind of reform indicate they don't want reform. Better go the whole distance — federal financing of federal elections.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Marin Symphony Assn. Supports Other Groups

We wish to thank you for your editorial of March 2, regarding the Marin Symphony. We are delighted that the "home team" symphony organization has your interest and support.

You obviously have personally followed the growth of Marin's symphony and share our pride in its development. As you detailed in your unexpected editorial, we do provide the opportunity for fine local talent to perform with our symphony during our concert season. As you undoubtedly know, the opportunity for young musicians begins at an early age with the experience provided by our Workshop for Strings. Those qualified then "graduate" into the Marin Youth Orchestra, and then the finest of that large group are selected for the smaller chamber group, called the Orchestra Piccola. All of these groups are supported by the Marin Symphony Association, a fact sometimes not realized by many of the residents of Marin.

We expect to merit your continued support. Thank you again for directing attention to the Marin Symphony.

Service Station Hours Defeat Fuel Saving

I think the present energy crisis is allowing our elected representatives to make decisions with lack of foresight. People who are making an honest effort to conserve fuel are the very people who are being hurt most, while people who ignore available conservation measures are being favored. Let me present a sample case.

I commute from San Rafael to San Francisco daily by the Golden Gate Bus Lines. I own one small car, which consumes less than 20 gallons of gasoline per month. The proposed odd-even system of gasoline rationing and limited service station hours will now force me to drive my car to work at least one day per week to obtain fuel, thereby using more gasoline, when the established goals are using less gasoline and discouraging commuting by private auto. The system very definitely favors the private auto commuter, as service stations are closed during non-commute hours.

In order to install an equitable system and conserve gasoline, service stations pumping gasoline should be restricted to evening hours (6-9 p.m.) or week ends only (both Saturday and Sunday), to allow everyone an equal opportunity to purchase gasoline. As a side effect, lines at service stations during rush hours would be non-existent, allowing a smoother flow of traffic in congested areas.

It certainly was a pleasure reading Jack Hanley once again in your paper last week. He covers the Giants better than most of the sports writers in the area. I hope we will have the pleasure of reading him in the I-J during the season.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

PTA Lets Down The Bars To Permit Parent Involvement

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A friend of mine, installed this month as president of a local Parent-Teacher Association, in her initial message to the membership urged involvement in school district budgeting, disciplinary problems and practices, curriculum, and other policy matters.

Such things have been anathema to PTA. A long-standing article of the national PTA by-laws declared:

"The organization shall cooperate with schools to support the improvement of education in ways that will not interfere with the administration of the schools and shall not seek to control their policies."

THAT "GAG RULE" kept PTA from being much more than an errand-running and money-raising corps. Here and there, local, county or district units "threw the harness" and came out fighting against policies they saw as damaging to schools and children. But for the most part, every PTA unit from national headquarters to the neighborhood school observed the by-law restriction religiously. And non-interference was taken to mean acquiescence.

That by-law has been changed, as Robert Palmer, director of national PTA public relations, pointed out to me after a reader in Redlands sent him a recent column discussing parents' frustration and failure to organize.

The "gag rule" has been replaced by one that reads:

"The organization shall work with the schools to provide quality education for all children and youth and shall seek to participate in the decision-making process establishing school policy, recognizing that the legal responsibility to make decisions has been delegated by the people to boards of education."

All state PTA bodies, Palmer advised, have been ordered to change their by-laws accordingly (PTA being an organization in which such things are mandated from the top). The California Congress of Parents and Teachers has done so.

MY FRIEND who is taking over leadership of a local PTA took the by-law change at face value.

She is just one PTA president. How many others will try to involve their units in school decision-making, and how many will prefer to stick to cookie sales and "sharing," remains to be seen.

Judging from legislative recommendations for state PTAs which Palmer enclosed with his letter, the change has not been great as yet at the top level. The recommendations concerned with "education and related services" read very much like a rewrite of some recommendations by the National Education Association which I had read earlier.

There is no reason why NEA and PTA should not see eye-to-eye on many matters. But there are excellent reasons why an organization composed principally of parents should have ideas of its own which may not jibe with those of a labor union representing teachers.

PERHAPS WITH the "gag rule" removed, parents' concerns will filter up from local PTAs to state and national levels and call forth different kinds of resolutions to be backed by PTA's considerable weight.

Perhaps these will deal with such matters as whether more federal money for schools is necessarily good, with whether federal funds so far have been well spent, with whether the states' credentialing rules keep teaching from attracting the best minds, with whether there is any place for unionization and its accompanying restrictions on academic freedom in the public education system, with whether teacher tenure is worth what it costs — and many other genuine concerns regarding our education system.

Whether the PTA gets involved in these important matters, and takes a stand on any of them, may depend on how many local PTA presidents, like my friend, really believe that PTA "shall seek to participate in the decision-making process establishing school policy."

If enough of them do, the Parent-Teacher Association may be able to remake and improve our public school system.

But old habits are hard to break.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Republican Winner Tells How He Sees The Issues

By RUS WALTON

Things have been a bit dreary for Republicans of late. Every week another crisis; every month another defeat — first Pennsylvania, then Michigan, then Ohio.

And then, by golly, they won one. State Sen. Bob Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, held off seven Democrats and grabbed 55 per cent of the vote in a special election. He was elected to the 13th Congressional District seat vacated by the death of Charles Teague.

I figured I'd better check with Senator Lagomarsino, and find out what magic spell he weaves. So I put some questions to him.

How was the Watergate issue handled by your opponents?

"Some of them got pretty rough. One of them, Ojai Mayor Jim Loell, tried to tie me directly to Watergate. His people ran a story — an ad, actually — listing John Dean and Erhlichman, Haldeman and Mitchell and so on and saying: 'These men are loyalists. They were loyal to the Republican Party. Lagomarsino is a loyalist; therefore he will be like they (the Deans, Mitchells, et al).'

"Of course, the ad wasn't true. Those men weren't loyal to the Republican Party, they were loyal to President Nixon. But, Watergate had an effect — I'm sure of that."

What did you do to counter it?

"I ran a positive campaign — as though I were running for re-election to the Senate; stressed that many of the state issues I'd tackled were the same issues I'd be facing at the national level — and, here's a candidate who has served on important committees . . . who can use that to good advantage in Congress."

In order of priority, what are the problems this country must solve?

"Number one is probably energy, with all its ramifications. Probably number two is a resolution of the Watergate situation — one way or another. I'm not sure it's number two, but it's up there.

"Yes, I think so. Yes."

What about jobs, and employment?

"I think the Arabs will lift the embargo. As a real result — a psychological result — of that, I think the economy will get a big shot in the arm. I think that will take care of most of the problem."

What do you want done about the Watergate problem?

"Get the darned thing decided. The (Judiciary) Committee should accept the president's offer (interrogation by counsel, delivery of certain documents, etc.) and get started, go from there.

"The committee should vote 'yes' or 'no' on a bill of impeachment and let the House face the issue . . .

Another View

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

Somewhere in a CPA office, several accountants are nervously wondering which of them will be chosen to make out Richard Nixon's tax return this year.

We'll know who has campus fads on his mind the first time some House member addresses the presiding officer: "Mr. Streaker . . ."

10 YEARS AGO

March 13, 1964

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk held it was illegal for school districts to use "civic center" tax funds to pay for noontime schoolyard supervision. At least five districts in Marin County were doing so.

The Marin Junior College District board signed an agreement to buy 333.42 acres of the Pacheco Ranch near Novato for $860,000 for a second College of Marin campus.

20 YEARS AGO

March 13, 1954

A 32-year-old San Rafael mother of two was the third Marinite to die of poliomyelitis since the start of the year.

A tobacco industry association asked the Department of Agriculture to conduct research into whether there was a link between tobacco smoking and lung cancer.

Service Station Hours Defeat Fuel Saving

I think the present energy crisis is allowing our elected representatives to make decisions with lack of foresight. People who are making an honest effort to conserve fuel are the very people who are being hurt most, while people who ignore available conservation measures are being favored. Let me present a sample case.

I commute from San Rafael to San Francisco daily by the Golden Gate Bus Lines. I own one small car, which consumes less than 20 gallons of gasoline per month. The proposed odd-even system of gasoline rationing and limited service station hours will now force me to drive my car to work at least one day per week to obtain fuel, thereby using more gasoline, when the established goals are using less gasoline and discouraging commuting by private auto. The system very definitely favors the private auto commuter, as service stations are closed during non-commute hours.

In order to install an equitable system and conserve gasoline, service stations pumping gasoline should be restricted to evening hours (6-9 p.m.) or week ends only (both Saturday and Sunday), to allow everyone an equal opportunity to purchase gasoline. As a side effect, lines at service stations during rush hours would be non-existent, allowing a smoother flow of traffic in congested areas.

Republican Winner Tells How He Sees The Issues

By RUS WALTON

Things have been a bit dreary for Republicans of late. Every week another crisis; every month another defeat — first Pennsylvania, then Michigan, then Ohio.

And then, by golly, they won one. State Sen. Bob Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, held off seven Democrats and grabbed 55 per cent of the vote in a special election. He was elected to the 13th Congressional District seat vacated by the death of Charles Teague.

I figured I'd better check with Senator Lagomarsino, and find out what magic spell he weaves. So I put some questions to him.

How was the Watergate issue handled by your opponents?

"Some of them got pretty rough. One of them, Ojai Mayor Jim Loell, tried to tie me directly to Watergate. His people ran a story — an ad, actually — listing John Dean and Erhlichman, Haldeman and Mitchell and so on and saying: 'These men are loyalists. They were loyal to the Republican Party. Lagomarsino is a loyalist; therefore he will be like they (the Deans, Mitchells, et al).'

"Of course, the ad wasn't true. Those men weren't loyal to the Republican Party, they were loyal to President Nixon. But, Watergate had an effect — I'm sure of that."

What did you do to counter it?

"I ran a positive campaign — as though I were running for re-election to the Senate; stressed that many of the state issues I'd tackled were the same issues I'd be facing at the national level — and, here's a candidate who has served on important committees . . . who can use that to good advantage in Congress."

In order of priority, what are the problems this country must solve?

"Number one is probably energy, with all its ramifications. Probably number two is a resolution of the Watergate situation — one way or another. I'm not sure it's number two, but it's up there.

"Then, inflation. And, going right along with those — energy and inflation — is unemployment."

"Yes, I think so. Yes."

What about jobs, and employment?

"I think the Arabs will lift the embargo. As a real result — a psychological result — of that, I think the economy will get a big shot in the arm. I think that will take care of most of the problem."

What do you want done about the Watergate problem?

"Get the darned thing decided. The (Judiciary) Committee should accept the president's offer (interrogation by counsel, delivery of certain documents, etc.) and get started, go from there.

"The committee should vote 'yes' or 'no' on a bill of impeachment and let the House face the issue . . .

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

PTA Lets Down The Bars To Permit Parent Involvement

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A friend of mine, installed this month as president of a local Parent-Teacher Association, in her initial message to the membership urged involvement in school district budgeting, disciplinary problems and practices, curriculum, and other policy matters.

Such things have been anathema to PTA. A long-standing article of the national PTA by-laws declared:

"The organization shall cooperate with schools to support the improvement of education in ways that will not interfere with the administration of the schools and shall not seek to control their policies."

THAT "GAG RULE" kept PTA from being much more than an errand-running and money-raising corps. Here and there, local, county or district units "threw the harness" and came out fighting against policies they saw as damaging to schools and children. But for the most part, every PTA unit from national headquarters to the neighborhood school observed the by-law restriction religiously. And non-interference was taken to mean acquiescence.

That by-law has been changed, as Robert Palmer, director of national PTA public relations, pointed out to me after a reader in Redlands sent him a recent column discussing parents' frustration and failure to organize.

The "gag rule" has been replaced by one that reads:

"The organization shall work with the schools to provide quality education for all children and youth and shall seek to participate in the decision-making process establishing school policy, recognizing that the legal responsibility to make decisions has been delegated by the people to boards of education."

All state PTA bodies, Palmer advised, have been ordered to change their by-laws accordingly (PTA being an organization in which such things are mandated from the top). The California Congress of Parents and Teachers has done so.

MY FRIEND who is taking over leadership of a local PTA took the by-law change at face value.

She is just one PTA president. How many others will try to involve their units in school decision-making, and how many will prefer to stick to cookie sales and "sharing," remains to be seen.

Judging from legislative recommendations for state PTAs which Palmer enclosed with his letter, the change has not been great as yet at the top level. The recommendations concerned with "education and related services" read very much like a rewrite of some recommendations by the National Education Association which I had read earlier.

There is no reason why NEA and PTA should not see eye-to-eye on many matters. But there are excellent reasons why an organization composed principally of parents should have ideas of its own which may not jibe with those of a labor union representing teachers.

PERHAPS WITH the "gag rule" removed, parents' concerns will filter up from local PTAs to state and national levels and call forth different kinds of resolutions to be backed by PTA's considerable weight.

Perhaps these will deal with such matters as whether more federal money for schools is necessarily good, with whether federal funds so far have been well spent, with whether the states' credentialing rules keep teaching from attracting the best minds, with whether there is any place for unionization and its accompanying restrictions on academic freedom in the public education system, with whether teacher tenure is worth what it costs — and many other genuine concerns regarding our education system.

Whether the PTA gets involved in these important matters, and takes a stand on any of them, may depend on how many local PTA presidents, like my friend, really believe that PTA "shall seek to participate in the decision-making process establishing school policy."

If enough of them do, the Parent-Teacher Association may be able to remake and improve our public school system.

But old habits are hard to break.

Was That Withdrawal With Peace Or Honor?

By BOB TREICHLER

They were too busy shooting in Vietnam recently to celebrate the first anniversary of the cease-fire agreement.

The U.S. could have walked away in 1969 or thereabouts, but we hung in there for four more years to gain peace with honor. I can't remember now if the emphasis at the time was on the peace or the honor of the thing, but I know we must have gotten what we were after. Folks sure were excited over the newly announced successful peace negotiations as they went to the polls in November of 1972. Our South Vietnamese allies must have gotten what they wanted, because they were looting our million-dollar airbases even before the last evacuation plane taxied out for takeoff.

Not that they had to loot, mind you. We just pulled out the troops, not the money. We spent only $284 million on arms and ammunitions for South Vietnam in '73. The good news is that's 25 per cent less than we spent in 1972, so not everything went up last year. Put that in your pipe and smoke it, you political dissidents!

Two-hundred-eighty-four million bucks! Our city council is in a sweat because there's a possibility some long awaited federal funds might dry up, stalling or killing some sorely needed urban renewal and sewer improvement projects.

FEDERAL FUNDS. Strange term, that. As though the federals just pulled money out of thin air. I've always felt federal funds came from taxpayers' dollars. Receiving federal funds is like being given car fare home by your mugger. On second thought, with the shape the dollar is in, perhaps the feds are pulling it out of thin air.

It's not that I really care about the $284 million, mind you. If it were for a worthy cause, I'd agree to $500 million. But you can't help wondering how much of a pollution solution we could buy for that money; or what kind of rapid transit we could put up in some tight area: Maybe invest in research for an alternate power source less destructive of our natural resources and the ecology? A cure for cancer, heart disease, or (put your favorite crisis here?)

NO, IT'S NOT the money. That's only about $1.40 for every man, woman and child in the country. Of course, there are some of us exempt from taxes: adolescents in school, the aged, halt and lame and some politicians, so it will cost us taxpayers each a little more than that. What bugs me is that this is the truce we fought so hard and long to win; billions of dollars, years of frustration and I don't even wnat to think about the lives. And now we're providing the shells and the weapons to violate that truce.

And apparently some of the manpower, too. In this first year of truce, we've lost eight men, have five missing and two known captives. Not a bad loss record compared to previous years' body counts, but 15 too many for a non-participant nation.

I do wish if I could remember if we withdrew with peace, or was it honor?

West End School To Be Closed

The San Rafael Board of Education last night unanimously decided to close West End School this June because of sagging enrollment.

The move to close the school, oldest facility in the school district, was endorsed by Supt. Donald Leisey, the citizens' advisory committee, the West End Parent-Teachers Association and teachers, according to Leisey.

The action is necessary because the elementary district's enrollment has declined from 4,904 pupils in 1968 to 4,192 pupils currently, he said.

West End pupils will be transferred to either Sun Valley or Short schools, Leisey said.

The board told staff to work with county counsel in deciding how to advertise the facility for rent.

The board has said it will rent the structure for community use, use by city schools, or nonprofit use, Leisey said.

Several citizens have suggested the facility be the home of a Central Marin Boys Club.

The school board last night also called for applicants for the post of principal of Terra Linda High School, since Terra Linda principal Frank Stocking has announced his retirement, and decided that the district early childhood education program will be expanded to Bahia Vista and Short schools next year.

The board next meets at 7:30 p.m. March 26 in the administration building.

Tamalpais CSD Directors Set Hearing On Recreational Plans

Tamalpais Community Services District directors last night set a public hearing for 8 p.m. April 4 to hear a consultant's recommendations for major recreational facilities at Eastwood and Rhubarb parks.

The landscape architectural firm of Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abey will present results of its feasibility study, with suggestions on the possible locations of a ballfield, tennis courts and swimming pool.

A mail survey of resident reaction to the recommendations will be discussed in a joint meeting of directors and parks and recreation commissioners on June 5, said board president Richard A. Drever Jr.

Directors also awarded a contract for $13,000 to the firm of Ireland and Robinson to add a workshop to the garage at the district corporation yard.

Pay Boost Proposed For School Workers

An across-the-board 15 per cent salary increase for all nonteaching personnel in the Marin County superintendent of schools office was proposed last night to the Marin County Board of Education.

Marin Association of Public Employees which represents some but not all of the nonteaching personnel, made the proposal in a letter. The association also asked for longevity pay increase of 5 per cent after 10 15 and 20 years. It also asked full medical-dental coverage for employees and their families.

Robert E. Spain, who is an assistant superintendent and the board's salary negotiator, said the board referred the proposal to him for consideration in salary negotiations which are to begin soon.

The Marin County Board of Education Also:

TITLES — Removed any reference to sex in official job titles such as office utility man which was changed to office utility worker.

HANDICAPPED — Were told that probably no teachers will be notified that they may not be rehired next year in educational programs for handicapped children.

BUDGET — Received final budget portions to complete the proposed $5,501,269 budget for next year. Spain said the budget, which is down from last year's $5,701,165 budget, maintains all programs at their current level and reflects only step increases for empolyees and no acrss-the-board increases. The preliminary budget will be reviewed and approved when the board meets March 26.

CLOSED — Met in closed session with its salary negotiator.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to March 26 at 8 p.m. in the county schools office.

Two Teachers Sent Notices

Notices have been sent to two temporary teachers in the Sausalito School District that they will not be rehired for the next school year, Supt. Donald W. Johnson said yesterday.

The teachers will be released to make room for two teachers returning from leaves of absence, Johnson said.

Redwood City Woman Booked In Drug Probe

Susan Melinda Wayne, 28, of Redwood City, was booked into Marin County jail yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana, dangerous drugs and dangerous drugs for sale after a routine arrest for traffic warrants.

San Rafael police said the woman and a companion, James Lee Lenzini, 26, of 125 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, were arrested about 3 a.m. She had $42 in outstanding warrants and he had $33, according to officers.

At the jail a search of her purse revealed a plastic bag of suspected marijuana and six small bags containing 300 to 400 unidentified pills.

She was freed on $1,000 bail to appear March 26 in Marin Municipal Court. Lenzini was released on $33 bail.

Egger Is Named Fairfax Mayor

The Fairfax Town Council last night elected Frank J. Egger mayor and called for applicants to fill the seat vacated by former Mayor E. Ross Parkerson. (Another Fairfax Town Council story, page 1.)

The 35-year-old Egger, a bakery salesman, was first elected to the council in 1966. He was reelected to the council last week on a conservation platform.

Egger, a 15-year resident of Marin, attended Santa Rosa Junior College, the College of Marin and University of San Francisco. He is a former chairman of the parks and recreation commission, and served a term as mayor of the council in 1970.

The council also elected Priscilla C. Gray vice mayor.

The new mayor quickly took issue with colleagues as he unsuccessfully urged them to call a special election to fill the seat vacated by E. Ross Parkerson, who resigned last week. The council voted 3-1 to appoint a successor to Parkerson.

"I don't believe we should get involved in the expense of another election," said Councilman Albert E. Gately. "Fairfax elections are a little more unusual than most towns."

Newly seated councilmen Priscilla C. Gray and Randall Garrison, said there is not enough time to consolidate the matter on the June ballot, and said a fifth councilman is needed as soon as possible.

The council called for applicants by 5 p.m. March 27 in city hall, and said applicants will be interviewed in open session at 8 p.m. April 1 in the Fairfax Women's Club.

Egger's call for a special election drew support from planning commissioner John Grybel, who said residents should pick the fifth councilman. "The people have a right . . . to make that fifth decision," he said.

The council also called for applicants to the post of city treasurer, formerly held by Mrs. Gray, and for seats on the parks and recreation commission and performing arts board.

Initiative On Fairfax Police Pay Squeaks In

The Fairfax Police Officers Association collected one more valid signature than needed to force an initiative election on police pay, the Fairfax Town Council learned last night.

Councilman Albert E. Gately opposed the move to consolidate, saying the June ballot is long already and the local measure will be lost amid other issues.

The Fairfax Town Council last night also awarded a $244,393 contract to James J. Menke Co., low bidder on construction of a new town firehouse and a remodeled police station. Construction will take six months, the council said.

The remainder of a lengthy agenda was put over to 8 p.m. Monday in the Fairfax Women's Club.
